REVEAL PLANS OF $21,000,000 P. O. BUILDING

Architects Call It Huge Workshop.

BY AL CHASE.

Details of the world's greatest post office, Chicago's new $21,000,000 project, were made public yesterday for the first time by Graham, Anderson, Probst & White, the architects. At the same time it was stated that the main section would be ready for use in about a year and a half from the time work actually starts, which is expected to be by early September.

This giant structure, which will extend from Van Buren street to Harrison street on the east side of Canal street, will be entirely of Bedford stone. It will house approximately 4,000 federal employes every twenty-four hours, and about 25,000 during the holiday rush. These men handle approximately 6,500,000 letters and 50,000 packages of outgoing mail on an ordinary day; 11,000,000 letters on the heaviest day, and the building is being planned to care for 12,000,000 letters a day by 1943.

Will Absorb Old Building.

The present huge Van Buren street postoffice building is going to be absorbed architecturally into the great new postoffice unit. The old building will be remodeled completely and the outside walls will be changed so that it will fit into the larger section as part of it. When the main building is completed the parcel post activities will be transferred over into it and the present parcel post unit will then be completely rebuilt. It is estimated that within 2½ years the entire post office will be completed.

At that time it is expected that all of the numerous federal departments now scattered about the city in rented quarters will be installed in the new postoffice building.

Entrance on Van Buren.

The Chicago public will have its stamp windows, the registry division, letter drops, letter boxes, money order, parcel post, etc., on the first floor of the Van Buren street side, where a magnificent T shaped corridor, forty feet wide and 200 feet long on the street side and 200 feet in length extending north and south will give access to these departments.

These imposing corridors will be entirely of marble, both floors and walls, and will have gold mosaic panels and especially decorated floors.

Congress street will be cut through the building from east to west, with two one way drives, each with four lanes of traffic. Its total width will be 120 feet.

The great postoffice structure will be in effect two buildings, one for offices and the other for the actual postoffice working activities. The office section will have twelve floors and the work section will have nine.

Executives on Fourth Floor.

On the second floor of the office section will be the clerical departments of the money order and registry divisions, and miscellaneous offices will be on the third. On the fourth will be Postmaster Lueder's and other executives' offices. Postoffice inspectors will have their offices on the fifth floor.

On the sixth to the twelfth floors space has been assigned to the other government services. The sixth floor also will have a complete hospital.

In the nine story work section of the building, which comprises about 70 per cent of the entire structure and which the public practically never sees, the first and second floors will be given over to platforms for dispatching and receiving mail by trucks. Ramps will connect the two stories.

The third floor will be used for railroad mail, print shop, storage space, etc. On the fourth floor will be a large and well equipped cafeteria. The general delivery quarters will occupy the balance of this floor. The fifth floor will be devoted to letter mail. Parcel post will occupy the sixth and seventh floors.

The mailing division of the letter section will be on the eighth floor and the ninth will have the dead letter section and auction rooms, machine shops, etc.

The roof of the great structure will be flat and, according to Architect Ernest Graham, it is hoped eventually that small shuttle service planes will be able to rise straight up, fly to mail hangars in outlying section, unload on to big mail planes and fly back to the postoffice.

"Not only will it be the greatest postoffice in the world," said Mr. Graham, "but it'll be the most modern, the best arranged and the best equipped. Several million dollars will be spent by the postoffice department for equipment."

Start Non-stop Refuel Flight from Seattle

Seattle, Wash., July 8.—[Wednesday]—(AP)—Reg L. Robbins and H. S. Jones, Texas aviators, took off in the white monoplane Fort Worth at 3:57 a. m. [6:57 a. m. Chicago daylight time] today on a nonstop mid-air refueling flight to Tokio.

The flyers seek a $25,000 prize offered by the Japanese newspaper Asahi for the first nonstop hop between Seattle and Tokio. They plan to cover a 5,100 mile route which will take them over Alaska and northern Siberia.

They hope to bring down their plane in Japan, Friday morning [Pacific time], refueling twice, or possible three times, en route. The first refueling operation is to take place late today over Fairbanks, Alaska.

Two other Texans, Jimmy Mattern and Nick Greener, arrived at Fairbanks yesterday with the refueling plane which will accompany the Fort Worth across Alaska.

School Board Bares Economy Move.

William H. Sexton, corporation counsel, ruled yesterday that Mayor Cermak and City Controller Szymczak may legally sign the $5,200,000 in tax anticipation warrants which the board of education wants to deposit in trust as a basis for the issuance of scrip to pay the school teachers. Soon after this ruling became public the board of education announced a policy of economy. It declared its intention of cutting off some $2,162,285 in operating costs.

The corporation counsel's ruling, while conceding the issuance of the tax anticipation warrants, cast doubt upon the school board's position in paying the teachers with scrip. He said that neither the city nor the school board had the right to issue certificates of indebtedness, and that if held illegal they might be repudiated.

At Expense of Education.

As to the expense cutting announced by the board a brief analysis shows that some 90 per cent of the saving is at the expense of the educational process while about 10 per cent is saved in the cost of administration. The complete details of the economy program will be found on page 4.

The chief activity of the day in school matters centered on the plan of the board of education to set aside the $5,200,000 in tax anticipation warrants against which it is proposed to issue scrip to pay teachers' salaries. When the mayor and the controller heard of Mr. Sexton's ruling they both declared they would refuse, for the present, to sign the warrants. They said they would refer the subject to the mayor's advisory committee.

The members of the school board went into a closed session when they learned of the opinion. When they emerged President Myers said that he would appear before the mayor's advisory committee and explain the scrip plan.

Lack Legal Power, He Says.

"Neither the school board nor the city has any authority to issue evidences of indebtedness to creditors or for sale for cash except as prescribed by statute," Mr. Sexton's opinion stated. "That is to say that they have the right to issue bonds and to issue tax anticipation warrants, but nothing in the nature of the certificates of indebtedness proposed. Such certificates of indebtedness, if held illegal by the courts, might be repudiated by the board of education and the parties who accepted them in that case would be left to the original claim without evidence in their hands."

Since the controller asked for no opinion on the legality of the scrip, none was rendered, he added.

Thomas V. Sullivan, school board attorney, argued that the certificates, or scrip, are not really scrip at all, but shares in a tax warrant trust, and expressed confidence that the plan would stand a court test.

Although they refused to be quoted on the matter, it was reported yesterday that the attitude of a number of judges of the Circuit and Superior courts jeopardized the plan for two weeks' payless vacations recently instituted by the county board for all county employes, including the judges.

Several of the judges, it was stated, are prepared to issue writs of mandamus to obtain their salaries for the payless period. Further, some of them stated privately, they would issue sim-

POLICE CAPTAIN FIGHTS GUNMEN IN AUTO CHASE

Capt. Michael Hughes, former police commissioner and now commander of the Deering street district, engaged in a pistol battle early today with four men, apparently robbers, who tried to force his automobile to the curb at 95th street and Longwood drive.

The captain was on the way home from his station, driving alone, when the trio made their attempt. One of the men leaped out and ran toward Capt. Hughes' automobile, pistol in hand, and leaped on the running board. The captain fired at him immediately and he fled back to the car in which his companions waited.

Giving up the attempt, the men drove away. Capt. Hughes followed, holding his steering wheel with one hand and firing with the other. The fugitives shot several times at him, but failed to strike his car. After a chase that led south to 103d street, thence to Wood street, and north to 99th street, the car of the assailants eluded the captain and he went on to his home at 10337 South Hamilton avenue after making a report of the shooting.

Offers Cheer on Deposits in Closed Banks

Oscar Nelson, state auditor of public accounts, said last night that orderly liquidation of the assets of the banks that have been closed recently in Chicago and the suburbs is going ahead as rapidly as possible under the law.

By orderly liquidation the auditor means, as he pointed out clearly, the sale of securities in the bank's vaults in such a manner that the maximum return is obtained for the benefit of the depositors.

Auditor Is Hopeful.

The following hopeful statements were made by Mr. Nelson:

1. The cost of receiverships in closed banks is not excessive, and has rarely in the past in Illinois exceeded 7 to 10 per cent of the assets of closed banks. Sometimes it is much less.

2. With orderly liquidation, such as a receiver is asked to carry on under the direction of the state auditor's office, the return to the depositors of closed banks in Chicago should be in many instances well toward 100 per cent.

3. Everything in the assets of a bank that has been closed belongs first to the depositors. The capital and undivided surplus of each must be paid out to the depositors before any stockholder may obtain anything toward a return on his investment in stock.

4. The custom is to pay each receiver a salary and this salary usually is no larger, and often less, than the salary of a president of a similar institution. In ordinary receiverships the amount runs from $5,000 to $7,500 per year.

5. The office of the state auditor receives no fees from the closed banks except a small per diem charge for the services of examiners while they are actually at work in the banks. This is turned over to the state treasury. The examiners draw a salary only from the state.

Seek to Speed Liquidation.

"We are doing everything we can," said Auditor Nelson, "to speed up the liquidation and to conserve the assets for the depositors. The law closely safeguards the depositor. It is true that a certain time must elapse before a receiver can make any disbursement to depositors.

"Twelve weeks are regularly allowed the depositors to file their claims. They can, of course, file later than that.

"The receivers have at all times the assistance of the liquidating department of my office, and all receivers' reports are sent in periodically and checked carefully. If the receiver desires, as a matter of business, to compromise any amount that is owed to the banks, he must get approval in a court order."

Approved by Auditor.

A receiver for an institution with about a million dollars of deposits usually has a force of one bookkeeper and two stenographers, Mr. Nelson said. He also has an attorney. The attorney is paid on a per diem basis and his report on his work is approved by the state auditor before he is paid by court order.

"The liquidation of closed banks' assets," Mr. Nelson added, "can be speeded up greatly by the borrowers whose notes and mortgages the closed banks are holding. Those borrowers who can pay before their notes are due should do so and the mortgage makers could in many instances shift their debts to concerns that are going and willing to lend on good security. There is a big field, little touched, in the refinancing of mortgages that would be helpful."

As for proposals to centralize the receiverships of all the closed institutions, Mr. Nelson believes they are impractical. He pointed out that each institution is a unit and that depositors in any one have no interest in the others closed, except in the chain or near chain banks.

"We operate under the law," he asserted, "and it is my duty to see that closed institutions are liquidated under that law. Only men of standing, with banking experience, are appointed receivers. No better system of liquidation has been suggested than the one we are following. Centralized receiverships would not save any labor and it is labor we pay for in the liquidation process."

Consul Freed; Mexico Asks U. S. Inquiry

Adolfo Dominguez, acting Mexican consul in Chicago, who engaged in a verbal battle with Judge Thomas Green in South Chicago police court yesterday morning, was released from the county jail last evening four hours after the judge had sentenced him to six months in jail for contempt of court.

As Señor Dominguez, outraged at the treatment he had been accorded by the judge, was freed from jail, word reached Chicago that Ambassador Manuel C. Tellez of Mexico had protested to the state department at Washington and requested an immediate investigation of the affair. Thus the incident assumed international proportions.

Asks Governor to Investigate.

Acting Secretary of State Castle notified Gov. Emmerson of the Mexican embassy's request and asked that the governor investigate the case and report to the department as soon as possible. Until Gov. Emmerson's report is received, it was announced at the state department, there will be no comment there on the case. It was pointed out that the standing of the consul is the same as that of any foreign citizen and that there is no question of diplomatic immunity involved.

It was intimated that the incident may become embarrassing in view of the recent strained feeling engendered by the killing of Emilio Cortes Rubio, a relative of President Ortiz Rubio of Mexico, by a peace officer at Ardmore, Okla.

The consul was released on his own recognizance late yesterday by Judge Joseph Burke of the Criminal court. Judge Burke said he would not decide upon who was right in the argument when the case comes up for hearing on Monday. He will be concerned, he said, only with the question of the propriety of the contempt procedure.

Freed by Another Judge.

Learning that the consul was free, Judge Green declared that Judge Burke was without authority in releasing the consul, and announced that he would appoint Fred D. McGuire, American Legion attorney, as friend of the court to represent him at Monday's hearing. He added that it would take nothing short of an act of President Hoover to make him rescind his contempt order.

"I'm an ex-marine, myself," declared the judge, "and that's the way we marines handle things. I don't see why people bow and scrape to these consuls and ambassadors. They've got to be put in their place."

Meanwhile Señor Dominguez maintained silence and referred all questioners to T. Russell Baker, attorney for the Mexican government in Chicago, who said he would start a damage suit against Judge Green in the federal court as soon as the international aspects of the case were cleared up.

Two Accounts of Case.

Two stories, widely varying at points, were told by the principals in the controversy. According to Judge Green's account, the consul, with Attorney Baker, entered his court yesterday morning when the judge was hearing the case of a Mexican vagrant who was found sleeping in an alley. The judge said he had sentenced two Mexicans to a year each in jail for gun toting the day before and that the consul attempted to intercede in their behalf.

"He objected to this sentence and I told him to run along and mind his own affairs," said the judge. "I told him he should have more con-

Premiers, Stimson to Meet in London.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 7.—[Special.]—With the Hoover debt moratorium established, the outstanding development today and one of the utmost significance was the action of the British government in calling a conference of the powers to work out the details of the President's plan.

This will be a conference of the premiers and foreign ministers of the powers at which the United States will be represented by an official observer, if not by a direct delegate. It is expected that Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson, who now is in Europe, will participate in the proceedings when he reaches London.

Question of Revision.

This conference will meet from time to time for several months, it is understood, and may continue to function for several years. Before this body, toward the end of the one year Hoover moratorium, will come the question of capacity of Germany to continue paying the Young plan reparations, the question of extending the Hoover debt holiday another year, and the question of revising reparations and war debts downward.

Those who regard the Hoover moratorium the entering wedge to the eventual reduction, if not cancellation, of reparations and war debts look to this conference of the heads of states for the germination of a further movement in this direction.

Particularly significant in this connection is the revelation by the administration during the day that President Hoover as early as last May was considering a plan to initiate an all around scaling down of reparations and war debts as a measure for world economic recovery. He finally decided on the moratorium proposal instead.

Shows Anglo-American Accord.

The action was taken by Great Britain with the knowledge and approval of the Hoover administration and in some quarters is regarded as furnishing further evidence of the operation of the Anglo-American entente established by Mr. Hoover and Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald in 1929 on the banks of the Rapidan. Several hours before the news of the action of the British government was published in this country the state department disclosed it in the following statement by Acting Secretary of State William R. Castle Jr.:

"The American government is happy to learn that the British government has called a conference of the interested powers to meet promptly in London for the purpose of working out the details of the American plan. The American government is convinced that at this conference, which will meet in a spirit of good will and in an atmosphere clarified by hope of world economic improvement, the representatives of the various governments will find little difficulty in solving the technical details of the application of the plan within the full spirit of the President's proposal."

The conference of the powers will address itself at the beginning to giving effect to the Hoover plan. One matter to be considered is the allowance of a longer period than eleven years for the payment of the deferred reparations and war debt annuities.

Commities of Experts.

The committee of experts which will work out technical details will be distinct from and subordinate to the conference of the powers and, in fact, may be appointed thereby.

The first message the President received this morning was the following cablegram from President von Hindenburg of Germany:

"Since the Paris negotiations have now arrived at a conclusion and the one year moratorium proposed by you has begun, I desire to express the thanks of the German people to you and to the American people. My most sincere wish is that owing to your initiative the whole world may be led into a new era of peaceful and confidential cooperation."

How Plan Originated.

According to Secretary Castle the genesis of the moratorium proposal dates from a talk Mr. Hoover had with Frederic M. Sackett, American ambassador to Germany, who arrived in Washington May 6. Mr. Sackett's account of the plight of Germany convinced the President that help for Germany was imperative. The next day Mr. Hoover called on the state and commerce departments for information on conditions in Germany and central Europe.

On May 11 the President discussed the matter with Secretary Stimson, to whom he broached the proposition tentatively of initiating a reopening of reparations and war debt settlements to reexamine the capacity of the nations to pay these obligations in view of the world-wide depression and to scale them down, if necessary. They decided to make no move then, because the European powers were then considering relief measures at Geneva.

On May 21 the Geneva conference broke up with nothing accomplished and then the President began to consider the relief move up to America. On June 3 he discussed his project with Mr. Sackett and with Charles G. Dawes, American ambassador to Great Britain, who had just arrived. Three days later Mr. Hoover had matured the moratorium plan and discussed it with Mr. Stimson and Secretary of the Treasury Andrew W. Mellon. The President broached it to his cabinet on June 5.

Mr. Hoover hesitated, however, to make the move. Mr. Mellon was to sail for England the next day to see his son graduated from Cambridge and the President asked the venerable finance minister to check on on conditions abroad and send him a report. He also asked Mr. Stimson to interview experts on the feasibility of suspending the payment of reparations under the Young plan.

Mr. Stimson arranged a secret meeting on June 13 at Woodley, his Washington house, with Owen D. Young, author of the Young plan; Acting Secretary of the Treasury Ogden L. Mills, Gov. Harrison of the Federal Reserve Bank of New York, and Parker Gilbert of Morgan & Co., who formerly was agent general of reparations. They regarded the plan feasible.

Gets Approval of Senators.

On his western trip, which followed, the President, according to Mr. Castle, discussed the plan again with Ambassador Dawes and Senators James E. Watson [Rep., Ind.], and Simeon D. Fess [Rep., O.]. He returned to Washington June 18 and that night sought the views of senators within reach, Otis F. Glenn [Rep., Ill.], Carter Glass [Dem., Va.], David A. Reed [Rep., Pa.], Thomas J. Walsh [Dem., Mont.], and Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.]. They approved. The next day Mr. Stimson, at the instance of the President, communicated the project to the ambassadors of France and other countries concerned.

The President had not expected to act for several days, but, on June 20, he decided that the situation in Germany was too serious to brook delay and he proceeded forthwith to make public his proposal, which came at 4 o'clock that night.

FRANCE AGREES TO PARLEY

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, July 7.—With the departure tonight of Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, who boarded the Blue train for the Riviera and a much needed rest, the first phase of the moratorium negotiations was definitely closed.

The second phase, which consists of an effort by the countries participating in the moratorium to get the most out of it both from a financial and political standpoint, is just about to begin.

The first step, which will be taken during the next few days, will be negotiations between the Young plan signatories and the directors of the world bank over the question of the $125,000,000 guarantee fund which France must deposit if Germany asks another moratorium under the terms of the Young plan.

Britain Sends Bid to Parley.

Lord Tyrrell, British ambassador, called at the Quai d'Orsay tonight and delivered to Foreign Minister Briand a formal invitation from the British government to hold a conference of the Young plan signatories in London on Monday to settle various points arising out of the application of the American proposal.

The British are particularly insistent on a full dress conference, including not only financial experts but also official delegates from the various governments concerned. They point out that the question of German deliveries in kind particularly affect British trade.

Briand sent a reply to London accepting in principle that the conference be held there as early as possible, preferably the middle of next week. It is understood that the French do not agree with the British viewpoint of calling a full dress parley and suggest in their note that the conference consist of a committee of financial experts to deal purely with technical questions.

French and Germans to Meet.

The most important future development will probably be the opening of negotiations between France and Germany on the question of armaments and other political questions. It was announced semi-officially today that Chancellor Bruening and Foreign Minister Curtius will arrive here on July 23.

Prime Minister MacDonald and Foreign Minister Henderson of Great Britain probably will stop off here on their way to Berlin on July 13. This is a couple of days before Secretary of State Stimson will arrive in Paris.

The radical section of the Paris press is already launching a campaign to prevent ratification of the Franco-American accord by the chamber of deputies when it reconvenes next fall. However, the majority of opinion in official and semi-official circles is satisfied.

France Will Renew Loan.

It is generally agreed that a mere moratorium is insufficient to rescue Germany from her present crisis. It is understood that the French will consent to renewing for another 15 days the short term loan of $100,000,000 recently accorded to Germany, and that France is prepared to buy political concessions by taking the lead in floating huge long term credits for Germany.

It is rumored in diplomatic circles that Briand has had this idea up his sleeve for a long time and thinks the Hoover plan provides a good excuse for springing it.

THERE IS TOO MUCH TALK ABOUT SLUMP, SCHWAB DECLARES

Detroit, Mich., July 7.—[Special.]—"Too much talk already about hard times when good times are coming," said Charles M. Schwab, chairman of the board of directors of Bethlehem Steel corporation, today.

"The less we talk about it the better," he replied, and smiled broadly.

"There has been too much talk about hard times and too much speculation about when good times will return," he continued. "A watched pot never boils. If we stop speculating on how close 'just around the corner' good business is, it will probably be here before we are ready for it. We have been passing through an experience which every individual has in a small way—no less seriously—sooner or later.

"Well, the only way to meet such an experience is to just grin, keep on working, stop worrying about the future and go ahead as best we can. We always have a way of living through the hard times."

BRITAIN DISAPPOINTED

BY JOHN STEELE.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 7.—Only moderate gratification was expressed today by the British over the moratorium agreement between France and the United States. They believe America yielded too much to France.

This is particularly so in the matter of the repayment of the sums which Germany is allowed to postpone for a year. The agreement on this point means that Germany, beginning with the year 1932-'33, will have to find about $45,000,000 more annually than she is now paying.

The British view is that postponement of the German payments, as proposed in the original Hoover plan, meant exactly what it seemed to mean—that the time of payment of the total reparations should be put back one year and no interest charged.

Foresee New Crisis.

The British foresee another German crisis when the time for resumption of payment approaches, if not before, and they predict that further steps must be taken during the year's breathing space for a total revision of the Young plan, which may even result in cancellation of debts and reparations.

For this purpose a full dress conference is necessary, at which the whole economic condition, not only of Europe but of the whole world, will have to be discussed.

Answering a question in the house of commons today, Prime Minister MacDonald said the Franco-American agreement left several important points concerning German and interallied payments to be settled, and for that purpose he had renewed the invitation to all interested powers for a conference at the earliest possible date in London.

1,000 LEADERS IN GERMANY PUT UP 119 MILLION FUND

Move Aimed to Restore Confidence of World.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, July 7.—One thousand of Germany's most prominent industrialists, bankers, and shippers tonight presented a signed letter to Dr. Hans Luther, president of the reichsbank, informing him that they are pledging their wealth and properties as guarantees for credit of 500,000,000 marks [$119,100,000] through the German Gold Discount bank "to enable the latter to become a still more powerful credit instrument than it is today." This vast note will be used by the government as security for long term loans from foreign bankers.

"All German trade and industry is taking this measure to prove to foreign countries that Germany, despite the happenings in the currency market and other events, is strong and determined enough to master the present difficulties," the letter said.

Hope to Restore Confidence.

This measure, it is believed, will enable the Reichsbank to surmount the crisis and also restore confidence to the German market and encourage credit givers to reinvest the money they withdrew from Germany.

The cabinet today pledged that there will be no increase in its expenditures and that all the money made available by the moratorium will be used to put Germany's finances back on a firm basis. The cabinet's statement said:

"We shall not give up the policy of drastic economy. The money saved shall be devoted solely to the consolidation of public finances. The Hoover year will be used to restore German economy and help to further economic recuperation of the world.

The cabinet's statement as well as a personal cablegram by President Von Hindenburg, expressed in fulsome words Germany's gratitude to President Hoover for the moratorium.

Plan Fails to Halt Run.

Again today the trans-Atlantic telephone buzzed, because despite the compromise on the Hoover plan, withdrawals of short term credits continued. Ambassador Sackett sent long reports on the German financial situation to Washington and New York.

The banking kings of Germany spent all day in conference with Dr. Luther and Finance Minister Dietrich to devise a way to provide Germany with funds to replace those withdrawn during the last nine months, which, Dietrich estimates, are between $00 million and a billion dollars.

While the financiers were working to straighten out the financial tangle the boerse recovered its breath, but did not climb back to the level it reached on the golden Hoover Monday two weeks ago. The call for gold and foreign currency remained comparatively high, about $10,000,000, as compared with $20,000,000 yesterday. However, experts believe this was partly due to the announcement of the Hoover compromise coming in too late last night for many orders to be canceled.

France's resistance to the Hoover plan is blamed for the losses of the last two weeks, but the government press implores the Germans not to retaliate with a new wave of hatred against the French.

"Their haggling of the last week has been somewhat repulsive," one paper said, "but new hatred of the French must be avoided because it would be harmful for Germany and Europe."

WAR ON COUNTRY DANCE HALLS.

Galesburg, Ill., July 7.—[Special.]—As an opening step in a war against unlicensed dance halls in Knox county charges were filed today against Ed Rafferty of the Center Point pavilion north of here. The dance hall had been conducted without a license, being advertised as a club with membership cards necessary to gain admittance.

HAWKS FLIES FROM MONTREAL TO N.Y., 350 MILES, IN 1½ HOURS

New York, July 7.—(AP)—Adding one more record to his long string by flying the 350 miles from Montreal in an hour and 45 minutes, Frank Hawks returned from a three month aerial tour of Europe today, bulging with an idea for an elevated airport in New York City.

While abroad he studied the airports of 12 countries. He said New York could beat them all by roofing in the three mile stretch of docks in the Hudson river.

"It would give plenty of runway for the biggest ships," he said, "and if it was done, when you flew to New York you'd land right in New York and not in New Jersey or out on Long Island."

Hawks established nine speed records while in Europe. His flight from Montreal today was made at an average of 201 miles an hour.

"But I've got a lot of credit for those records I don't deserve," he said. "I didn't go over there to break records. I was just flying around to study aviation. I happen to have the fastest commercial ship there is and so naturally everywhere I went I traveled faster than any one had before."

$299,741 OFFERED TO CONTRACTOR ON WABASH JOB

The city council committee on efficiency and reorganization yesterday recommended to the council the payment to the Kettler-Elliott company of $299,741 on its claim of $522,311 for work done in the viaduct approaching the Wabash avenue bridge.

The payment was recommended after an investigation of charges that the rate of $10 a cubic foot for caisson work 115 feet or more below the surface, stipulated in the contract which the city negotiated with the company when Richard W. Wolfe was commissioner of public works, was excessive. The $299,741 tender includes payment at the rate of $6 a cubic foot for that work, and the agreement provides that the city and company may settle the balance of the claim by arbitration or court action.

The finance committee of the council approved the claim of W. J. Newman, contractor, for $45,000 for extras on the Wabash avenue project.

THE SHOW QUIT, BUT THE HERRING HAS A LONG RUN

Week of Diet Calls for Action in Court.

The path to dramatic fame may be paved with roses for Ethel Barrymore, but two young women disclosed yesterday to Judge Francis Borrelli that theirs was strewn with salt herring.

"It was bad enough to wash dishes for the whole troupe, launder the costumes and work without pay, but when it comes to living a solid week on salt herring—well, there's a limit to endurance," declared Bernice Maciejewski, 22 years old, 1639 North Wood street.

"It was herring—herring—herring. Three meals a day it was herring," added Bernice Berkowicz, 21 years old, of 2441 South Whipple street.

A Whole Barrel of Herring.

"He bought us a barrel of herring, we hear [Tod Kantor, 909 North Herrings avenue]," interrupted Miss Maciejewski. "He said there wasn't any money to buy us food, but our contract called for food, so he spent it all for a barrel of 120 herring. We had it for breakfast with bread, for dinner with potatoes, for supper with more bread. We ate every last herring, all nine of us in the show."

Miss Maciejewski explained that she, her husband, Al Boguski, 26 years old, her chum, Bernice, and John Grzywacki, 1313 Julien street, had answered Kantor's advertisement in one of the Polish newspapers for actors for his stock company. He accepted all four of them, also $50 from each to "assure him that we wouldn't run out on him."

"What was the play? It was Klein's Wedding in the Old Country," Miss Maciejewski explained. "I was the bride when I didn't play the part of the mother. We memorized our parts and went right on the stage. We toured the east, playing in Polish neighborhood halls.

Herring, But No Pay, Claim.

"After a month and a half my husband, who is a painter, decided to go back to Chicago and get another job. Both he and John got their $50 back and have back home. I decided I would keep on and get my $30 a week wages and bonus when the houses got better. But Kantor quit playing and we all came back to Chicago and Bernice and I never got our $50, wages, or anything."

The judge granted the plea of the two young women that Kantor be arrested and issued a warrant.

SUSPENDS FOUR COPS; 'TOO MANY GAMING WHEELS'

A police lieutenant, a sergeant and two patrolmen were suspended in an order issued last night by Acting Commissioner Alcock. The charge against them was "permitting too many gambling wheels at a street carnival."

Lieut. Rogers W. Murphy, Sergt. Frank I. Folsom, and Patrolmen John H. Sunoo and John P. O'Meara, all of the Gresham station, were the men suspended. Capt. James L. Mooney of the station said the men were instructed to restrict a street carnival of the Auburn Park Business Men's association to a certain number of wheels.

The men will be tried for neglect of duty and failure to suppress gambling, Acting Commissioner Alcock said.

VICTIM'S WIDOW FORCES MURDER TRIAL

Doctor to Report

The demand of Mrs. Helen Smith, widow of Policeman Edward Smith, who was shot and killed by Varner Corry, 15 year old high school student, led the prosecutors to decide yesterday that the boy must stand trial for murder, instead of being permitted to plead guilty to a charge of manslaughter.

"He committed the murder; now let him be tried for murder," the widow insisted in a conference with Assistant State's Attorneys Harry Busch and Elmer Holmgren. Accordingly, the prosecutors appeared later before Acting Chief Justice Sabath of the Criminal courts with the announcement that the slayer must be tried.

Under the manslaughter charge the youth would have been subject to sentence to the Pontiac reformatory, instead of the penitentiary. Because of the state's decision to go ahead with the trial the boy's lawyers, Ransom Walker and Samuel Antonow, asked and were granted a continuance until Monday.

Corry, who appeared in court, told reporters tonelessly that he was sorry he shot Policeman Smith in the swimming pool of the John Marshall High school on Decoration day.

Judge Sabath asked that Dr. Harry R. Hoffman, head of the behaviorism clinic of the county jail, be allowed to examine the youth and submit a report to the state. Defense counsel raised no objection.

100 SAILORS AND MARINES BATTLE CALIFORNIA FIRE

San Francisco, Cal., July 7.—(AP)—Although fires covering large areas in several places had been controlled with the help of cooler weather and the lack of high winds, blazes in brush and forests lighted the skies over a large part of central and northern California tonight.

The largest fire in the state was still burning in Napa, Solano, and Yolo counties, where since Friday an estimated area of 60,000 acres between Montecello and Vacaville has been burned over.

Answering an appeal, Mare Island navy yard sent 100 sailors and marines with fire fighting equipment to reinforce a weary crew of 300 men. Tonight the fire was reported within nine miles of Vacaville. Orchards and the timbered water shed lands in Gordon valley, water reservoir for Vallejo and Mare Island, were threatened.

ROBINSON URGES HOOVER TO EASE TARIFF AS FAVOR

Asks Repayment for Debt Plan Support.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., July 7.—[Special.]—Senator Joseph T. Robinson [Dem., Ark.], minority leader of the senate, today demanded a quid pro quo from President Hoover. In return for Democratic support of the President's debt suspension plan he suggested that Mr. Hoover "back pedal" on the Hawley-Smoot tariff schedule.

JOSEPH T. ROBINSON.

"Apparently the deeper wrinkles of President Hoover's international debt moratorium have been ironed out," Senator Robinson said. "True, he has had to make concessions and modifications in order to obtain agreement with France, but the main principle that invoked his departure from the isolationism which has been so strong a tenet of the Republican faith seems to have been preserved and everybody hopes the final result of world stabilization has thereby been advanced.

Backed By Democrats.

"It is evident that this promising stage could not have been reached without the cooperation of the President's political opponents. They have waived partisanship and thereby smoothed the way for it.

"Now has not the time arrived for the President equally to rise to an opportunity and back pedal on his insistence on a tariff bill which, in the minds of most economists, is largely responsible not only for the depression in domestic business because of the slaughter it involved of our export and import trade, but which foreign statesmen hold has had a great influence in the industrial and commercial distress of their own countries?"

Did Not Approve Plan.

Senator Robinson was one of the congressional leaders consulted by the President when the debt plan was made public. He was not, however, included in the list of senators who had given unqualified approval.

Senator Robinson noted the appeals of Vice President Curtis and Senator Arthur Capper [Rep., Kas.] for the farm board to hold its wheat, and blamed a great part of the "farmer's woes" on the Republican tariff.

CHILD IS KILLED BY AUTO GAS AS FATHER DRIVES ON UNAWARE

Coldwater, Mich., July 7.—[Special.]—Monoxide gas escaping from an exhaust pipe killed a three year old girl and threatened the lives of her father, mother and three sisters on a highway near here early today. The family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Raybuck, 14282 Kilburn avenue, Detroit, and Molly May, 12, Eunice, 9, Elsie Lou, 3, and Patricia Ann, 8 months, were en route home when the father stopped to get gas. When he opened the rear door of his sedan he found the children huddled on the floor. Elsie Lou was dead. The other children were on the verge of death but were revived by means of artificial respiration. The fumes had seeped up through the floor board from the exhaust which had been punctured by a stone.

ATLANTIC LINES REPORT 127,000 PASSENGER DROP

New York, July 7.—[Special.]—Ship line officials reported today that up to July 3 the North Atlantic lines had carried 127,700 fewer passengers than in the same period last year. The members of the steamship conference will meet in Paris tomorrow to consider a 20 per cent reduction in first class rates and the abandonment of 30 round trips a year to meet the situation.

Slashing of first class rates was urged last spring by the Cunard and White Star lines, but was successfully opposed by the North German Lloyd. Passenger losses this year were divided as follows: First class, 23,000; cabin, 18,500; second, 22,500; tourist third, 17,700; third, 46,000.

POLICEMAN IS HELD AS SELLER OF STOLEN AUTO

Herbert E. Rasmussen, 39 years old, for 15 years a West Park motorcycle policeman, was held last night at the detective bureau on a charge of selling a stolen automobile. Capt. William Schramm, Rasmussen's superior, suspended the policeman when he was informed of the charge.

Last May 16, an automobile was stolen from 15th street and California avenue, a block from Rasmussen's post. On May 18, Policeman Rasmussen sold the automobile to William Steele, 19 years old, 3252 West Congress street, it is charged. Steele paid $100 to the policeman, promised to pay $50 more and was given a bill of sale, he said.

"The policeman told me the car was 'hot'," Steele told the police. "He told me to be careful and to show the bill of sale if I was stopped but not to mention his name. On July 3, he threatened to take the car back if I didn't come through with the third instalment quickly."

Policeman Rasmussen admitted he had sold the car to Steele but declared he had purchased the automobile from an automobile salesman named John Balfour. He could not give Balfour's address.

Suspect Union Agents in Shoe Shop Bombing

Gus Kappas and Louis Danolkis, owners of the shoe shining shop at 4345 West Madison street, which was bombed on Monday night, were questioned yesterday by Capt. Patrick Collins of the Fillmore police. The men said that a week ago they had installed a machine for pressing clothes, despite the fact that they were not members of a union. Police believe that the bombing, which did about $500 worth of damage, was the work of union agents.

Says City and Board Lack Power.

Bar writes for any group of county employes who ask them.

"We'll not cross that bridge until we reach it," President Whealan of the county board said when he learned of the judges' attitude.

Debate Vacation Plan.

In the city hall discussion waged at a three hour meeting of the finance committee on the proposed payless vacation plan with representatives of labor unions submitting alternate plans. The committee, however, adjourned until this morning without taking any action, indicating that some plan would be approved before the council session in the afternoon.

Before the committee were two ordinances, one calling for two weeks' vacation without pay, and the other, which was drafted by employés in the controller's office, providing that all city employés give up one day's pay a week for fourteen weeks.

As alternatives, one group of the union leaders suggested that the employés be paid with tax anticipation warrants for a two weeks' period, and another group advocated that if the retrenchment must be made the employés be put on a five day week.

Acceptable to Union Chiefs.

The latter plan, which was acceptable to Patrick Sullivan, president of the Building Trades council; Martin Durkin, representing the steamfitters' union; Charles Frye of the machinists' union, and Henry Wallace, who represented the painters, would be put into effect for the balance of 1931.

By having the employés lay off a half day each week during that period, for which they would not be paid, the total layoff for each would amount to 12½ days, and the saving would approximate $2,400,000, which the administration said could be made under the payless vacation plan, according to its sponsors.

Mention by Ald. Oscar Nelson [46th] of the previous city administration drew fire from Ald. Jacob M. Arvey [24th].

"I'll take the two months' record of Mayor Cermak and it will loom up like the brightest star in the sky," said Arvey. "When the new administration took office it found that seven-twelfths of the annual appropriation had been expended in the first five months of the year.

"The council estimated a loss and cost of tax collections of 9 per cent for 1931, but it likely will be more than 20 per cent, and the revenue we estimated for this year will not materialize. It is more sensible to take this situation as it is than to lay off 2,200 men later."

Col. A. A. Sprague, commissioner of public works, informed the aldermen that he had approved the substitute ordinance submitted by the employés, and said he had yet to meet an employé who was not willing to bear his share of the burden when the situation was explained.

Reports $10,815 Saving.

John A. Cervenka, acting city purchasing agent, joined in Mayor Cermak's economy drive yesterday by reporting that he has saved $10,815, the rental paid by the previous administration during the first three months of the year for storing 197 city trucks in private garages.

Cervenka saved the rent by moving the trucks to the municipal pier, ward yards, and other city property, where they were stored rent free.

Mayor Cermak commented on the lack of system of the former administration in disclosing that in moving the trucks out of one of the private garages, Cervenka discovered a snow plow belonging to the city which had laid in the garage, unused, for two years.

"All track of it apparently had been lost on the city records," he said, "and it lay there, gathering dust, while the city experienced several of the worst blizzards of its history."

FATHER OF FIVE AND SEAMAN FIGHT DUEL AND BOTH ARE SLAIN

New York, July 7.—[Special.]—A Long Island farmer, father of five motherless children, and a Chilean seaman, recently released from Sing Sing, fought a duel with revolvers in the streets of Brooklyn early today and killed each other. Their bodies were found two blocks apart within the space of a few minutes.

The men were Oscar Gonzales, 30, the seaman, known by the nickname of "Carrao," and Thomas Russo, 35, the farmer, of Syosset, L. I. According to police, Gonzales was released from Sing Sing two months ago, and was a drug addict.

Police learned that Russo came to Brooklyn only yesterday to visit his father and brother. Last night they attended a party at the home of friends on President street. Gonazles, under the influence of narcotics, according to police, dropped in on the party uninvited, made some remarks about one of the women guests which Russo resented and went to the street with the farmer to settle the argument.

PLAN $2,162,285 SAVING

Following a three hour star chamber session of the board of education sitting informally as a committee of the whole, yesterday, during which newspapermen, teachers and leaders of civic organizations were barred, President Lewis E. Myers announced that an annual saving of $2,162,285 would be effected. The contemplated saving is less than 5 per cent of the more than $60,000,000 annual expenditure of the board.

The contemplated saving, which will be acted upon formally today, was announced in round figures by Mr. Myers late in the day after representatives of teachers and civil service employes' unions had been kept waiting in the regular board chambers since 2 o'clock. The announcement was informally given to newspapermen and Mr. Myers was reluctant to disclose the exact nature of the savings.

A partial list obtained from Mr. Myers and supplemented by a board member shows a saving of $1,385,165.50 in 23 items. The largest single saving is in the educational department. By increasing the number of pupils by two in each class and increasing the Christmas vacation by two days, Mr. Myers estimates that $1,012,000 can be saved. The next largest single saving, an item of $112,000, is to be effected by the curtailment of continuation schools.

Other items in the educational program cut by the committee included the $6,000 appropriation for the home supervisors in the parental school for boys, a $72,240.50 appropriation for the Chicago and Cook county school for boys, continuation school curtailment effecting a saving of $112,000, a saving of $18,750 in the bureau of vocational guidance, and a saving of $65,000 by the closing of all community centers.

Compared with the total saving of $1,340,405 to be effected in the education department a saving of only $24,760 in the business and administration and a saving of only $23,000 in the law department is effected. The Cleveland Audit company recommended the saving of $514,760 in the business department and a saving of $867,555.50 in the educational department.

The Cleveland Audit company recommended the saving of $400,000 in plant operations through the use of men and women in equal numbers for janitorial work. The recommendation was referred to the law office for an opinion. A recommended saving of $514,760 in the bureau of architecture was not acted upon.

Three political appointees, mentioned frequently in discussions of board savings, were hit by the committee action. Nate De Lue, known as a "real estate expert" at $5,200 a year, was reduced to a chief clerk's post at $4,000.

The committee recommended the abolition of the post of special assistant attorney, held by James Todd, and that of special tax attorney, held by William Saltiel, former city greeter.

Rules 4 Months' Wedded Life Is Not Alimony Basis

Four months of married life are not sufficient basis for a claim for alimony, Superior Judge John J. Sullivan held yesterday. He denied the petition of Mrs. Marie Thom, whose invasions of her husband's florist shops have twice led to her arrest on charges of disorderly conduct, for temporary alimony pending the settlement of her divorce suit.

ALDERMEN ACT TO PUT CITY IN CAR TRACK CASE

Two aldermen, Oscar F. Nelson [46th] and James B. Bowler [25th], obtained the adoption of a resolution by the city council local transportation committee yesterday instructing Corporation Counsel Sexton to appear before the Illinois commerce commission in opposition to the petition of the Lincoln park board to force removal of the street car tracks on Lake Shore drive from Ohio street to Chicago avenue.

The park board is seeking to have the car line removed to make way for an adequate approach to the new outer drive link bridge.

Ald. Bowler, chairman of the local transportation committee, represents a west side ward. Ald. Nelson is an official of the Chicago Federation of Labor which operates a radio station on Navy pier.

Frederick M. Bowes, real estate broker and vice president of the North Central Property Owners' association, appeared before the committee against the resolution. Declaring 'that the presence of the tracks on property meant for park purposes is "absolutely illegal," he said he would appeal to the courts if necessary."

LABORITES GO FOR TEA; TORIES BEAT GOVERNMENT BILL

LONDON, July 7.—(AP)—Quiet cups of tea brought the Labor government to defeat today. It was only a defeat in a standing committee of the house of commons and the government will not resign over it. But it left everybody laughing.

The government's bill for creation of consumers' councils was under consideration. The sacred tea hour approached. A number of Laborites, believing all was well, slipped downstairs to the tea room. But they were scarcely away when amused Conservatives, who, although members of the committee, had been waiting in the corridor outside, entered the committee room.

A vote was called on whether a certain clause should stand as part of the bill, and the government found itself in a minority of five. Returning from their tea, the Laborites were chagrined to find another Conservative ruse had succeeded.

COURT HOLDS UP 5,000 SALES OF REALTY FOR TAX

Grants Temporary Writ to Owners.

Tax sales of approximately 5,000 pieces of property on which 1929 taxes have not been paid were held up yesterday by a temporary injunction issued by Circuit Judge William V. Brothers.

The injunction restrains County Treasurer McDonough from proceeding to obtain judgement on July 13 against the property of the plaintiffs in the suit, all of whom are members of the Property and Tax Service Association of Illinois. The total value of the property involved, according to officers of the association, is $70,000,000. The action does not affect condemnation proceedings in general under the 1929 tax roll, on which some 458,000 properties are delinquent.

Assessment Under Fire.

Attorneys John Irving Pearce and Morris D. Benjamin obtained the temporary writ. In their petition they attacked the 1929 assessment on fifteen grounds, charging that it is invalid and in violation of the state and federal constitutions. Among the grounds stated is the contention that real estate bore the great burden of taxation while personal property was lightly taxed.

County Attorney Bell appeared before Judge Brothers to represent Treasurer McDonough. He will file an answer to the injunction petition.

Cutmore Attacks Realtors.

Harry E. Cutmore, former appraisal chief for the board of assessors, yesterday announced his intention of resigning from the Chicago Real Estate board as a result of the board's proposal to fund the 1930 tax levy by a bond issue.

"I regard as pusillanamous and asinine like the attitude of the real estate board and its president," he said. "The relief program proposed fails to recognize the fundamentals of our real revenue relief in Cook county, which is the consolidation of the overlapping, self-paralyzing assessing system and the establishment of a unified, sensible and orderly administration.

"The real estate board is dodging the main issue. Worse than that, it supported the boards of assessors and review when an attempt was made at Springfield to abolish these bodies. It is a dishonest attitude."

Quizzed on Intentions.

When the assessors' advisory committee met yesterday to consider a successor to Cutmore the committee members demanded of the officials if it was their intention to junk the scientific appraisal system which Cutmore set up. Assessor John E. Conroy, secretary of the board, denied any such intention, but admitted that the board contemplates "some improvements."

The announcement by Assessor Walter W. L. Meyer that the assessors will go to Cleveland to seek suggestions from John A. Zangerle, who instituted the assessment system there, for the improvement of the Chicago system, brought a retort from Cutmore.

"The board doesn't know it yet," he said, "but for three months Mr. Zangerle, a personal friend of mine, loaned me his right hand man, Ray Horne. Horne sat at my elbow in the staff room of the board of assessors in an advisory capacity, at a $50 per diem rate. The system we evolved is the Cleveland system, with some improvements. If the assessors go to Cleveland, it will be just a pleasure jaunt, for Mr. Zangerle and Mr. Horne can give them only what they have already."

In selecting Cutmore's successor, the advisory committee has twenty-nine applicants and nearly a score of real estate experts whose names were suggested to the committee to choose from.

The assessors plan to cut the salary of the appraisal chief below their own salaries of $8,000 a year, Assessor Meyer said. Cutmore got $10,000 a year.

Vivian's Husband Talks

Hollywood, Cal., July 7.—(AP)—The Duncan sisters probably will not be seen together again on the screen or stage, Nils Asther, film actor and husband of Vivian Duncan, said today.

"Managers are after Vivian and Rosetta to appear together again," said Asther, "but I don't think Vivian wants to work any more on the stage or screen. She is a regular old fashioned mother."

Mrs. Asther and her daughter Evelyn are now in Paris.

OFFERS TAX SOLUTION

Prof. M. H. Hunter of the University of Illinois last night advocated an "equitably distributed" income tax as a solution for the revenue problems of the state and local governments. He spoke at a hearing before the city council tax subcommittee.

"The reason Cook county opposes the income tax is that it would be unfairly distributed," said Prof. Hunter. "I suggest that one-half of the tax collected be returned to the counties on the basis of their real estate tax valuations. This would give Cook county 32 per cent and downstate 28 per cent under the 1929 valuations."

ANCESTRAL MUG SURVIVES WAR; BRIDE BREAKS IT

The ancestral shaving mug of the Shapiros served three generations of his family and went unscathed through the shot and shell of the world war, but it failed to withstand the fiery temper of Pola, the bride whom he found in Europe last summer, David Shapiro, 3646 West 16th street, told Judge Rudolph F. Desort yesterday.

He exhibited the fragments of the mug, shattered when his wife hurled it at his head, he alleged. Because it had been handed down from his grandfather to his father, and from his father to him, he regarded it as an heirloom and prized it highly, he asserted.

Judge Desort granted him a divorce. In addition to the shaving mug Pola used some everyday crockery and a carving knife as ammunition in the rows which preceded their separation on March 16, Shapiro charged. He married her Aug. 15, 1930, in Grodno, Poland, where he had gone to visit his parents.

Garage Owners Unable to Agree; Ordinance Delayed

Because two garage owners' associations were unable to agree on the provisions of a proposed ordinance for licensing public garages, the city revenue commission yesterday adjourned its hearing to a later date. As drawn, the ordinance assesses a license fee of $25 a year for garages of less than 200 cars capacity, and of $50 per year for larger garages. The present ordinance, exacting a $1 fee for each 200 square feet of floor space, is under attack in the courts.

STIMSON PUTS ON SPHINX ACT AS HE LANDS IN ITALY

Says "I'm Just a Simple Tourist; Let Me Alone."

BY DAVID DARRAH.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

NAPLES, Italy, July 7.—The Sphinx of Egypt is no more silent or mysterious than was Secretary of State Stimson when he came up the Bay of Naples amid the hot mists this morning and began his debt or disarmament or what-you-will tour of Europe.

"The news was just given me this morning that an accord has been reached in Paris on President Hoover's moratorium plan," he said as he debarked. "I am sure that this is a great step in the interest of world economy and will be beneficial to the relief of all the world.

"No politics. I am not on any mission, political or otherwise, and I have nothing to tell you," he continued, perspiring freely, to a circle of journalists and officials.

Mr. Stimson displayed anger over questions on whether his trip had any official purpose, but he confided that the bay of Naples was beautiful, that the weather was delightful and that the ship was magnificent.

The secretary got off at Palermo, Sicily, last night. There, he said, every one had been very kind and courteous and hospitable to him.

Just a Simple Tourist.

"But we would like to know something about the political purpose of your mission," some one chimed in. Mr. Stimson, with umbrageous brows, retorted:

"I came to meet the statesmen of Europe, but I have no mission. I am just a simple tourist and want to be let alone. I want to have my own way like any other tourist, unofficially and without any brass band. And now where are the photographers?" he concluded, moving away.

At the beginning Mr. Stimson started to make a flowery statement for local consumption about the beautiful scenery and hospitality shown him and his desire to renew his acquaintance with his old friend, Foreign Minister Grandi, whom he had met in London at the disarmament conference.

Someone interrupted: "But Mr. Stimson, you are speaking to the American press."

"Where, then, is the Italian press?" he replied, and several voices piped up:

"Here we are."

Mr. Stimson then repeated that he was looking forward to his meeting with Sig. Grandi.

"But don't you want to see Mussolini, too?" asked an Italian newspaperman.

"O, yes, I want to meet the head of the government, too, but I have never met Premier Mussolini and I know Sig. Grandi very well."

Accompanied by Mrs. Stimson.

Mr. Stimson was accompanied by Mrs. Stimson and Capt. Eugene Regnier, his military aide. As the liner docked on the hot, stifling, misty morning Ambassador Garrett and Mrs. Garrett went aboard to meet him. In response to Mr. Stimson's request, everything was informal.

DEMOCRATS IN DEADLOCK OVER JUDICIARY SEAT

Fail to Nominate in 24 Ballots.

BY ARTHUR EVANS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

THOMAS DONOVAN.

Twenty-four ballots were taken in the course of the day and at adjournment the four candidates, with their respective strengths, stood:

Judge Franklin R. Dove of Shelbyville, 82 votes; Judge Norman L. Jones of Carrollton, 80 votes; Judge Wilbur A. Trares of Edwardsville, 42 votes; Judge A. Clay Williams of Pittsfield, 14 votes.

To nominate 113 votes are necessary.

Choice Likely Today.

At tomorrow's session the second choice votes are expected to begin moving, with the prospect of a nomination by nightfall.

Today's session was a Democratic field day, and the party spellbinders present grew heated and hoarse denouncing the sins of the G. O. P.

The Wickersham report, farm relief, and the Hoover and Emmerson administration were lambasted furiously.

Orators, mostly judges or leading lawyers, played up the judicial convention as the opening gun in the 1932 national and state campaigns in Illinois, and held that the special election, to be held Aug. 31 for the vacancy on the Supreme court, would be a whole straw stack of straws to show the way the wind is blowing. It is a Democratic district.

Tom Donovan, state chairman, called the convention to order, and Joseph C. Hurtschi made a welcoming speech. Judge Thomas M. Jett of Hillsboro was made chairman, and Guy E. McGaughey, state's attorney of Lawrence county, was elected secretary.

Jones' Name Offered.

Judge Jones was placed before the convention by Blaine Huffman of Lawrenceville, who pointed to his record as a vote getter in 1924, when as Democratic candidate for governor he got twice as many votes as did Davis for President.

"Judge Jones' career as one of the outstanding jurists in Illinois has already captured the imaginations of the voters," said Mr. Huffman.

The next speaker, Richard Mudge of Edwardsville, who nominated Judge Trares, his fellow citizen, sounded the Democratic tocsin for the 1932 state and national campaign.

"The Hoover administration," said Mr. Mudge, "has two outstanding accomplishments. They are first the Wickersham investigation, which marched up to the gates of prohibition and marched back again, and if their report said anything understood and approved by any one but Hoover we've yet to hear it. The second accomplishment was the farm board. The Hoover program of farm relief has meant to relieve the farmers of their farms and of their wheat at less than 55 cents a bushel."

George Weaver of Pittsfield placed Judge Williams before the delegates—"No one," he said, "can question the Jeffersonism, the Jacksonism, the Wilsonism of his democracy. While a Democrat he is not a politician."

Pounce on the G. O. P.

After that several speakers pounced on the Republicans in good old fashioned Egyptian Democratic style. John W. Yantis of Shelbyville, in nominating Judge Dove, was not so dovelike in his remarks as to the opposition party.

"The people," said Mr. Yantis, "followed the fatuous smiles of the sirens of republicanism just around the corner into the blues of disaster, degradation and despondency. Farms have been taken from farmers, stores from storekeepers, banks from shareholders."

Like the Maine elections, the special judicial election in this district Aug. 31 will be a barometer, it was argued by Truman Snell of Carlinville, once a dry leader, but in the recent session a leading advocate of the repeal of the Illinois prohibition act.

SEEK COURT WRIT TO BLOCK CITY'S REMAPPING PLAN

Woodlawn Men Oppose 6th Ward Split.

A temporary injunction to prevent the city council from putting into effect its proposed ward redistricting plan in the sixth ward will be sought before Superior Judge Denis E. Sullivan today by Attorney Charles F. Burke, representing the Woodlawn Business Men's association.

The business men's group at a special meeting yesterday adopted a resolution authorizing the court appeal after receiving reports that the sixth ward would be cut in two at 63d street and that new districts would be added. Such a change, Attorney Burke will contend, would be detrimental to property values and prove undesirable to Woodlawn from a social standpoint.

Council Action Seen Delayed.

Action by the Woodlawn association was prompted by the plan of Ald. Rolla H. Bowler [35th], chairman of the council redistricting committee, to submit the new ward ordinance and seek its passage at today's council meeting. Ald. Bowler announced last night, however, that in all probability the council would adjourn to Friday or Monday and that the remapping ordinance would be withheld until the next meeting.

The business organization's move promised to bring into the open for the first time one of the controversies in various wards over new boundary lines. Ald. Bowler's committee for several months has been working on the new map but has held no public hearings. Its map has not been made public. Aldermen and other interested persons have been called in and although forty-two aldermen have agreed to vote for the proposed ordinance, according to Ald. Bowler, disputes have developed in several wards.

Group Resents Secrecy.

Frank J. O'Brien, a member of the Woodlawn association, who took a leading part in bringing about its decision to go into court, declared that his group resented the secrecy surrounding the committee's work. "All information about Sixth ward changes has not been obtained, he said, and the fear arose that the council would rush through the remapping ordinance and adjourn for its vacation.

Ald. Bowler said he believed the injunction petition would not be granted, as the authority of the council to remap the city could not legally be challenged. Although the sixth ward lines have not been finally determined, he said, they will work no great hardships. Defending the committee's procedure, he said:

"The people realize the difficulties surrounding anybody who tackles a redistricting job. We have been beset on all sides by political and business interests and have done our best to be fair to everybody. Our plan isn't perfect, but it does wipe out the glaring inequalities in population which we have now. Forty-two aldermen have tentatively pledged their votes for it, but if the plan were made public long in advance such pressure would be brought on some of them that we probably couldn't pass the ordinance at all.

Expects Public Approval.

"It's easy to talk about cutting out the wards exactly on a population basis but another thing to do it. It's a matter of compromising and getting as near to the ideal as is practical. That is our goal and I am confident the public at large will agree we have done a good job."

Further meetings of his committee will be held in the next day or two prior to the council meeting, when the ordinance is submitted, Ald. Bowler said. At these meetings the last kinks in the new map will be ironed out.

Under the present ward plan, adopted ten years ago, 37 per cent of the population elects 52 per cent, a majority of the aldermen. Twenty of the city's wards near the loop, between 1920 and 1930, had population losses ranging up to 38.6 per cent while the thirty outlying wards rolled up the number of their inhabitants [illegible] nearly cases more than 100 per cent.

Calls for Fifty Wards.

The Bowler plan calls for fifty wards, the same number as at present. The first ward will be extended south and the largest part of the colored district will be placed in one ward.

It has been tentatively agreed that a new ward will be created on the many southwest side by unification of the present 12th and 11th wards. Four new wards will be created and four eliminated on the west and northwest side, the inner circle being expanded and the outer circle contracted. The same number of wards will remain on the north side, although with different boundaries.

ON SCHOOL BOARD

(Eschne Photo.)

Mrs. Emily R. Dean of Chicago, president of the Illinois Republican Women's Clubs, was appointed yesterday by Gov. Emmerson to fill the vacancy on the state normal school board left vacant by the death of Ernest Cole. Mrs. Dean has long been active in political and social welfare circles. She has been associated with the Juvenile Protective association, Chicago Woman's club, Illinois Society for Mental Hygiene, and the Chicago Council of Social Agencies. She was an unsuccessful candidate for the Republican nomination for county commissioner in 1922.

LOW PRESSURE HAMPERS FIGHT ON FLAT BLAZE

Lose 20 Minutes Before Getting Streams.

Hampered by low water pressure, twenty fire companies fought a blaze in a three story frame flat building at 113-117 South Wood street for several hours yesterday afternoon. Only by the most strenuous of efforts was the fire prevented from sweeping throughout the entire neighborhood, according to Marshal Michael J. Corrigan.

Half a dozen families were driven to the street and Mrs. Grace Rose, 39 years old, was carried to safety by an unidentified fireman.

Situation Serious for a Time.

The district has scores of frame houses and the low water pressure made the situation serious for a time, the fire marshal declared after the blaze had been controlled. He appeared when a 2-11 alarm was sounded and immediately summoned additional apparatus when he discovered that the water pressure was so low.

"It took twenty minutes to get up enough pressure for the hose streams to be effective," Marshal Corrigan said after the fire. The loss was estimated at $25,000. The building was gutted.

Panic Hits Residents.

The flames started at the rear of the building, where children had been playing with matches. Occupants in the buildings nearby became panic stricken as they endeavored to save valuables and rush to safety. A woman who lived in a small frame building at the rear was hysterical and unable to give her name. Friends identified her later.

Arthur La Fevre, delicatessen owner in the building, was sitting down to dinner with his wife, Marie; his son, Arthur Jr., 10 years old, and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Louise Gauthier. So quickly did the flames spread that the four persons barely escaped before the fire reached the room.

KILLED BY POLICEMAN.

Granite City, Ill., July 7.—(AP)—Patrolman Steven Waters last night shot and killed P. W. Williams, 47, proprietor of a local billiard room.

START WORK ON 300 MILLION N. Y. SEWAGE SYSTEM

New York, July 7.—[Special.]—Construction of the first unit of New York City's new 300 million dollar sewage treatment and disposal system was formally launched by Mayor James J. Walker today when he broke ground with a silver shovel for the new thirty million dollar unit on the northeast side of Ward's island. Four years will be required to complete the first unit and probably thirty years to complete all thirty-three units.

The mayor, speaking at the ceremony, held out the hope that the new sewage treatment and disposal system when completed would abate the pollution of nearby waters, which constitute a serious menace to health.

The Ward's island sewage treatment plant will have a capacity for an average flow of 180 million gallons of sewage a day. It will remove 95 per cent of the putrescible organic matter and almost 100 per cent of the bacteria from the sewage.

Only 1 Car in 10 Passes Evanston Safety Tests

Less than 10 per cent of the cars which were examined in Evanston's "safety lane," maintained by the bureau of accident prevention of the suburban police department, have passed their first inspection, it was announced yesterday, the second day of the tests. The drivers whose automobiles were defective were told to get adjustments and return for a second inspection.

Daylight Robbers Get $1,322 in Auto Holdup

Two bandits yesterday leaped on the running board of an automobile occupied by two employés of Holleb & Co., wholesale grocers, at 149 South Water Market, forced them out of the car in front of 1346 West 14th street and robbed them of $1,322 in cash and $4,000 in checks. The employés are Aaron Weisman, 4114 West 14th street, and Morris Blaicher, 3724 Eastwood terrace.

KIDNAPED WHEN GANG MISTAKES HIM AS WITNESS

Chauffeur Tells Thrilling Story of Escape.

It is a hazardous occupation to drive the cab formerly chauffeured by a man who is determined, despite intimidation and offers of bribes, to prosecute a holdup man. Earl Hartsberger, 5126 West Madison street, informed the crime commission yesterday he would no longer drive Yellow Cab No. 1403 after what happened to him last Saturday night.

His predecessor at the wheel of cab No. 1403 was Erwin Kolar, who was robbed of $17 and his cab on May 18 and who says that ever since has been in danger of death. After the holdup Kolar said he recognized the robber as a young hoodlum he had previously seen robbing a restaurant owner in Cicero. With other drivers he went looking for the suspect and found him in a saloon at 2007 South Cicero avenue a few nights later. The police arrested the man pointed out by Kolar and the prisoner gave the name of John Erwin and said he lived at 108 North Hamlin avenue.

His Troubles Begin.

After that, Kolar said, his troubles commenced. First the mother of Erwin went to Kolar and offered him $250 to drop prosecution, according to Kolar's report, which was refused. Kolar said the mother then threatened him with death. Kolar's statements were that several times after that he was menaced and one night he was severely beaten.

Three Italians, it was charged, undertook to keep him away from the grand jury room, but Kolar appeared anyway and Erwin was indicted.

Kolar asked to have his cab changed. He had been driving No. 1431 when he was robbed. He was given No. 1403, but despite the change in cabs several more attempts were made to harm him, so he switched cars a second time. Chauffeur Hartsberger was assigned to 1403.

Story of New Attack.

"Saturday night I picked up two man at 22d and Kedzie avenues, Hartsberger told the crime commission yesterday. "The men asked me many questions about the cab business and I drove them around for a while. Then one of them left and the other told me to drive out west towards River Grove, saying his friend was going to follow in another car. On the way out he asked me why I didn't seek fares at Knockout Brown's saloon in Cicero.

"Somewhere in River Grove a gun was put against my back and I was told to drive at 50 miles an hour over certain roads. The second man had come up in another car and they told me they were going to kill me. I finally convinced them I wasn't the man they wanted.

"They saw from my identification card that I wasn't the man they thought, so they only robbed me."

Crime commission officials said Kolar and Hartsberger were of the same size and general description. At their request two policemen have been assigned to protect Kolar until the trial. The crime commission said steps should be taken to speed the trial, calling attention to the fact Erwin was indicted on June 7, but his case has not yet been placed on any judge's call.

BACK HOME

EVELYN WILSON.

New York, July 7.—[Special.]—Evelyn Wilson, former "Scandals" beauty, who had been missing from her home since July 5, returned home tonight, according to her mother, Mrs. Anna Wilson. Information as to the circumstances under which the young woman had disappeared or where she had been in the interim was not available.

The first word that the young woman had returned home was received by the police from John L. Randall, door man of the apartment house in which she lives.

SEEKS TO TIE UP 3 MILLION TRUST SET UP BY FACTOR

British Clergyman Begins New Court Action.

New legal action was started in the federal district court here yesterday against John [Jake the Barber] Factor, former Halsted street hair cutter, who is accused of fleecing British citizens out of approximately $7,000,000 in fraudulent stock deals.

The extradition hearing against Factor was resumed yesterday before United States Commissioner Edwin K. Walker and was adjourned until next Tuesday when Commissioner Walker will decide whether Factor is to be returned to England to face criminal charges.

Seeks Receiver for $3,000,000.

The new bill was filed by Attorney John H. S. Lee and seeks the appointment of a receiver for a $3,000,000 trust fund established by the former barber out of funds which the complainant charges were obtained through fraudulent deals.

The bill names Factor's wife, the former Rella Cohen; his mother-in-law, Mrs. Louise Cohen; and his attorney, Arthur L. Schwartz, who is associated with Senator Otis F. Glenn, chief counsel in the extradition hearings; and the Foreman State Trust and Savings bank, the Foreman-State corporation, the First Union Trust and Savings bank, the Central Trust company and the Union Bank of Chicago.

Charges on Trust Fund.

The trust fund is alleged to have been established under various aliases used by Factor and so arranged that the interest on the funds should be paid to Schwartz. The bill of complaint charges that Schwartz was aware of the fact that the criminal proceedings against Factor were imminent. These allegations, Schwartz declared yesterday, "are a pack of lies."

In the extradition hearing Senator Glenn argued on a motion to dismiss the proceedings on the ground that they do not charge a crime within the purview of the provisions of the extradition treaty between the United States and Great Britain.

$792,436,000 LENT 2,064,000 VETERANS UNDER NEW LAW

Washington, D. C., July 7.—(AP)—New loans made to veterans since enactment of the 50 per cent loan law totaled $792,436,116 on June 27. These were made to 2,064,609 veterans.

A tabluation issued today by the veterans administration showed the Washington office led all others in the amount and number of loans made, paying out $152,858,078 to 417,804 veterans.

Five other offices had loaned more than $25,000,000, New York leading with $79,115,531. The others were Hines, Inn., $45,837,241; Philadelphia, $31,451,314; Detroit, $28,173,002, and Los Angeles, $27,180,089.

TAILOR STRUCK BY AUTO OF HIT AND RUN DRIVER

Carl Busch, 62 years old, father of Assistant State's Attorney Harry J. Busch, was seriously injured yesterday when he was struck by a hit and run motorist at Halsted and Madison streets. Busch, a tailor at 865 North Clark street, was taken to the county hospital.

Two deaths raised the 1931 Cook county motor toll to 577. The victims:

Arthur Beer, 32 years old, 6155 South Crawford avenue. Died in the county hospital of injuries received on Monday when his automobile crashed into a street car at 63d street and Kilbourn avenue.

Unidentified Negro, about 35 years old. Died in the county hospital of injuries received a week ago when he was struck by a hit and run motorist at California avenue and Washington boulevard.

NEW ZEALAND TO REDUCE INTEREST RATES ½ PER CENT

WELLINGTON, New Zealand, July 7.—(AP)—A reduction of ½ per cent in the general interest rate is proposed by the government of New Zealand.

It is understood the reduction would apply to all current rates of interest as well as any new loans. Local bodies, banks, mortgages, insurance and all financing agencies dealing in moneys are being asked to conform.

The move follows a similar, but more drastic step in Australia, where all government loan interest is being reduced by nearly a quarter, leaving the government's financial burden during the period of retrenchment.

KINGSFORD-SMITH ESCAPES INJURY

TITLE COMPANY WINS POINTS IN STREETER CASE

Judge Walter C. Lindley in the Federal court yesterday sustained the major points in a demurrer to a suit filed by twenty-three heirs of the late Capt. George Wellington Streeter.

The heirs sought the ejectment of the present owners of "Streeterville," the near north side territory, valued at many millions of dollars, on the ground that Streeter had acquired a "squatter's" right to the land.

The Chicago Title and Trust company, which has guaranteed titles to the property, defended the suit, and Attorney Thomas J. Hoban, for the trust company, filed a demurrer arguing that the suit set up a duplicity of causes, including a plea for ejectment and another for summary damages; that the suit failed to include as a plaintiff an administrator for the Streeter estate, and that the plaintiffs delayed too long in presenting claims.

Judge Lindley sustained the first two points and ruled that the third should be decided if the plaintiffs elect within thirty days to amend their suit to remedy the two deficiencies.

H. L. DOHERTY AND STATE OF KANSAS OPEN GAS WAR

And Kansas City Star Takes a Hand.

Topeka, Kas., July 7.—(AP)—The Kansas gas rate controversy passed today through the statement stage as Gov. Harry H. Woodring, the Cities Service company, the Kansas City Star, and other participants prepared to fight out the issues in the courts.

H. L. DOHERTY. (U. & U. Photo.)

The controversy grew fierce today upon publication of a denunciation by Henry L. Doherty, head of the Cities Service and its affiliated units, of the governor's efforts to obtain a 10 cent reduction in rates charged by the string of utilities which supply gas to more than 100 Kansas cities.

The question is further complicated by the fact that the present rate fluctuates to a considerable degree in the various communities affected.

Doherty in his statement said the governor in demanding a rate reduction had acted "as a tool" of the Star.

Prepares to Sue Paper.

The Star, accused by Doherty of exerting an "evil influence" over Woodring in the gas controversy, was threatened with an action for damages by the utility magnate. Announcement was made in Kansas City that attorneys were preparing a suit against the newspaper at Doherty's order, but its nature or what amount of damages would be sought was not made known.

Replying to Doherty's allegations, the newspaper said it is "proud to be associated in this fight with Gov. Woodring and the state of Kansas."

Commenting upon a report Doherty was requesting the Star be barred from the mails, Postmaster General Brown in Washington, D. C., said the usual investigation would follow any complaint the utility head might make against the newspaper.

Attacks Veto on Stock.

Mr. Doherty in his statement decried the attempt of the Kansas banking department, now temporarily restrained by the Shawnee County District court, to prevent sale in Kansas of Cities Service stock issues except the first preferred.

Replying to Doherty, the governor said the New York utilities magnate "forgot to mention" gas rates.

"I proposed lower gas rates by negotiation rather than through litigation," the governor said. "Mr. Doherty chose the latter. Now, it's a fight—a fight but for one purpose—lower gas rates in Kansas."

Examine New Candidates for Police Department

The civil service commission yesterday resumed its examinations of applications for the police department, which were discontinued in April. A hundred men are being given physical and mental examinations daily. Three thousand new applications have been received, in addition to the 17,000 which were on the old list. Candidates will be eliminated from that list who do not fulfill the new standards of a minimum height of 5 feet 9 inches, an inch taller than previously, and a maximum age of 28 years, instead of a previous maximum of 31.

PICKPOCKET IS FINED $200.

Mike Donnell, 59 years old, of Niles Center was fined $200 and costs by Judge Leon Edelman in Town Hall court yesterday for picking pockets.

Thanks the World for Its Kindness.

New York, July 7.—[Special.]—John D. Rockefeller will celebrate his ninety-second birthday tomorrow, twenty years after he gave up the control of seven-eighths of the oil industry of this country, to devote himself to the business of living indefinitely.

In a public message on the eve of his birthday, he expressed as much pride in his health as he did in his wealth as a symbol of successful public service in 1911, when he retired from business.

Having relieved himself at that time of about $1,000,000,000 in capital holdings by turning them over to his son, John D. Jr., to be expended "for the benefit of all mankind," Mr. Rockefeller has spent the last twenty years in contentment and increasing health, happy to be known as "Neighbor John," who in moments of exuberance gives away a shining new dime.

He Thanks the World.

"These occasions," he said today, after assuring everybody that the eve of his ninety-second birthday found him in excellent health, "offer me a very welcome opportunity: first, to express my gratitude to the many, many friends who not only at this time but throughout the year have shown their kindly regard for me; and second, to wish them and theirs and all the world a large measure of health and contentment, which are the basis of real happiness."

When Mr. Rockefeller followed the sun to Florida last winter, in accordance with his annual custom, he explained in an interview that breakfast at the Rockefeller board is always followed by devotional reading.

His Favorite Prayer.

His favorite prayer for such occasions is: Lord, make us willing to share with others the blessings wherewith Thou hast crowned our lives; help us to understand that our really greatest gain is in sharing with others what Thou hast so graciously given to us."

Free from any worry, Mr. Rockefeller looks forward to each birthday as an achievement in contentment.

The celebration at the family estate at Tarrytown, N. Y., tomorrow will be the quietest ever. There will be no fireworks and no band. At 4 o'clock there will be a birthday supper attended by Mr. and Mrs. John D. Rockefeller Jr., their married daughter, Abbie, and her husband, David Milton, together with four other Rockefeller children.

Citizens of Kansas Town Pay No Taxes Second Year

Chanute, Kas., July 7.—(AP)—Chanute city commissioners announced today there will be no city taxes for the second successive year. Municipal expenses are paid from the profits of the gas, water and electric plants owned and operated by the city.

CONVICT FIGHTS PAL IN COURT; BAILIFF FELLED

CRIMINAL COURT.

John Kennedy, robbery, sentenced to 1 to 20 years in the penitentiary; Arthur Caduto, Albert Jones, Otto Bonert, and Edward Shannon, larceny, sentenced to one year each in Pontiac reformatory by Judge Joseph Sabath.

A fight broke out yesterday in Judge Harry M. Fisher's Criminal court when a prisoner sentenced to jail turned upon an erstwhile accomplice who had turned state's witness, and then struck out at four policemen, who had difficulty in subduing the prisoner.

The fight began just as Judge Fisher pronounced sentence upon Thomas Richardson, 28 years old, former convict; Stanley Czernek, 17 years old, and Louis Silk, 20 years old, who were arrested in connection with the robbery of a cigar store at 3170 North Clark street. Richardson, who got a longer sentence, struck at Czerneck, who was let off with a light sentence for aiding the state.

Charles Timlin, 51 year old bailiff, caught the blow on his chin as he tried to intervene and dropped to the floor. Then Richardson pounced upon Czerneck, beating him severely. It took four policemen several minutes to subdue and handcuff Richardson.

FALLING COAL KILLS MINER.

HUNT HERE FOR JOLIET VICTIM OF KIDNAPING

Chicago police were asked yesterday to search for John Kinsley, soft drink parlor proprietor of Joliet, who disappeared after closing his place of business about midnight Monday. The missing man's wife said she was sure he had been kidnaped.

Kinsley's drinking place was about one block and a half from the Joliet police station. He was walking home after closing up, according to witnesses, when three men riding in an automobile drew up beside him. Kinsley entered the car hurriedly and the automobile sped away. Several persons said they saw a Chicago vehicle license tag on the automobile.

Pair Captured in Stolen Auto Confess Robberies

County highway police yesterday arrested two young men in a stolen automobile near Homewood. The prisoners, James Butcher, 22 years old, and Harry Rossi, 23 years old, confessed to a number of holdups and purse snatchings, according to the highway police. The two carried a shotgun and two revolvers in the auto.

Putscher to Offer Alibi as His Defense.

William H. Putscher, 30 years old, went on trial yesterday in Judge Peter M. Schwaba's court for the murder of Mrs. Mildred Helsing, who was found strangled with a ribbon around her neck in the Helsing apartment, 5830 West Lake street, on April 1, 1930.

In their opening statements Assistant Prosecutors Harry Busch and Nat Ruvell said the state will charge that Putscher entered the Helsing home as a prowler, that he was surprised by Mrs. Helsing when she returned from a shopping trip and strangled her to prevent an outcry.

Prosecution Claims Confession.

Putscher was arrested six weeks after the murder and was said to have confessed. The defendant's attorneys, Daniel P. Madden and Cameron Latter, indicated that their defense would rest upon an alibi and a claim that the so called confession had been obtained from Putscher under duress.

The first witness was Reuben Helsing, widower of the woman, who described how he found his wife's body wrapped in a blanket with the ribbon wound about her neck when he returned from work at the Western Electric plant where he is a department manager. He also identified certain articles which were found in a satchel which the state claims Putscher left behind.

Policeman Tells of Arrest.

Policeman Frank Svec of Berwyn testified that on May 16, 1930, six weeks after the murder of Mrs. Helsing, he arrested the defendant in the rear of 1315 Wesley avenue, which on cross-examination he said was the home of Putscher's parents.

Over objections by defense counsel Svec testified that in the car with Putscher was a black brief case containing five guns, three stilettos, a crowbar, two license plates, three master keys, two hacksaw blades and six sample books of silk hosiery. The satchel and contents were introduced as state exhibits.

Mrs. Helen Putscher, 1315 Wesley avenue, mother of the defendant, and his father, William, who were excluded from the courtroom, told reporters that their son had admitted several burglaries to them, but had denied he committed the murder. Miss Mary Del Pinto, 15 years old, 4930 West Jackson boulevard, said she had been with him all afternoon on the day of the murder.

Orders Special Election for Cicero on July 28

A special election in Cicero on July 28 was ordered yesterday by County Judge Jarecki. The voters in the western suburb will be asked to approve a merger of the three park boards which function at present and at the same time will vote on a $800,000 park bond issue. Cicero now has the Hawthorne, Clyde and Morton Park park boards. It has been charged that this triple management results in waste.

ART DEALER HELD

Miss Elfrieda H. Nolan, 32 years old, art dealer, was held at the detective bureau yesterday on three warrants charging her with the operation of a confidence game.

The warrants were obtained by stockholders in the Ancient Glow Art Goods company, which has a shop at 6 North Michigan avenue and a factory at 529 South Franklin street. Miss Nolan was president of the company, which has temporarily suspended operations. She said her arrest was the result of internal dissension in the company.

She was arrested in her home, 3116 West Washington boulevard, on warrants obtained by Walter O. Ricketts, 9228 Harper avenue, secretary of the company; Wesley I. Pierce, 4455 North Richmond street, and Charles Smokik, 2349 South St. Louis avenue, a shipping clerk. All said they had invested money in the company. The police were told that eleven other investors put a total of $25,000 in the company, which was organized last July.

Million Dollars Unharmed in Vaults of Burned Bank

Spencer, Ia., July 7.—(AP)—After cooling for ten days following a $2,000,000 fire that swept the business district on June 27, the vaults of the Clay County National bank were opened today. More than a million dollars in cash and securities was found in perfect condition.

cern for these homeless Mexicans who sleep in alleys than for the gunmen. I couldn't get him to shut up, so I threatened to send him to jail. He said I couldn't do that because he was a representative of the Mexican government and then he dared me to jail him. So I did."

Some time was required in getting the consul transferred to the county jail, because the judge had to call the city hall to inquire how a commitment order should be made out. The order, displayed later in Judge Burke's court, accused the consul of "boisterous and improper actions, and using abusive language."

Tells Consul's Side.

Appearing before Judge Burke later Attorney Baker branded Judge Green's accusations as "one lie after another." According to the lawyer he had entered the courtroom with his client to act in behalf of several Mexican women who were attacked by two men recently at the Calumet Park beach.

"As soon as we entered," said the attorney, "Mrs. Hinman, a social worker, turned to the judge and told him the Mexican consul was in the courtroom, whereupon the judge leaped to his feet and began an amazing and incoherent tirade in which he said the consul was no good, the Mexican government was no good, that the consul was not taking care of his job properly. Señor Domingues attempted to remonstrate but he was outyelled, the judge shouting, 'Shut up or I'll throw you in the can!'

"He insisted on sending Señor Domingues to jail, even after Assistant State's Attorney Harry Samuels had told the court that the consul was immune from sentence."

Judge Green's bailiff, Eddie Powers, led the protesting consul to a cell and two hours later he was transferred to the county jail. After his prisoner was taken off his hands, Powers telephoned to newspaper reporters.

"I've got a swell story," he reported. "Here's the head for the story and be sure to use it: Ex-marine, who served under Gen. Smedley Butler, tosses Mexican consul in the can."

Urges Fines for Autoists Who Leave Cars Unlocked

Acting Police Commissioner Alcock yesterday urged that the city council adopt an ordinance providing that an automobile owner who leaves his car unlocked on the street be charged with a misdemeanor and made subject to a fine.

"As proposed the ordinance would give the police the authority to tow an unlocked car found in the street to a municipal garage," explained Alcock.

YOUR GUMS.

THAT first trace of "pink" on your tooth brush (how long ago was that?) was a faint S O S from your gums.

If neglected, your gums are now probably sending out an emergency call every time you clean your teeth—and "pink tooth brush" certainly is no joke!

A child's gums are firm, hard, healthy. But year after year of soft foods which do not exercise or stimulate the gums leaves them flabby, touchy, tender.

If allowed to go on and on, "pink tooth brush" makes them easy candidates for many diseases of the gums—for gingivitis and Vincent's disease and even for that much dreaded (but less frequent) pyorrhea. In time it may even lead to infection at the roots of your teeth. And that, of course, threatens the teeth themselves.

Yet there's a simple, inexpensive way to check "pink tooth brush". It's this: Clean your teeth with Ipana Tooth Paste. But each time you clean them, put some additional Ipana on your brush or finger-tip, and lightly massage it into those inactive gums of yours! Wake them up! Set the blood to circulating!

Almost immediately you'll see that your teeth are brightening up. Ipana's a splendid tooth paste. In addition, the ziratol in Ipana, massaged into the gums, begins to tone and stimulate them to new firmness, new health. Within thirty days, you'll see a big change for the better!

And if you keep on regularly using Ipana Tooth Paste with massage, you won't be troubled with those emergency calls in the form of "pink tooth brush"!

AUTO TRAP TEST CASE IS PUSHED BY MOTOR CLUB

High Court to Rule on Power of J. P.'s.

In a test case brought to gauge the power of justices of the peace who get fees only when they convict defendants, a northern Indiana jurist, Judge Maurice E. Crites of the Superior court of Lake county, yesterday ruled with Justice Harvey T. Minas of Crown Point in order to get the case before the Indiana Supreme court. The Chicago Motor club will take it there immediately, its attorneys announced.

"I am in sympathy with the contention that justices of the peace are influenced in their decisions by the fees they collect," said Judge Crites, "I hope this case can be taken to the Supreme court and that a prompt decision is rendered."

Motor Club Intervenes.

The motor club intervened after Lester Harding, 18 years old, a high school student living at 464 Indiana avenue, Hammond, had been arrested June 15 for reckless driving, found guilty on June 26, and fined $1 and costs of $13.50 by Minas.

Attorney William L. Travis of the motor club petitioned for a writ of habeas corpus to have the judgment set aside on the ground that the justice of the peace is paid a fee only in case of conviction, and therefore he is not qualified to give a fair trial.

In his decision yesterday, Judge Crites said: "Every one knows that the fees they [justices of the peace] collect are a substantial part of their bread and butter. A trial before such a tribunal cannot be considered as due process of law as provided for by the 14th amendment to the constitution.

Paid in Guilty Verdicts.

"Although a defendant has a right to a jury trial in Justice court, it must also be remembered that juries get fees only when they return a guilty verdict. So you have a biased judge interpreting the law to a prejudiced jury. That is not conducive to a fair trial."

Minas was represented by an assistant prosecuting attorney of Lake county, Floyd C. Vance, who raised the point that Harding failed to plead when arraigned before the justice of the peace.

At the last session of the Indiana legislature, a bill was passed abolishing the fee system for county officers, but justices of the peace—being township officers—were not included.

C. W. PARKER, NOTED ENGINEER, SENT TO PRISON FOR FRAUD

New York, July 7.—(AP)—Clark W. Parker, who began life 69 years ago in a Michigan log cabin and became a distinguished engineer and inventor, was sentenced with his son, Wyman C. Parker, today to five years imprisonment in a federal prison on each of 11 mail fraud counts, and two years on a conspiracy count. They also were fined $11,000 each. The sentences run concurrently.

The Parkers were charged with fraud in connection with sale of Automotive Royalties corporation stock. The elder Parker, who is a great-grandfather, has long been a trustee of the Church of the Strangers and has held numerous important positions. Several years ago he was an engineer for the Cadillac Motor Car company in Detroit at a salary of $30,000.

QUIZ MUSICIAN AFTER MOTHER IS SHOT IN MYSTERY

The police last night sent for Vincent Miraglia, harpist in the studio orchestra of the National Broadcasting company, to question him further concerning the mysterious shooting early yesterday of the harpist's bedridden mother, Mrs. Mary Rose Miraglia, 68 years old, in her home at 530 North Oakley avenue.

Mrs. Miraglia, who was shot nine times by an unidentified assailant who leveled his gun through her bedroom window, will recover, according to physicians at the Edgewater hospital. Regaining consciousness yesterday she told police she knew of no one who would want to harm her.

Her son, questioned earlier, said he had had no trouble with the musician's union or with anyone else.

Boy, Shot by Playmate in Accident, Dies of Wound

Chicago friends learned yesterday of the death at La Porte, Ind., of Harry Stasila, 11 years old, son of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Stasila of Chicago. He died yesterday of gunshot wounds received when Robert Halick, 9 years old, of Chicago, accidentally shot him. The boys, visiting here at a farmhouse, had bunks in the loft of a barn. As Harry was ascending a ladder into the loft Robert accidentally discharged a gun, the bullet striking Harry in the left eye.

TWO ESCAPE FROM ILLINOIS PRISON.

Chester, Ill., July 7.—(AP)—Two convicts escaped from the southern Illinois penitentiary yesterday by eluding guards in the prison gardens. They were Burley Orr, sentenced in Sangamon county in 1929 for one year to life on a burglary charge, and George Perry, serving a one to ten years' sentence from Jackson county for receiving stolen property.

2 EXPLORERS OFF ON 1,000 MI. TREK OVER GREENLAND

[Copyright: 1931: By the Associated Press.]

UMANAK, Greenland, July 7.—Martin Mehren and Arne Hoygaard, young Norwegian explorers, began their ascension of the inland glacier from the coast today, preparatory to setting out on a dangerous 1,000 mile trek across Greenland.

The two young students intend to cross the snowy wastes on skis, with two dog drawn sleds, in the interest of science. Their expedition is financed by the Norwegian government.

They also hope to find some trace of the expedition led by the German explorer, Dr. Alfred Wegener, from which nothing has been heard since last October.

The pair arrived in Umanak Sunday, after a nineteen days' voyage from Copenhagen, and began immediately their preparations for crossing the glacier to the east coast.

"Our dog teams are all well," they said. "One difficulty we most feared was how to get necessary assistance to carry provisions, equipment, and sledges up the steep sides from the coast to the starting place on the glacier.

"Luckily sufficient Greenlanders are at Umanak and we probably shall engage ten men.

Owing to several delays at Copenhagen our arrival in Greenland was later than Scheduled. According to the original plan our march over the glacier should have started Sunday, but it is hardly possible now until July 15.

"Under the circumstances the chances of a successful crossing to the east coast are slimmer, yet we are determined to make the attempt. We hope for the best."

GO AFTER BOOTLEGGER, LET PRIVATE VIOLATOR ALONE — WOODCOCK

Washington, D. C., July 7.—[Special.]—To concentrate on the commercial violator and "leave the purely private violater to his own conscience and the forces of education," and to "avoid all unnecessary irritation and annoyance to the innocent," are two of the four basic policies of the prohibition bureau, Director of Prohibition Amos W. W. Woodcock declared tonight in an address.

"There are statutory and constitutional protections surrounding the purely private violator," he explained. "So the choice of the commercial violator as our definitive objective is dictated both by policy and necessity."

As the bureau's efforts against the commercial violator are successful, Director Woodcock declared, the private violator's supply is reduced.

Bomber of 'L' Yards Wins Release on $5,000 Bond

John Graff, school engineer, who confessed on Monday night to placing three bombs in the terminal yards of the Chicago Rapid Transit company at Howard street, was released last night on $5,000 bonds and will be arraigned today in the Felony court on a charge of malicious mischief. Graff said he placed the bombs, only one of which exploded, because the transit company paid no attention to his complaints about the noise made by switching in the yards.

ESSEX Owners are Surprised at the Greater Value of the New Super-Six Selective FREE WHEELING is but one of its many Improvements

The New Essex Super-Six, which now includes Selective Free Wheeling, excites the enthusiasm of all. But its strongest appeal is to those who have owned Essex for years. They are the ones best qualified to judge it. And their spontaneous approval is convincing proof of its genuine fineness.

You'll find Essex owners are folks that like to tour. They think nothing of thousand-mile trips that call for two-day schedules, because they know that Essex is always ready to go when they are. Hence, they are the most severe critics of a car's performance, its year in and year out endurance, and low operating cost.

They expect and get a lot in Essex. And thus it is important that those who are most familiar with Essex are the most enthusiastic over the New Super-Six with Selective Free Wheeling. They say: "We didn't think it possible to make Essex finer or better—but you've certainly done it!"

Doesn't this loyalty to Essex stand as your most convincing proof of Essex quality and ability? If you want final proof, drive the new Essex Super-Six and experience its brilliant, nimble and smooth performance, made even more luxurious because of Selective Free Wheeling.

Coach or Business Coupe $595, Standard Sedan $695, Sport Roadster $725, Town Sedan $735, Touring Sedan $775, Special Sedan $855, 7-Pass. Sedan (long wheelbase) $895—Selective Free Wheeling $35 additional. All prices f. o. b. Detroit—special equipment extra.

AAA REPORT
certifies to excellent lubrication by New Iso-Vis in Chrysler

1 Iso-Vis Motor Oil did not thin out from dilution.

2 During the entire test of 9,000 miles, all parts of engine and chassis were lubricated effectively.

3 Consumption: Iso-Vis 50 (Heavy) in 1,000 mile test at 30 m. p. h.—only 1 quart. At higher speeds, all oils showed greatly increased consumption.

4 Carbon: only 4.6 grams per cylinder at 30 miles per hour, using Iso-Vis 50 (Heavy).

5 Cylinder Wear: too slight to measure.

NEW ISO-VIS TEST RUN •

SEE if you can guess by the sound of the engine how far this Chrysler has gone. You'll find it at your Chrysler dealer. Don't be fooled. Running on New Iso-Vis makes a world of difference.

We'll tell you this much. A year's average mileage had already been rolled up by this Chrysler on the Indianapolis Speedway, before it started on this data gathering tour. It was used there with 12 other cars in test after test during the lubrication study conducted by the Contest Board of the American Automobile Association.

Look at the report of the A. A. A. on the service given by New Iso-Vis. You can have the same fine lubrication in your car. When you change oil, change to New Iso-Vis—the only motor oil that will not thin out from dilution.

WIFE DIVORCES G. F. HENNEBERRY, MOTO FIRM HEAD

Wins Decree on Grounds of Desertion.

Mrs. Janet H. Henneberry, 399 Fullerton parkway, yesterday won a decree from George F. Henneberry, president of the Mana Rotogravure company, 4401 Ravenswood avenue. The decree was signed by Superior Judge John J. Sullivan on charges of desertion.

Mrs. Henneberry is the daughter of Angus Smith Hibbard, prominent consulting engineer and former vice president of the Chicago Telephone company. Mr. Henneberry is the son of William F. Henneberry, pioneer Chicago printer, who retired in 1920.

The Henneberrys were married April 14, 1908. Mrs. Henneberry charged her husband deserted her June 12, 1929. A property settlement, approved by Judge Sullivan, provides that Mrs. Henneberry receive a half interest in a $75,000 home near the Glen View Golf club. She rent free in a cooperative apartment owned by Mr. Henneberry at 399 Fullerton parkway, and receive $200 a month alimony.

Under the agreement the Henneberrys are to have joint custody of their son, Robert F., 14 years old. During the time the son is with Mrs. Henneberry her alimony is to be increased to $400 a month. Another son, George F. Jr., was killed in an automobile accident nine years ago.

The agreement provides that all payments shall cease in the event of Mrs. Henneberry's remarriage or with the death of her mother, Mrs. Lucille Hibbard. It also provides that if Mr. Henneberry fail to provide the apartment Mrs. Henneberry is to receive $400 a month and $600 a month if the son is with her at such time.

Mrs. Henneberry was represented by Attorney James H. Winston of the law firm of Winston, Strawn & Shaw. Mr. Henneberry, who did not appear in court, was represented by the law firm of Fischel, Kahn, Heart & Epstein. Mr. Henneberry is a member of the Chicago, Racquet, and Glenview Golf clubs.

DARROW JOINS STAFF OF LAWYERS TO FIGHT TO FREE STEPHENSON

Indianapolis, Ind., July 7.—[Special.]—Appearance of Clarence Darrow, veteran Chicago attorney, in behalf of D. C. Stephenson, former Ku Klux Klan grand dragon and a Hoosier political czar, was prevented in Indiana Supreme court here today when counsel agreed to suppliant oral arguments by filing briefs. Stephenson has been serving a life sentence since 1925 for the murder of Madge Oberholtzer, Indianapolis.

In 1926 he appealed for a new trial and the Supreme court still has this appeal under consideration.

WIFE LOSES SUIT AGAINST HUSBAND FOR LOST LOVE

$50,000 Damage Claim Denied by Judge.

A wife cannot collect damages from her divorced husband for the love and affection which she charges he denied her, Circuit Judge Thomas J. Lynch ruled yesterday. He upheld a demurrer to the $50,000 suit of Mrs. Clara H. Green, 6756 Cornell avenue, against J. Birchard Green, wealthy president of the Chicago Steel and Wire company.

Mrs. Green obtained a divorce in 1928. Green subsequently married a sweetheart of his youth, the present Mrs. Pattl Dunbeck Green, and his first wife filed suit for $75,000 against her successor, charging alienation of affections. The suit is pending.

Sues Husband for $50,000.

The first wife also sued Green for $50,000, charging that he failed to live up to the terms of the marriage contract, setting forth in full the ceremony by which they were married.

If Mrs. Green were allowed to proceed with her suit, it would open the way to a new branch of marriage racketeering, Attorney Frank B. Teed argued in presenting the demurrer to the suit on behalf of Green.

Sees Danger of Racket.

"There is no breach of the marriage contract for which a settlement has not been found in the past in the divorce courts," he stated. "Under the theory of this suit every divorced wife could sue her husband for damages, or a wife could even sue without obtaining a divorce if she thought her husband had failed to live up to his marriage vows. It would open a new field of marriage racketeering."

The demurrers which Judge Lynch sustained wiped out all of Mrs. Green's claims except two, for a total of $335, for sums which she asserts Green owes her in interest and stock dividends. Her attorneys were given ten days to amend their bill on those two claims.

JAMES BALDWIN, MANUFACTURER, IS SUED BY WIFE

Mrs. Mary A. Baldwin, 414 South Scoville avenue, Oak Park, president of the Frances Willard hospital, filed suit for divorce yesterday in the Superior court against James L. Baldwin, wealthy manufacturer. She charges adultery. No corespondent is named. Mr. Baldwin is president of the Baldwin Cash and Package Carrier company, 30 South Clinton street. They married July 26, 1919, and separated two days ago. Mrs. Baldwin stated in her bill that her husband owns personal property worth $125,000 and has an annual income of $25,000. Her attorney, Robert E. Cantwell Jr., obtained an injunction from Judge Rudolph F. Desort restraining Baldwin from molesting her.

THE TAXPAYERS' WHEAT.

The farm politicians are continuing to harangue the farm board with pleas to hold the government's wheat off the market. Senator Capper thinks the farm board ought not to sell a bushel until the price reaches 85 cents in Chicago. Senator Watson prefers 92 cents. Senator Borah holds out for a round $1.25.

They all seem to overlook the fact that the government owns more than 200,000,000 bushels of wheat and that the mere act of holding the wheat is costing the taxpayers—few of whom live in Kansas or Idaho—millions of dollars every month. It is not unlikely that it would cost the government less to dump the wheat in the Gulf of Mexico than to adopt Senator Capper's policy, for no man knows or can begin to guess when wheat is going to reach 85 cents again. As for Senator Borah's program, it is almost certain that the outright destruction of the wheat would be materially less expensive. With Senator Borah's friends in Russia determined to export wheat in quantity, it is not likely that prices will soon reach $1.25 a bushel unless there is a world-wide crop disaster. Meanwhile he proposes to tax the citizens of the United States to pay storage charges and insurance charges.

The farm politicians refuse to see the obvious fact that even if their policies were adopted the results would not be what they expect. As long as the government wheat exists in the form of wheat it is going to be reckoned as part of the world supply, and to that extent will influence prices. If the farm board holds the grain off the market this year, its holdings will depress prices not only this year but next year as well. To the extent that the farmers benefited from the artificial increase which the government gave to wheat prices by purchases, the farmers must lose through the sale of the government's holdings. No amount of temporizing or rigging of markets will alter that fact.

ENFORCING NEW BAIL LAWS.

Assistant State's Attorney De Witt, in charge of bail bond enforcement, has given instructions to his assistants that the provisions of two new statutes on bail be strictly prosecuted. The orders are timely and we wish their force could be made permanent. It is easier to get laws passed than persistently and competently applied. There has been of late a good deal of desirable publicity for the very flagrant weaknesses of our laws and procedure of bail. Mr. De Witt says, without exaggeration, that the bail bond business was used as a method of jail delivery, and he estimates that an average of at least one criminal a day escaped punishment, forfeiting uncollectable bonds. In recent years the evil became so notorious as to compel attention and a demand for reform, of which the two acts passed at the late session are results. But statutes are not self-enforcing and if we are to have the substantial benefits promised by the well considered provisions of these new laws, not only the prosecuting officials but the judges, as Mr. De Witt suggests, must see that they are realized.

Doubtless the crime commission will follow the fortune of the new reforms with interest and the public will be glad to know that the state's attorney's department intends to make them effective at once.

THE GERMAN CHAMPION.

Max Schmeling is taking a clear title in the heavyweight class back to Germany this time. The cloud that went with it when Sharkey lost on a foul disappeared when the hard hitting German won from Stribling. It will always be said that champions are not what they used to be, if they ever were, but this championship is out of the country without any qualifications or conditions. It nearly went to South America when Firpo knocked Dempsey into the lap of the press.

A day or so after the Cleveland fight a European heavyweight championship bout drew thirty thousand spectators at Hamburg, where a German won from an Italian. The geography of the ring is expanding. Some day a huge Balkan will come stumbling out of the hills or a gigantic Chinaman out of the north who may take a fortune and the title into strange and remote parts. However, the gravitation will be toward the United States. In other parts they'll never learn the nuances of matchmaking or how to make a two dollar seat worth twenty-five or fifty dollars. They'll have a hard time discovering what a milk fund really is and how to get a governmental interest in the meeting of two Neanderthalers. They'll be merely two prize fighters.

Europe is neither big enough nor placid enough to tolerate international championship fights after a fever has been started by the proper publicity if the proper publicity were available. International soccer is almost too much for European peace. Fighters may be found elsewhere as the legend of ring wealth penetrates into places where they grow them monumental and tough, but the ring will always be where the easy money is.

SECRETARY CASTLE ON THE MONROE DOCTRINE AND LATIN AMERICAN RELATIONS.

Undersecretary of State Castle took the occasion of Independence day to make a very able and timely address on the subject of the Monroe Doctrine. We wish it might have the consideration among our Latin American neighbors which it deserves. The occasion itself is not without significance, for the Monroe Doctrine has been misinterpreted in recent years as a threat to the independence of states whose independence it was intended to defend. This misinterpretation or misconception has raised unjustified anxiety and hostility in the sentiment of the peoples of the western hemisphere, and, though it has been answered and corrected repeatedly in recent years, it is still desirable to remind Latin American public opinion of the historic import of the doctrine and its limits. We did not land marines or sailors in Haiti or Nicaragua under the Monroe Doctrine, but under international law which recognizes the right of nations to protect their nationals in circumstances of disorder or unjust attack. Mr. Castle puts this clearly and candidly:

"Every nation has the right and the duty to demand justice for its citizens engaged in legitimate business abroad. No nation has a right to demand more than justice. It is only in case of miscarriage of justice that diplomatic protests have any part. I can assure you that no one in the American government asks for our citizens engaged in business in Latin America more than we ask for them in other parts of the world.

"But everywhere, at all times, we expect that the governments of the nations where they reside and work shall give them protection, shall treat them fairly as we treat foreigners in our own country; that, subservient to the laws of the land where they live, they shall receive a full measure of justice and consideration in their legitimate pursuits. In Latin America this does not flow from anything contained or implied in the Monroe Doctrine, but rather from international law and from the custom of nations."

Mr. Castle's remarks upon our duties and interests in the Caribbean were necessarily brief on this occasion, but what he said was sound and self-respecting: "The building and operation of the Panama canal have imposed on the American government duties in connection with the defense of this great work which we hold as trustees for the world quite as much as for our own benefit. We must protect this international waterway because it is of the highest benefit to both North and South America. This responsibility entails duties in the whole Caribbean region, which, of necessity, become a part of the foreign policy of the United States."

There is nothing ulterior in the purposes of the United States or in its relations with our sister republics in this hemisphere. Our diplomacy is capable of making mistakes, being in the hands of men who have no claim to infallibility. But our policy has always been one of friendship, or, as Mr. Castle puts it, of "frank and friendly cooperation," and we seek more than ever as time goes on to develop an all-American solidarity founded on justice and we hope a growing understanding.

FORESTS FROM FARMS.

The enabling act passed by the Illinois legislature at its recent session will permit the federal government to purchase land for reforestation. It is now proposed that the government buy two units, one of 150,000 and the other of 100,000 acres, in the Ozark hills in the southern part of the state. This land, it is said, will cost from $3 to $5 an acre. Authorities at the University of Illinois estimate that there are from 2,750,000 to 5,000,000 acres in the state which are unsuited to profitable agriculture and which will yield a fair return only if planted to trees.

The fact that much of this land and similar tracts in other states are in cultivation accounts for much of the agricultural discontent. It is virtually impossible to make even a fair living on these marginal lands and the tens of thousands of farmers who are trying to do so are destined to failure. The loss does not end with the farmers who take it directly. The marginal farm does not produce enough adequately to pay the man who works it for his effort, but it does produce enough to pile up crop surpluses, thereby increasing the difficulties of other farmers. The disparity which is said to exist between the prices of farm products and factory products can be explained largely in terms of the excess production created by the marginal farms.

Reforestation serves the double purpose of creating a commodity which will be needed in the future and of removing surplus lands from cultivation. The federal government would have done far better if it had invested the millions it has lost in the grain and cotton markets in the purchase of marginal lands for forest growth. Any future efforts to assist agriculture should take this form.

Editorial of the Day

A YEAR OF THE POLICE RADIO.

[St. Louis Globe-Democrat.]

A police radio system has now been operated for a year in Chicago, the largest city in which this decided aid to a metropolitan department is employed. In addition to the original station there, two other broadcasting stations have been established for greater expedition at places where reports of depredations are collected. The first anniversary found an average of 245 messages being flashed every day to departmental cars with receiving sets. Thirty-five nearby suburban towns have also equipped their police cars with receiving apparatus and to these an average of forty messages is sent daily.

It does not yet appear that the alert underworld has been especially successful in offsetting this great advantage of the police in contemporaneous information as to crime and criminals. In some instances, it is said, thieves have managed to catch on receiving sets of their own some messages intended for the police and thus to keep posted during at least a few moments on what was afoot. Fake calls are also occasionally broadcast by criminals to divert police attention. Such occasional misuse of the device, of course, avails little against a well organized, efficiently conducted counter system.

The year's test has been more than satisfactory, declares Acting Commissioner Alcock. The real test will come in reduced figures as to crime and uncaught criminals, and results of that sort may be expected in due season.

STILL SELLING POISONOUS JAKE.

THE people who sell poison under the name of a beverage—Jamaica ginger—seem to enjoy paralyzing people. At any rate, they are so greedy for money that they are not only quite willing to violate laws but they have no hesitation about maiming people, if necessary, to get what they want.

Nearly two years after poisoning many thousand they tried their hand in southerne California. In the first slaughter they could plead ignorance, but not in the second. After many investigations it was discovered just what was the poison in jake paralysis. The facts were spread widely.

Drs. M. I. Smith and E. Elvove of the National Institute of Health published a method of testing Jamaica ginger for this poison. Doubtless the poisoners read all these reports. They appear to have been cautious—at least for a year or more. The reports are that this beverage, in two ounce bottles, is being widely bootlegged and that thousands of reckless people are drinking it. The furore occasioned by the poisonings of 1929 is reported to have hurt the legitimate ginger and ginger ale business, but it does not seem to have interfered with the bootleg business.

In spite of wide use for more than a year there were no reports of poisoning except in a few instances where remnants of the old stock were pulled out of hiding places and sold to seekers after trouble.

In the latter part of 1930 a New York bootlegger again began manufacturing or, at least, marketing the poisonous product. He used the same poison but he "cut" it somewhat. A person had to drink more of it to acquire jake paralysis. He shipped several barrels of it to a compounder in Los Angeles. This compounder mixed it with some other stuff, bottled and labeled it, and then marketed it through drug stores. The consumers began to come down with jake paralysis in January. In February, the epidemic, if it can be called such, was going strong. The health department got busy when it learned of the disease and called on Dr. Smith for help.

The first investigation failed, principally because not all of the bottles contained poison and, when present, it was in lesser proportions than the investigators were looking for. Finally, the right trail was hit on and the analyses were proving the presence of the poison.

The bottled paralysis was seized, the barrels of potential death were impounded. After that no new cases of jake developed in southern California.

The question now is, When and where will this loving friend of his fellow man strike next?

SOMETIMES SERIOUS.

Miss W. J. writes:

1. Is pyelitis serious? I have had it for over a year, and have been clear only once.
2. What causes it?
3. Does it ever cause kidney stones?
4. I am 23 years old and weigh only 90 pounds. My height is 5 feet 3 inches. What should I weigh?

REPLY.

1. The kind that is due to colon infection may be serious but often is not. The kinds that are due to tuberculosis and to pus germs are quite serious. It is always disagreeable, since it may cause attacks of fever and there is much pain.
2. Most cases are due to infection with colon bacillus. Some are due to other infections. One of the possibilities is infection with tubercle bacillus.
3. Yes. It is sometimes the cause of phosphate stones.
4. 124 pounds.

SHOULD TRY AGAIN.

C. E. H. writes: Please give some information about entropion. I have been operated four times for this condition but without success. I am discouraged.

REPLY.

I am told by eye specialists that you can be cured. The fact that operations have not cured you is discouraging, but the only policy for you is to try again.

RENT FREE.

Chicago, July 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—1. How long may the owner of a building live in it rent free after said building has been foreclosed and gone into receivership? 2. What provisions, if any, must appear in the deed or other documents? 3. What does the homestead law provide for in such a case? O. B.

1. Fifteen months are allowed for redemption from a foreclosure sale. In many cases the owner is permitted to remain in possession during this period, but in other cases a receiver is appointed.
2. Appear for what purpose? We do not understand the question.
3. Ordinarily, the trust deed expressly waives homestead.

TRUST FUND GOES.

Chicago, July 3.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—My grandmother, who is 74 years of age, has been legal guardian to my 15 year old orphaned cousin for eight years. The bank in which the Probate court placed this boy's money has been closed and put into the hands of a receiver. 1. Isn't there some way in which she may be able to get her monthly allowance again? 2. Or will she just get the percentage the banks pay on regular accounts? 3. This is a minor's trust account, and she has no income now at all. R. L.

1. You have stated no facts as to a monthly allowance to her. If she has an allowance payable out of the bank which has been closed, then her chances of collecting will depend upon the ratio between assets and liabilities and upon other facts that are not before us.
2. Yes.
3. We do not understand your facts.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

Chicago, June 26.—[Friend of the People.]—Is there no way of enforcing the neighbors to discontinue dumping in the vacant lot in the 6200 block of North Washtenaw avenue? E. K.

The vacant lot has been thoroughly cleaned and notices served on neighbors to stop further dumping. A "No Dumping" sign has also been installed and location will be kept under strict observation until nuisance is abated. The party doing most of the dumping is the janitor of the complainant, who was also served with a written notice to discontinue the practice in the future.

JOSEPH J. BUTLER,
Superintendent of Streets.

A LINE O' TYPE OR TWO

To the Baker, the Butcher, and the Candlestick Maker—

And likewise the landlord, the iceman, the grocer, and the gentleman who makes our shirts, and all others whom this may concern: Greetings. This is to say, gentlemen, that we are returning your bills unpaid. Please do not expect us to pay you for a year; after that we'll see. Please understand that we are not acting as we do from any sordid or selfish motives. It is like this: The nations of the world, led by our own United States, have decided that none of them shall pay their debts for a year. If we were to insist on paying you we would be saying that which they have done is wrong. Suppose, Mr. Groceryman, for instance, we pay you what we owe you and France finds it out. Will not France think we are trying to show her up? Who are we, a private individual, to do what France and Belgium and Germany and proud, haughty England cannot do? You see our position. If we run around handing out three dollars that we owe here and two dollars and thirty-five cents that we owe there and sixty-five cents we owe this man and a dollar and a quarter we owe that one, would we not be a nullificationist? Who are we to do what our own country tells its debtors not to do? What none of the great nations of the world are permitted to do? Understand that we will continue to trade with you as before, but when you come around for the money, friends—try and get it. We trust you appreciate the nobleness of our position and please do not slam the door as you go out. And for a year, so far as your bills are concerned, good-by and good luck!

PLATONIC OUTBURST.

What's this love that poets prattle
Seasonably and trite?
They all need a tonic that'll
Set them partly right.

Love's an imbecile emotion,
Silly and annoying.
Like a sweet and harmless potion,
Soon it's awfully cloying.

Me—I'm much too far above
Such stuff—it gives me jitters.
Never speak to me of love,
I crave gin and bitters!

Mine's an enviable rule,
No man can deceive me.
Bit and gasp, you helpless fool,

DAVIDA.

OTTO KNUDSEN, an Eskimo hunter, so a dispatch from Copenhagen tells us, stopped killing polar bears and drinking whale blubber long enough to attend a movie. He gazed spellbound for awhile, then went raving insane. His companions bound him and brought him to Copenhagen for treatment. Ah, a cure is very simple if we but remember similia similibus curantur; introduce Otto to the radio and let him listen for 5 minutes.

YOU'VE CERTAINLY got to hand it to July wheat. Stocks have been nose-diving for a long time bragging about the new lows they went to. But look what July wheat did! It went to 53¾ cents a bushel on the Liverpool exchange, the lowest in 277 years. Yessir, they had to turn back to 1654 to find when wheat had ever been as low as that before. 277 years! What a record! What a record!

HERBERT BRADLEY, the African explorer, says that the suppression of cannibalism among the pygmy tribes of the Congo "works about like prohibition does in the United States." Thank you, Mr. Bradley; we understand as fully and completely the state of cannibalism in Africa at present as though you had written nine books on the subject.

AND IF YOU can't compel people who have once enjoyed the delights of cannibalism (probably terribly overrated) to give up their peculiar custom by harsh and explicit laws, it must be much harder to compel a people who have once enjoyed the privilege to abandon the pleasure of a glass of beer. Or, at least it so seems.

TRAVEL NOTES FROM THE NEAREST EAST.

R. H. L.: Just returned from New York, where I have been rusticating for a few days. They are tearing up Broadway again—or yet, for they always seem to be doing so. The same old steam shovels, and playing a successful season apparently, with good attendance every day. Broadway isn't as bright as it used to be. They turn on a good many electric lights of evenings around Times Square, but elsewhere the street no longer shines with its olden glamour.

And, theatrically speaking, one misses the old stars of magnitude. They are all out. Positively. Broadway has, in fact, become a movie milky way, and grows milkier all the time.

A couple of fellows named Post and Gatty returned from a brief trip abroad while I was there and were given what the papers called a "tumultuous reception," second only to Lindbergh's. I saw the parade. A few soldiers and several policemen on horseback and two cornet bands (I counted them). Also, Post and Gatty in an automobile. I don't think the fire laddies turned out. Maybe there was a fire somewhere. The enthusiasm was shown by a shower of unused [on account of the depression) ticker tape, bits of newspapers, rejected manuscripts, etc., scattered from the store buildings along the line of march. But the whole show wasn't half so tumultuous or exciting as an old time torchlight procession in Marshall, Ill.

EOLUS.

TITO SCHIPA, one of our favorite song birds, announces that he is to play the part of Napoleon in a talking picture for the sum of five hundred thousand dollars. Ah, it's like a breath of the dear old times to hear some one talk like that. It is almost sublime that in these days anybody can sit right up and talk about being paid five hundred thousand dollars. Ah, we love it, Tito, we love it; dream again, dear one, dream again!

WELL, yesterday we got the great debt moratorium, the bottom fell out of the stock market, and where do we go from here? R. H. L.

16 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 8, 1915.

CINCINNATI, O.—A tornado hit Cincinnati and vicinity and latest reports show that in this city there are at least 24 known dead, 50 injured, and 75 to 100 persons missing. The towns of Milford, O., and Dayton and Ludlow, Ky., have been practically wiped out.

LONDON.—The Turkish forces completely failed in the big attack which they began on July 4 against the Anglo-Saxon forces on the Dardanelles, according to the British official press bureau's statement, which added that the Turks lost heavily.

LONDON.—The famous cathedral at Arras is burning, together with many other buildings in the city, as a result of the latest bombardment by the Germans. This was admitted in the official statement issued in Berlin. The cathedral was built in 1755-1833.

CHICAGO.—"A saloonless nation in 1920," the motto adopted by the Christian Endeavor society at its convention in Atlantic City in 1911, was declared to be a certainty by Daniel A. Poling, whose address marked the beginning of the twenty-seventh international and fifth world's Christian Endeavor convention, which is being held at the Coliseum with 10,000 delegates in attendance.

30 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 8, 1901.

CHICAGO.—President Upham of the board of review declared he would attempt to have the capital stock of all Cook county corporations assessed at the market value of the stock according to court instructions in the teachers' mandamus case.

CAMP LINCOLN, SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—No beer is "sold" in Camp Lincoln this year, according to Col. Sanborn, the commander. The canteen or free distributing plan adopted for the First regiment is a novel one and, according to the officers and men, is an unqualified success. Only beer is permitted on the grounds and that is purchased from Springfield, one keg being given to each company and distributed among the men in the evening. The cost is paid out of the mess fund. Col. Sanborn explained his ideas on the canteens and says that they help sobriety. "You can't by a flat deprive 1,000 Americans of anything," he said.

NEW YORK.—Pierre Lorillard died at the Fifth Avenue hotel from Bright's disease complicated with other ailments. He was nearly 63 years old. He is survived by his widow, a son, Pierre Lorillard Jr., and two daughters, Mrs. William Kent and Mrs. T. Suffren Tailer. He leaves a large fortune, much of which he inherited from his father, Peter Lorillard, founder of the great tobacco business. He was widely known as a patron of the turf and a man of luxurious and costly modes of living.

50 YEARS AGO TODAY

JULY 8, 1881.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—President Garfield passed a most comfortable night and continued steadily to improve. He is cheerful and asks for additional food. His pulse is 94, temperature 99.1, respiration 23. The report that jaundice has set in was emphatically contradicted by the physicians. The terrible thunderstorm which prevailed in the city last evening disturbed the patient and tended to increase the fever. In reply to a question, Dr. Boynton told the President that he thought he would pull through and the President said: "I hope so, and I intend to do my part towards pulling through." Dr. Boynton is a homeopathic physician of Cleveland, a warm personal friend of the President, and by marriage a relative of the family. Mrs. Garfield desired his presence and he came here at her behest. He said he was disappointed in finding the President somewhat weaker than he expected, but hopes for a favorable outcome. He continued: "He, of course, is far from being out of danger yet. I understand the indications are that the bullet passed through the right lobe of the liver and lodged in front of it. Certainly it would be very poor practice to attempt to probe for it or determine where it is until he gets comparatively well."

MAYOR CURLEY'S COW.

Washington, D. C., June 29.—I noticed an editorial in THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE last week which had reference to the Boston federal building and the popular notion of the languid expression of federal activities generally. A large part of the delay in this project is entirely due to the attitude of Mayor Curley himself, the Boston civic bodies, and the attitude of the governor and former governors of Massachusetts, the action of the entire Massachusetts delegation in congress, the activities of labor organizations, Rotary clubs, etc.

This morning at about this time $5,500,000 is being paid over to the owners of the new postoffice site in Chicago by the United States district attorney in Chicago. At the same time in the supervising architect's office of the treasury specifications are going out to all contractors interested for bids on the new $15,000,000 federal building to be built on this site. In looking back over the months that it has taken to negotiate, pass legislation in two congresses, clear title, while at the same time plans were being developed by one of the most capable architectural and engineering firms in the United States, I feel that when the story is written and Chicago is enjoying the advantages of the greatest postoffice in the world that the treasury department will then find it unnecessary to make any apologies.

No one can appreciate the humor in your editorial more than those who have been working on the building program of the country since the early days of this administration. There has been no sitting around with the heels on the desk, but rather the most loyal sort of assistance from every one in the supervising architect's office, long hours of overtime, sweltering through the hottest summer on record, abandonment of vacations, and extension of every possible effort to expedite the biggest national building program ever undertaken in peace time.

At present there are about 160 buildings under construction. Contracts will be let for some of the largest buildings in the program during the next 45 days, and by late fall in a great many of the key cities of the country building operations will begin on the largest and most efficiently arranged group of federal buildings ever designed. It is not expected that the federal building program will provide anything but a small percentage of the work necessary to engage the building trades of the country. If the government should build buildings in every village and hamlet in the United States and rebuild all the existing federal buildings, the whole expenditure would be less than twice the expenditure in Cook county during a normal building year. But I am sure you will agree there will be both practical and psychological benefit for the government to have a $15,000,000 building under process of erection this winter in Chicago, together with a new appraiser's store about to be constructed and an addition to the Marine hospital to be built in a short time. FRED E. HAIRE,
Assistant Secretary of the Treasury.

POSTOFFICE HUMOR.

Chicago, July 3.—Your recent editorial captioned "Mayor Curley's Cow" was so good that I forwarded it to some friends of mine in Boston. It now appears that after one hundred and fifty years Washington is developing a vein of humor. The latest is that the postmaster general's department has informed the mayor of Boston that he have had sufficient trouble with the mayor's bull without being asked to care for his cow.

If this is true, and the department continues to cultivate the sense of humor, they may start work on our postoffice promptly, as a job on Chicago. F. R.

THE SLEEPING TAXPAYER.

Chicago, June 22.—S. A. R. asks "Are the property owners of Chicago asleep, or are they already dead?" In inquiring the enormous increase in the real estate tax rate in the last fourteen years I can answer: "Fast asleep." While the average taxpayer would protest if required to pay for construction and maintenance of a railroad right of way, block signals, wages of towermen, etc., the same taxpayer meekly pays taxes for road and street widenings, pavements, new highways, bridges, stop and go lights, wages of traffic police, etc., all entirely for the benefit of bus and freight truck lines and motorists, all competitors of the railroads.

The real estate owner is bankrupt on account of high taxes due to loading on real estate transportation costs which should be paid by the users of the roads and streets, and the railroads are in the hole on account of the unfair competition of bus and truck lines which are now given a free right of way maintained by the real estate tax payers. Real estate taxes will not be reduced until transportation costs are assessed against the users of the roads and streets. J. L.

ECONOMY.

Chicago, July 2.—In this wave of economy existing in this city and county it hardly seems credible that one reads in one column of a newspaper that the county has purchased a huge tract of forest preserve land, and in another column that the county is depriving its employés of their vacations. These employés have not had salaries for many weeks and there is no prospect for future salaries for many months. How can the county expect good service from employés living under the mental strain?

If this city and country should prosper prosperity let it get busy and put money into circulation. Teachers and county workers must conserve every penny at this time and they are good and cheerful spenders. M. L. R.

WOMEN WITHOUT JOBS A WORRY TO WOMEN WITH 'EM

Fearful They May Be in Same Fix Soon.

By GENEVIEVE FORBES HERRICK.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Richmond, Va., July 7.—[Special.]—Women with jobs are sorry for women without jobs. In fact, last week the women themselves were women without jobs.

You find one of the members of National Federation of Business and Professional Women's clubs gathered in convention here considering the same unemployment problem.

You discuss it at tables at luncheon and talk about it at luncheon tables. They pass resolutions urging all their clubs to make a scientific study of unemployment next winter.

Governor Welcomes Convention.

Unemployment was the theme of the surprise speech which Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt made this evening at the official opening of the convention. Introduced by Gov. John Garland Pollard as the "real governor of New York," she was applauded. But when she identified herself as a "fellow working woman" she was cheered tumultuously. She had only ten minutes before catching the train with her husband, but she used up most of that time urging the women to discuss the affairs of the day, and to bring to modern problems a wide viewpoint.

Gov. Pollard, who had left a conference with Gov. Roosevelt to welcome the convention, did it with southern gallantry. He even went so far as to insist that Virginia was the ideal state for a women's convention, since Virginia's state seal is a beautiful woman with her dainty foot on the head of a mere man.

Unemployment, too, was the keynote of the address of Miss Marion H. McClench of Ann Arbor, Mich., the national president. In opening the convention she warned the women to cease "fitful spurts of chasing economic butterflies." She also counseled all members to concentrate on a ten year plan of study, research, adjustment, the better to readjust conditions as well as to readjust themselves to readjusted conditions.

Have Most to Gain.

Women, she pointed out, have a peculiarly appropriate reason for this study, and she explained it this way:

"Since the vast majority of women who earn are to be found among the lowest paid workers, it is natural that they should have a more than academic interest in establishing social justice and a greater diffusion of wealth."

Deploring the passing of pride in craftmanship and the rising of false standards of efficiency, Miss McClench declared that "in these days success comes to him who does the thing every one else does, but in a little shorter time."

If the five day week comes—and Miss McClench believes it is coming—the business and professional women must develop a program of recreational leisure, she insisted, which shall make them more intelligent rather than more indolent, as a result of the new leisure.

Illinois Women Active.

During the day's program, preliminary to the official opening of the meeting, Chicago and Illinois played a prominent part. The Illinois dinner this evening turned into a patriotic event in which more than a hundred women, wearing the purple badge of Illinois, pledged themselves to "sell" Springfield as the site of the next biennial convention.

Earlier in the day, Martha Connelo, energetic East St. Louis attorney, talked about the discrimination which she feels are existent against women in the business world.

"This unemployment crisis isn't the real reason at all," she said. "It has merely furnished an ideal excuse for greater discrimination than ever before. When there are not enough positions to go around, and particularly when there are not enough good positions, it is almost invariably the men who are favored, you know the reason. The employer finds it easier to let out the woman. Maybe he thinks there is less likelihood of a demonstration against him."

Women Judged in Public.

This morning Miss Elizabeth Eckert, chief clerk of the internal revenue office in Chicago, and president of the Chicago Alliance of Business and Professional Women, presiding at a round table concerned with women in public office, stressed the fact that the woman in the job is newer than the man, and, therefore, the public judges all women by the actions of one woman in office.

"In spite of this hard method of judging," Miss Eckert rejoices that women have made such good records, "that their ideals of service to their public are 100 per cent."

Of course it isn't all study and statistics. For instance, this afternoon, beneath a southern sun that burned brightly, the women went up to Virginia's capital to visit Gov. Pollard and unreel the 71,934 inches (that makes one and one-seventh miles, they told the governor) of publicity achieved by the federation during National Business Women's week, March 8 to 14.

Tomorrow a goodly number of women are going to get up early and be present at a 7:30 meeting when a beauty specialist will tell them how to wear "which with what," to be the well groomed business woman.

ITALIAN ATTACKS ON THE POPE GROW; PLOT IS CHARGED

ROME, July 7.—(AP)—A noticeable tendency on the part of Vatican City to smooth over the ill feelings created by the pope's recent encyclical met today with increased bitterness on the part of the Italian press.

A government spokesman indicated that the Italian reply to the latest papal note would not be forthcoming for a considerable time and that it would be anything but friendly.

Lavoro Fascista, Fascist paper, today published details of an alleged plot by Don Sturzo, former head of the Popular party, now in exile; Msgr. Pizzardo, papal undersecretary of state and former leader of Catholic Action; Count Dalla Porri, editor of Osservatore Romano, and Augusto Ciliaci, president of the Catholic Action, to stir up a counter revolution to the Fascist revolution, using Catholic Action as the machinery and economic depression as the lever for it.

Asks Citizenship; Boasts of "Home Brew in Cellar"

TORONTO, Ont., July 7.—(AP)—Yves Le Cam, Chinese laborer, applied for citizenship today. The judge asked him what qualifications he possessed. "House of my own, wife and family, and home brew in the cellar," said Le Cam, proudly.

JUDGE GRANTS PLEA IN MOVE TO FREE YARROW

Superior Judge Frank Hayes yesterday approved a bill of exceptions presented by Attorney Reuben Freedman in behalf of the Rev. Philip Yarrow, superintendent of the Illinois vigilance committee, who is now in the county jail for failure to pay a $5,000 judgment. Attorney Freedman announced he will appear before the Appellate court to obtain Yarrow's release on a writ of supersedas.

Yarrow yesterday completed his tenth day in jail for failure to pay the judgment to Walter Shaver, a book seller, whom he caused to be arrested for selling a copy of "A Night in a Moorish Harem" on the ground that it was an obscene book. On his discharge in the Municipal court Shaver, through Attorney Cameron Latter, brought a suit for malicious prosecution. A jury returned a verdict in Shaver's favor on March 27. When Yarrow failed to meet the judgment a malice count enabled Shaver to keep him in jail by paying $3.50 a week.

URGE WATERWAY FROM LAKES TO SEA VIA HUDSON

Called Better than Route Through St. Lawrence.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Albany, N. Y., July 7.—A plea to congress to begin as soon as possible the construction of the proposed all-American waterways from the great lakes to the Atlantic seaboard by way of the Mohawk valley and the Hudson as a means to relieve unemployment, was made here today at the convention of the Great Lakes-Hudson Waterways association.

The proposed St. Lawrence ship canal was attacked without rebuttal from all sides by such speakers as Senator Royal S. Copeland [Dem., N. Y.], Representative Hamilton Fish [Rep., N. Y.], and Edward C. Carrigan, New York shipping man. M. F. Bowen of Buffalo offered a new canal plan to the three hundred delegates. His proposal provided for a $50,000,000 canal from Buffalo to Lake Ontario to a point east of Oswego where two branches will be built—one to Albany and the other via the St. Lawrence river. Mr. Bowen proposed to build the canal by sale of shares to 3,000,000 stockholders.

For Barge Canal Only.

Senator Copeland told the waterway men of an exchange of correspondence with Senator Thomas J. Walsh of Montana, and Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg of Michigan, chief advocate of the St. Lawrence route. He quoted Senator Vandenberg as writing:

"As you know I did not favor the present federalization of the Erie. My view is unchanged. But congress has spoken. It would be unthinkable that this great, historical waterway should be abandoned or neglected. I have no hostility whatever to the fullest possible barge prosperity for the Erie system. I shall complain only if your Erie enthusiasts renew their spasmodic efforts to read into the Erie federalization a prospectus for an Erie deep sea way which congress specifically does not intend."

Senator Walsh's letter, read by Senator Copeland, also emphasized that the "canal was to be maintained as a barge canal as distinguished from a waterway for seagoing vessels."

Mr. Fish, wearing a scarlet necktie and primed with the latest information regarding the communist threat, declared there no longer was any reason for the St. Lawrence waterway—and that it was nothing more than a "fantastic myth."

Not Needed as Grain Outlet.

"The only reason the St. Lawrence route was ever considered," he said, "was because the wheat farmers of the middle west wanted it for an outlet for their surplus product. The Russian wheat situation now makes the building of a ship canal through Canada a fantastic myth.

"The original idea was to get the wheat to the European markets and reduce the transportation cost of grain from 5 cents to 10 cents a bushel. The production of a vast exportable surplus of wheat in soviet Russia, by means of forced labor paid on the basis of 20 cents gold per day and through the use of American tractors and other agricultural implements supplied by our short sighted capitalists, who, as Lenin once said, would commit suicide for the sake of temporary profits, has knocked the bottom out of the export of American wheat.

"So, the main reason for the St. Lawrence route no longer exists so far as the western farmer is concerned. They have lost their foreign customers. The people along the eastern seaboard are the ones who will buy their surplus products. Let them send us their wheat by way of the New York barge canal. The eastern market already takes 60 per cent of the product of the west."

Two Way Traffic Route.

Senator Copeland discussed the advantages of the All-American route.

"It cannot be denied," said Senator Copeland, "a feeling of hostility has developed in our state to the transfer of the canals to the federal government. There is a definite fear that our great waterway is sure to suffer and decline in use if it is federalized.

"If the proposed canal were to be used exclusively for the exportation of wheat," said the senator, "I should frankly admit that the St. Lawrence route is superior to the All-American. If there could be any profitable operation of a one way service between the great lakes and Liverpool, the St. Lawrence would hold first place. Unfortunately for the advocates of the St. Lawrence route, water traffic cannot succeed on a one way basis.

Wheat Exportation Doomed.

"Within a short time the United States will disappear as a wheat exporter. Britain will prefer to import Canadian wheat, and the Liverpool market will be lost to us. There is no hope, as I see it, that the digging of a canal will help the American farmer to dispose of his wheat abroad."

The senator also discussed the advantages of a canal "paralleling existing rail lines as the waterway would be closed during extreme cold weather."

FUCHS TELLS HIS SIDE OF BROKEN ROMANCE IN $500,000 SUIT

Los Angeles, Cal., July 7.—[Special.]—It was during three days after her arrival here in February, 1930, during which she was introduced as "Mrs. Albert Fuchs," that Fuchs, 66 year old wealthy Chicago widower, became convinced that marriage with Martha Marie Gullickson of Chicago would be a mistake.

Fuchs told his side of his wooing and its disputed close to a jury before Superior Judge Emmet Wilson shortly after Miss Gullickson closed her testimony in support of her suit for $500,000 damages.

"She didn't like my birds," said Fuchs, whose back yard in Santa Monica houses dozens of tiers of cages, in which finches, canaries, love birds, doves, and parrakeets flutter about.

Fuchs said she became dissatisfied when he proposed to bequeath her his Santa Monica home and $500 a month.

Miss Gullickson tearfully told the jurors that after she had been at Fuchs' home several days he proposed a "common law marriage," and when she refused told her to see his attorney.

REVEAL HEROISM OF 6 TRAPPED ON BOTTOM OF SEA

5 Escape from Submarine —Sixth Perishes.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 7.—The heroism of a handful of sailors who escaped in the recent sinking of the British submarine Poseidon off Weihaiwei, China, was described in the house of commons today by A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty.

He told how the men had kept cool in the face of death while working for hours in a small chamber in the fore part of the ship while the water mounted slowly, finally reaching their necks before they escaped.

When the submarine was rammed by a Japanese steamer, six men, headed by Petty Officer Willis, torpedo gunner's mate, found themselves in a small chamber. Willis ordered the watertight doors shut, imprisoning himself and his men, thinking this might save the ship.

Leader Says Prayers.

The ship sank while the men were shutting the doors. Then, working in the darkness, except for an occasional flare of an electric torch, the men deliberately began planning their escape in the face of death from shortage of oxygen.

Willis first said prayers. Then he ordered the men to don their escape apparatus, making sure that they knew how to use it. He then ordered the compartment to be gradually flooded in order to equalize the air pressure inside and outside of the ship.

While this was being done Willis tried to keep the men cheerful, not forgetting a Chinese boy, who was instructed how to use the apparatus by Seaman Nagle. When one man frantically told Willis that the escape apparatus was faulty, Willis convinced him that it was O. K. and none of them had anything to fear. This reassurance maintained the coolness of the party.

One Dies After Reaching Top.

After more than two hours in water knee high, Willis ordered one man to try to shoot up to the surface, but he was not successful because the pressure was not equalized yet. They were forced to remain in the ship some time longer. When the water got higher, Seamen Lovock and Holt left the hatch and shot to the surface. The former died soon after he had reached the surface, and Holt, though exhausted, held him until he was picked up.

The pressure closed the hatch after these two had left. An hour later, when the water was neck high, another attempt was made which was successful, and the four others shot to the surface.

Confesses Killing Two in Quarrel Over Card Game

James Palumbo, 24 years old, eagerly confessed last night to a double murder he committed two years ago, asserting that he was relieved to unburden his conscience. Palumbo was arrested by New York state troopers in Canton, N. Y., and brought back to Chicago by Sergt. Peter Hepp. He said that he shot and killed Louis and Ernest De Luca, brothers, 17 and 19 years old, in a quarrel over a card game in January, 1929.

Flyer's Mother, Wife See Him Die in Glider Crash

Leroy, N. Y., July 7.—(AP)—B. C. Leuschner, 26, of Rochester, was killed tonight near the airport here when his glider crashed. The accident was seen by his mother and his wife.

Free Mechanical First Aid

A dead battery, fouled ignition points, or a broken axle are a few of the many mechanical troubles that come unexpectedly. Car trouble may find you far from a garage: it may come as you start out in the morning, or it may come late at night, but always it is unwelcome.

One hundred thousand motorists have protected themselves and their families in just such emergencies by means of membership in the Chicago Motor Club. When they are in need of help they call the club.

You are as close to help as the nearest telephone. The service is available at any hour of the day or night.

In addition to mechanical first aid and towing service, the club provides members with such services as these: Travel service, bail bond, accident prevention work, home district service and insurance.

Sixty-two branches: 33 downstate, 29 in Cook county. There is a branch in your neighborhood.

SPECIAL SHOWING
De Luxe Bodies

Town Sedan De Luxe Sedan
Convertible Sedan
De Luxe Tudor Victoria Cabriolet

IN THE showrooms of Ford dealers you can now see the most striking array of fine car types ever offered at such low prices. These are the six newest de luxe creations of the Ford Motor Company. They are designed and built to meet every need of the automobile buyer whose desire for motoring luxury and outstanding performance is tempered with sound economy.

Go and examine these fine cars. Compare their lithe, clean-cut style with any you have ever created in your own imagination. Look inside each car—at the de luxe materials with which it is trimmed and upholstered, and how carefully these are tailored. Sit and ride in the wide, restful seats and you will realize that just as no restrictions have been put on quality so no limits have been placed on comfort and beauty.

There is much to show the careful buyer—a choice of sparkling colors, a variety of rich upholstery materials, Rustless Steel, safety glass, Houdaille double-acting shock absorbers, one-piece welded steel wheels, slanting windshields, and many other mechanical features which make the Ford a happy investment.

BETTER CLOTHES, REDUCED PRICES CHEER WOMEN

Survey Reveals Savings for Shoppers.

In the State street mart, buyers' offices continue to exhibit stretching methods that would do credit to the India rubber man in a circus. Merchants, however, warn of a possible quick snap back to higher prices as fall goods on their shelves. In the latest investigation yesterday reveals, shoppers in the department stores are reaping the benefit of better quality for less money than at any time in a couple of decades.

Better Quality for Less.

Eight articles of wearing apparel are listed, on which comparisons were made between the 1931 and the 1930 prices, showing reductions of as much as 50 per cent and in some instances even where the same grade of merchandise. The lower prices frequently were declared to represent a greater bargain than the figures reveal because of the better material used in the manufacture of several lines.

Checking at three stores resulted in the following table of comparative prices for the two years:

By one of the foibles of fashion, the price of gloves remains higher than might be expected because of the newer mode of longer and fuller styles recently introduced. Another factor is the price of labor. Imported skins have come down in price, but the labor market has not kept pace, and therefore the reduction is less by the item. For these reasons there is little difference to be noted in the expenditures for kid gloves.

Hosiery Prices Much Lower.

Hosiery, on the other hand, has experienced a marked decline in price because of two major influences. One is the situation in the silk market, where prices have been low for some time. The other is the fact that silk hose a few years ago had become such a profitable line that the desire of every storekeeper to garner some of the gains resulted in competition that automatically beat down the prices.

Two Killed by Lightning While at Work in Hay Field

Lebanon, Ind., July 7.—(AP)—Two men were killed by lightning today while working in a hay field. They were Charles Copeland, 57, and Dallas Evans, 58.

EARLY CLEANUP OF DES PLAINES RIVER PROMISED

The way cleared by an enabling act passed by the last legislature, action toward abating nuisances existing in the Des Plaines river between North avenue and Lyons will be begun soon by the sanitary district.

Edward J. Kelly, chief engineer, said yesterday that the work will relieve a condition which has existed for some time, in that stagnant pools have formed at various points along the sluggish Des Plaines, causing stenches.

The engineers plan to dredge a ditch along the center of the stream, so that a constant flow will carry off the wastes and eliminate the stagnate conditions.

LOS ANGELES TO SIFT MUNICIPAL OWNED PLANTS

Los Angeles, Cal., July 7.—[Special.]—The Los Angeles city council today voted unanimously to conduct an investigation of the city's water and power department, operators of the city's Owens Valley aqueduct, of the city's electric power system of some thirty odd domestic water, irrigation and water power dams and engineering works, and of millions of dollars of other municipal ownership enterprises.

The battle in the council, which in early stages was combated by one faction lined up with Mayor John C. Porter, grew out of political charges circulated against three of the city's present water and power commissioners. A committee of five councilmen has been appointed to conduct the inquiry.

Sailings June to September

CRUISE to the heart of Old French-Canada. We take you by rail to Toronto, Queen City of Canada, where your foreign adventure begins. You set sail on a luxurious steamer, one of the world's largest fresh water fleet. You will visit, en route, Montreal—the metropolis, and the fortress city of Quebec, Gibraltar of North America.

You will cruise among the Thousand Islands—set like a thousand jewels in azure blue waters, experience the thrills of shooting the great St. Lawrence Rapids. Near Quebec you will pay your respects at the miracle shrine of Ste. Anne de Beaupre and hear the thunder of Montmorency Falls, higher than Niagara.

Beyond Quebec the high Laurentians follow the St. Lawrence and you cruise in the shadow of these ancient mountains. The steamer puts in at fashionable Murray Bay, and quaint and lovely Tadoussac, Canada's oldest settlement. The glory of the Saguenay River, seen at sunset and again at dawn, is a spectacle to impress the most widely travelled. The wild grandeur of Trinity Bay, guarded by the tremendous caps, Trinity and Eternity—the ship's siren reverberating like giant lunghorn among the eternal hills—gives you a touch of the loneliness, sanctity and beauty of the silent places.

A spirit of gaiety prevails for the entire journey, and there is not a dull moment on ship or shore. You dance every evening to the music of a lively orchestra. Delicious meals satisfy ravenous appetites. You will vote this the best vacation ever.

Remember, every expense on this enjoyable cruise has been foreseen and included in the figure quoted above, as well as stop-overs at important hotels en route. A courteous escort relieves you of every travel worry.

a Martyr, Says Cancer "Expert."

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Clinton, Ia., July 7.—[Special.]—The federal government has started action against Lester Tilton, self-styled cancer doctor who was recently arrested on a Illinois warrant, charging him with practicing medicine without a license in Chicago and who won release under $1,000 bail.

For the last 24 hours, it transpired today, a Chicago agent of the pure food and drugs administration of the department of agriculture has been in Clinton gathering evidence on which the government hopes to send Tilton to prison for misusing the mails and violating commerce regulations. Tilton is a resident of Clinton and has a laboratory here in which he compounds his so-called cancer specific from ingredients taken from a peat bed on his farm at Fulton, Ill. The Chicago agent, John Sullivan, is said to have evidence developed principally by C. E. Monahan, investigator for the Illinois department of registration and education. Monahan accompanied the federal agent here.

Trace Chicago Shipment.

Sullivan's principal task, it was said, was to establish interstate shipment of a consignment of 1,800 bottles of Tilton's cancer specific received early last spring at the Felician convent, 1300 Peterson road, Chicago, where Tilton had been conducting a clinic.

Ecclesiastical authorities barred Tilton from the convent and federal agents last week seized the medicine left there. But proof of an interstate shipment is essential to permit the federal authorities to take jurisdiction. That proof was forthcoming a few hours after Sullivan's arrival here when he and Monahan found a young truck driver, Henry Bronenkant, who admitted having delivered the consignment to the Felician convent last February.

"I made two or three trips to Chicago and one to Detroit for Tilton," the truckster admitted. "On the haul to the convent Tilton drove ahead in his car to show the way and my ma rode with me. Ma had a cough and when we reached the convent the sisters offered some of the medicine, but she turned it down."

Find Mail Evidence.

Having secured affidavits from Bronenkant and his mother, the agents called on postmaster L. H. Roberts. Only that morning the postmaster recalled Tilton had mailed a bottle of the medicine, C. O. D. $12, to a Chicago customer. This being just the evidence the agents were asking, they secured the Chicago customer's address and notified Chicago postoffice inspectors to confiscate the medicine upon its delivery there.

All that remains to perfect the case against Tilton, according to the agents, is a declaration by the medical advisory council of the Food and Drug administration in Washington that Tilton's medicine lacks some of the therapeutic properties claimed for it. Both Northwestern university clinic and a medical committee appointed by Gradual Mundelein have already declared the Tilton nostrums worthless, a similar opinion is anticipated from the Washington medical board.

There's a Tax Angle.

Moreover Tilton's income from the sale of his medicine, an income reputed to be $50,000 yearly, is under scrutiny of Robt. E. Neely of Chicago, acting collector of internal revenue for northern Illinois, and Lars Blandin of Dubuque, collector for eastern Iowa.

Monahan is said to have given the tax collectors copies of the Felician convent records showing profits of $5,000 accruing to Tilton from five months' sales of the medicine. With these new troubles confronting him, Tilton, who had previously weathered several Iowa grand jury investigations, professed himself undismayed. All he wants is his day in court, the nurse "expert" indicated.

A tall, portly man in his middle fifties, Tilton was found sitting in a swing in a garden behind his rambling old house on a shady street. He has the appearance of a typical family doctor.

Persecution, He Says.

"The American Medical association is behind this. I've known that all along," he said, without rancor. "I've devoted more than twenty years and thousands of dollars perfecting this cure, and this is my reward. Spies peeping in my windows, investigators seizing me at pistol point and throwing me in a Chicago jail.

"They held me 25 hours without opportunity to notify my friends. Meanwhile my wife was frantic with fear that I had been kidnapped. Why this treatment? I have never been convicted of a crime and have tried only to do good."

Other Side of Picture.

Records of the Clinton county grand jury tell another story. They cite the case of Miss Margaret Mumma, who had a mole on her back. Tilton, according to her testimony, told her she had a malady of the mammary glands and warned her she would lost her memory unless he took the case. He applied a salve which burned a hole in her flesh, causing intense suffering, according to her testimony. Other expatients of his swore that Tilton promised speedy cures for their various ailments, such as tuberculosis, appendicitis, blood poisoning, syphilis, tonsilitis.

In one case a licensed practitioner swore Tilton was applying the salve to a man stricken with apoplexy when the physician arrived in time to pronounce the patient dead. No indictment was returned, however. Tilton was represented by Attorney L. F. Sutton, whose son, Merritt Sutton, was then county attorney.

RALPH MODJESKI WEDS DIVORCEE FOLLOWING HIS DIVORCE AT RENO

Reno, Nev., July 7.—[Special.]—Ralph Modjeski, noted bridge builder of Chicago, and Mrs. Mary T. Gibiyn of Hollywood and New York were married here today by Judge Thomas F. Moran. The same jurist had granted both the bride and bridegroom divorces from their former mates on Monday.

In obtaining a marriage license the couple stated that each was "over 21." Mr. Modjeski, however, is 70 years old. He was married forty-six years ago to Mrs. Felice Modjeska, from whom he obtained the divorce that preceded his wedding of today.

The ceremony was read in the home of Mr. and Mrs. True Vencel. Only a few friends of the bride attended, including Mrs. Art Smith, Mrs. William C. Conigal, and Mrs. Vencel.

Following a short honeymoon, which will be spent at Lake Tahoe, Mr. and Mrs. Modjeski will go to California and later to Chicago and New York. For nearly forty years Mr. Modjeski has been a consulting engineer on bridge problems.

MOBS OF CHINESE SEEK REVENGE; ATTACK COREANS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TOKIO, July 7.—Coreans residing on the Chinese border tonight are packing their belongings in preparation for flight as rumors of Chinese retaliation against mob attacks on Chinese in Corea are spreading.

The first Chinese counter attack to avenge the slaying of 32 and the wounding of hundreds of their countrymen at Pingyang and Chemulpo on Sunday and yesterday was reported today from Antung, Manchuria, where a crowd of Chinese charged a party of Coreans, injuring 25. The Japanese consul at Harbin reports that a band of Chinese destroyed a Corean irrigation works near there this morning, ruining acres of rice fields.

China Lodges Protest.

Meanwhile the Chinese government tonight lodged a strong note of protest at Tokio. The note deplored the alleged inability of the Japanese government to cope with the situation in Corea.

Japanese troops were hastened today to various points in Corea, where riots are still raging and anti-Chinese feeling is running at a high pitch. At Heijo Japanese police fired on a mob of 200 Coreans who were attacking the police station where more than 200 Chinese had sought refuge. Several Coreans were wounded.

At Pingyang, where most of the Chinese casualties occurred over the week-end, 50 Japanese officers and men patrolled the streets today, resorting to arms to subdue rioters. Several groups of Coreans were arrested. All carried deadly weapons.

Chinese at Gishi are reported in a state of terror. A Corean mob, estimated at 10,000, has assembled and is ready to start rioting.

4,000 Chinese Flee.

At Chemulpo, another storm center, a boatload of 1,000 Chinese refugees embarked for China today to escape further outbreaks. At Seoul 3,000 Chinese are reported to have fled to the border, and 400 Corean agitators were arrested by Japanese police.

Tons of swords, pistols and crude iron and wooden clubs have been captured from the attackers.

Throughout Corea Japanese troops are surrounding army warehouses and ammunition stores to prevent the Coreans from raiding them for supplies, although no movement against the Japanese has been reported thus far.

Japan to Compensate Victims.

At a meeting of the Japanese cabinet this morning it was decided that while the Japanese government is not responsible for the depredations of the rioters, all Chinese victims of the Corean attack will be compensated. Estimates of damages to Chinese homes, shops, laundries and other business enterprises which have been destroyed by the Coreans run into thousands of dollars, although the exact amount may not be known for some time.

CUBANS PROTEST EXECUTION OF 8 NEGRO RAPISTS

[Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.]

HAVANA, July 7.—A protest against the execution of eight Negroes at Scottsboro, Ala., condemned to die on Friday for rape, will be made to the United States consul at Santiago, according to a resolution adopted today by the Tobacco Workers' Union of Santiago. The resolution reads:

"We protest against the proposed electrocution of eight young Negroes at Scottsboro by United States imperialistic murderers and regard this massacre as an instance of Yankee capitalistic oppression of Negroes of the United States. We protest this proposed mass murder. We pledge ourselves to combat race discrimination and fight for equal rights for Negroes. We demand punishment for the lynchers."

CHILD HIT BY STREET CAR.

Anthony Bush, 2 years old, 876 North Wells street, was knocked down by a North avenue street car at North Park avenue last night and carried 100 feet. The child was only slightly bruised.

...switch to Camels

GIVE Camels the hardest test you can think of—take them along on your vacation—into the desert, on the boat, in the woods, to the beach.

Then you'll see why the switch to Camels in the new Humidor Pack is nation-wide.

This scientific wrapping of germ-safe moisture-proof Cellophane seals in all the natural factory-fresh aroma—seals it in so tightly that wet weather cannot make Camels damp, nor drought weather make them dry.

It insures every Camel smoker at work or at play the joy of expertly blended fine Turkish and mild Domestic tobaccos kept always in prime smoking condition, throat-friendly, mellow and cool.

A special vacuum-cleaning process frees Camel cigarettes from the sting of peppery dust; the Humidor Pack guards them against being dried-out or soggy whether in sunshine or rain.

As a favor to your throat try Camels—join the throng and switch over for just one day—then quit them, if you can.

CRIPPLED CHIEF OF SCOUTS WILL BE BURIED TODAY

Funeral services for Ernest Stone Jr., a scoutmaster who conducted his Boy Scout teachings from a wheel chair, will be held this afternoon at his home at 6437 University avenue. He died on Monday at the age of 32 years after a short illness.

The Hyde Park post of the American Legion will give the young man a military funeral in recognition of his contribution to scouting. The Rev. N. B. Clinch, past national chaplain of the American Legion, will have charge. Services will be at 2 p. m. and burial will be at Rosehill cemetery. He is survived by his parents.

Young Stone, although confined to a wheel chair for 14 years, won thirty-eight merit badges, those for running and swimming being practically the only ones he did not win. He was in charge of troop No. 565 and only last Friday had attended the meeting.

YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED

SAYS ATTORNEYS GAVE HIM BRIBES FOR FIXING CASES

New York, July 7.—[Special.]—Six feet away from Magistrate Earl E. Smith, who was sitting on the bench in Jefferson Market Women's court, Robert J. Fitzsimmons, an attorney, handed him $50 for having secured a dismissal of a case in which the lawyer was attorney, John C. Weston, former prosecutor in Women's court, testified today in the disbarment proceedings against fifteen lawyers.

Many times Weston told of bribes being passed to him in the courtroom, and he received one $50 fee from William J. McAuliffe, another attorney, he said, while he was in the chambers of former Magistrate Jesse Silbermann. Silbermann was out of the building at the time.

Much of the day was spent with testimony about Mark Alter, dean of the Jefferson Market lawyers, but other lawyers whose cases were taken up were Philip Russo, Joseph Aronstein and Fitzsimmon. In each case the witness told nearly identical stories; the attorneys had represented women, the women had been acquitted and the lawyers had voluntarily given $25 a case to Weston. Referee Clarence J. Shean presided at the trial.

The disbarment proceedings grew out of disclosures made in the recent inquiry conducted by Referee Samuel Seabury into the so-called "magistrates racket."

7 Gunmen Lock Up Four but Fail to Break Safe

Seven gunmen entered the garage of the Willet Teaming company, 750 Tilden street, early yesterday morning, imprisoned four employés, and worked vainly for four hours in an effort to open the safe. After using an acetylene torch and chisels without success, they stole an automobile in the garage and drove away. The four employés imprisoned were William Weise, 1605 Winona avenue; Charles Reese, 123 Willard court; Ross Anderson, 3327 Maypole avenue, and James Devine, 2344 Clifton avenue.

Police Destroy Brewery, Seize 2 on Goose Island

Nine state's attorney's policemen, under Sergeant Michael Ahern, early yesterday destroyed a brewery of 2,000 gallons capacity, located in a two story frame building at 1155 Cherry street, on Goose island. Two men, found hiding behind vats, were seized. They are Joseph Raymond, 1147 Cherry street, and George Hempel, 1148 Sedgwick street.

Deaths of a Day

ST. CHARLES, Mo.—(AP)—George Eugene Sly, 60, Asheville, N. C., former vice president of the United Publishing company, New York, died in St. Joseph's hospital from a stroke of apoplexy. He was en route to the Missouri Ozarks for a vacation when stricken.

FREEPORT, Ill.—(AP)—Jacob F. Holsinger, 66, chairman of the board of trustees of Mount Morris college, died suddenly of a heart attack.

BEND, Ore.—(AP)—Michael J. Mueller of Hayward, Wis., professor of painting at University of Oregon, died in a hospital.

BLACK LEAVES PART OF 5 MILLION ESTATE FOR CHICAGO CHARITY

New York, July 7.—(AP)—Harry S. Black, president of the United States Realty and Improvement corporation, who shot himself July 19, 1930, left a net estate of $5,240,511, a transfer tax appraisal filed today disclosed.

New York and Chicago charitable organizations will receive the bulk of the estate if the residuary legatees, Mr. Black's widow and his nephew, die leaving no issue.

The charities are to be such as "contribute to the relief of unfortunate men, women and children who are sick or physically disabled."

The fund is to be known as "the Harry S. Black and Allon Fuller fund." Mr. Black in his will suggested that the trustees, in selecting the charities, consult with the president of Columbia university and the University of Chicago.

He also suggested that about 40 per cent of the income of the fund go to the Chicago charities, the balance to organizations here.

'Rimfire' Hamrick, 63, Goes to Hospital for First Time

Clarksburg, W. Va., July 7.—(AP)—Eli "Rimfire" Hamrick, once chosen as West Virginia's typical mountaineer, suspects the march of progress is making even him a little effete. For the first time in his 63 years in the hills, he is in a hospital.

"Rimfire," who hails from Turkey Knob, in Webster county, was brought in with a broken leg. A thing like that did not matter once.

"Once I chopped an artery in my leg with an axe. After washing and dressing the wound I sewed it up myself. I had to, for the nearest doctor was 20 miles away."

Marie G. Harty Funeral Services Will Be Today

Funeral services for Miss Marie G. Harty, 40 years old, for 20 years an employé of the Santa Fé railroad, will be held this morning at 9:30 from the residence, 7341 Yates avenue, to St. Bride's church, 78th street and Coles avenue. Burial will be in Mount Carmel cemetery. Miss Harty died on Sunday night in the St. Bernard hospital following an operation.

JOHN GRIFFIN, 79, LEGISLATOR 10 TERMS, IS DEAD

John Griffin, a member of the state legislature for ten terms, died yesterday in his home, 2020 Indiana avenue, following a long illness of pneumonia. He was 79 years old and a Democrat.

Mr. Griffin was born on the site now occupied by the old wholesale house of Marshall Field & Co. He was educated in the public schools. He was a constable for eight years and a police court bailiff for thirteen years. In 1908 he was elected to the house of representatives and was reelected nine times thereafter.

MRS. GEORGIANNA HALL, WIDOW OF GENERAL, DEAD

Mrs. Georgianna K. Hall, widow of Brig. Gen. Robert H. Hall, died on Monday in her home in Pittsfield, Mass., friends in Chicago were informed yesterday. She lived in or near Chicago for many years while her husband was commandant at Fort Sheridan just before the Spanish-American war. Later, following his retirement in 1901, they lived at Chicago Heights. Gen. Hall died in 1914. Robert Foote Hall, 11 Scott street, a broker, is a son. Mrs. Hall will be buried beside her husband at West Point, N. Y.

Doctor's Will Cancels All Unpaid Bills Due Him

Worcester, Mass., July 7.—(AP)—The will of Dr. William L. Johnson of Bridge, filed today, directs that all his account books be burned, so that no bills will be outstanding against his patients.

Camille Le Senne, French Dramatic Critic, Is Dead

PARIS, July 7.—(AP)—Camille le Senne, dramatic critic and playwright, died today at the age of 80.

Springfield, Ill., July 7.—(AP)—Harry Friend of Decatur was sentenced late yesterday by Judge Louis Fitz Henry in federal District court here to serve three years in the federal reformatory at Chillicothe, O. Friend was found guilty of violating the Mann act. Dorothy O'Malley of Webster Grove, Mo., was the prosecuting witness.

JOHN B. WALKER, AN ALL AROUND GO-GETTER, DIES

Fighter, Writer, Business Man and Farmer.

New York, July 7.—(AP)—John Brisben Walker, whose avid life led him over many trails, from soldiering in China to pioneering in the new west, died today at his Brooklyn home. He was 84.

His activities at the height of his career a score of years ago included control of steam automobile patents, editorship of Cosmopolitan magazine, rancher, educational lecturer, road builder, humanitarian, politician and farmer.

Walker was born in the Monongahela River valley in Pennsylvania. Educated at Georgetown college, Washington and West Point, he went to the orient and for two years served in the Chinese army. In 1870 he again set foot upon American soil. He went into the iron manufacturing business in the Kanawha valley, West Virginia. Three years later, when he thought he had won a fortune of $500,000, the great panic left him penniless.

Turns to Journalism.

Walker then turned to journalism. His first efforts were for the Cincinnati Commercial-Gazette, a series of articles on business topics. He later was managing editor of the Pittsburgh Telegraph and the editor of the Washington Daily Chronicle.

He introduced alfalfa on a 1,600 acre farm near Denver as his initial venture in farming. For tracts in the Platte river valley, which he devised a means of reclaiming, railroads paid him a reputed profit of $900,000 on a $100,000 investment.

He paid $360,000 for Cosmopolitan magazine, then in need of new blood, and quickly jumped its circulation from 16,000 to 151,000, with William Dean Howells as his literary adviser. He later sold it to William Randolph Hearst.

Enters Auto Field.

He was the first president of the Automobile Manufacturers' association, and the organizer of a company to construct cheap motor highways, whose operations had an effect on the growth of the motor industry.

During the world war, as chairman of the national convention of Friends of Peace and Justice at Chicago, he headed an organization of German-American societies. In 1915, speaking in Cooper union, New York, he accused President Woodrow Wilson of being insincere and unneutral.

CONSTIPATION BRINGS MANY ILLS

Do you know that constipation often brings despondency? Poisons spread through the system. You lack pep. Headaches become frequent. No wonder you have the "blues."

Yet constipation can be overcome by having sufficient roughage in your diet. A pleasant way to obtain this roughage is through eating Kellogg's ALL-BRAN.

You will enjoy this delicious cereal. And how much better for you than taking habit-forming laxatives.

Two tablespoonfuls of ALL-BRAN, eaten daily, will relieve and prevent both temporary and recurring constipation.

ALL-BRAN also contains needed iron to build up the blood. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in Battle Creek.

Former Exile Tells Story of Coldest Siberia

There He Was Sent to Reconsider His Politics.

BY EDITH WEIGLE.

In the old pre-soviet days in Russia, when the czar sent political agitators into exile, Siberia was a word with a terrible connotation. It meant banishment from all the comforts of life; it meant frightful privation; it meant complete isolation from the civilized world; it meant cold, snow, suffering, and spiritual starvation. "Exiled to Siberia" were words evoked only a shade less than the death sentence.

In "The Road to Oblivion," by Vladimir Zenzinov, edited by Isaac Don Levine [McBride], a close-up of the tragic country is given by one who was condemned to spend four years of his life there. A few facts about the author will show that the book is well worth reading.

Zenzinov was born in Moscow in 1881. He was educated at the Berlin, Heidelberg and Halle universities and, returning to Moscow in 1904, took an active part in the struggle for political freedom. He was arrested in 1905 and exiled to Siberia for five years, but escaped and came back to continue the struggle against the czar. In 1906 he was arrested again and once more exiled. For two years he lived in Finland in Paris, but finally returned to Russia and worked again in the social-revolutionary party.

In May, 1910, Zenzinov was seized by the authorities and this time he was exiled to the most remote possible spot in northwest Siberia, from which it would be impossible to escape. During the two centuries of the existence of the exile system no one had ever been sent to Russkoye Ustye, which was a tiny, isolated community even beyond Verhoyansk; known as "the pole of cold" because of its eternal ice and snow. At Verhoyansk the temperature went to 95.4 degrees Fahrenheit below zero.

During several months of waiting in prison this educated Russian gathered together equipment for his long sojourn. He gave careful attention to his library, which, of course, must be extremely limited. What books would you choose, if you were sent to the Arctic circle to live for four years?

His list included the Bible, "Basic Geology" [by the great Russian scientist, Mendeleef], books on geology, astronomy, meteorology, and history, a many volumed history of Russia, the works of Plato, Kant, and Bergson, a book on ornithology by Brehm, and a medical textbook. The Russian alphabet was also taken, so that this exile could teach those of his fellows children to read.

"The Road to Oblivion" is the day by day and week by week account of Zenzinov's stay in Siberia. But minus the description of his long journey to Allaikha, on the Indigirka river, reached after six weeks of continuous travel by reindeer. One hundred miles farther in the frigid zone lies Russkoye Ustye, and this he had to be undertaken with no horses, as reindeer tired too easily in the awful cold.

Even in the summer season, when the sun shone brilliantly far into the night, and the snow melted during the day, one had only to dig six inches below the surface of the ground to reach a temperature of ice. There were only six homesteads in Russkoye Ustye, and these were occupied by Yakuts, people of Turco-Tartar origin, extremely primitive in their ways.

Zenzinov "rented" a house from a native resident for twenty rubles. It consisted of a single room about six feet in length and width. It had four windows, the panes of which were eight inches of ice. He had a little iron stove, two tables, and an oil lamp, besides his bunk and chairs.

There was no mail service. There were no relations with the outside world. The natives lived on fish, either boiled or frozen, and eaten raw, and on the putrefied meat of geese which they caught by the thousands during July and August, making a special hunting trip to the Arctic ocean to catch them in huge nets.

"Clad in a coarse woolen shirt, barefoot and with no covering on his head, Henry IV walked through the snow to the castle gate and implored to be admitted. Pope Hildebrand, hard as rock and cold as snow, kept the king shivering outside the gate for three whole days before he at last relented."

Canada Film Leader Denies Trust Charges

Says Dominion Benefits from Industry.

Toronto, Canada, July 7.—(AP)—Lieut. Col. John A. Cooper is president of the organization known as "the Motion Picture Distributors and Exhibitors of Canada," which was mentioned by Peter White, in his report of an investigation as royal commissioner into the motion picture industry. In a statement today Col. Cooper said:

"All positive film shown in Canadian theaters is made in Canada and printed in Canada. No mention is made that about 94 cents out of every dollar taken in at the theater box office is spent in Canada, a much higher percentage than obtains in the motor car industry."

In reply to suggestions that his organization enjoys intimate relations with a similar body in New York, of which Will H. Hays is president, Lieut. Col. Cooper said: "Quite true, most trade associations in Canada have similar relations with corresponding trade organizations in the United States."

The Canadian organization also exchanged information with similar bodies in England and Australia, he added.

With regard to charges that the "Cooper organization" lobbied against the enactment of legislation for a British film quota in British Columbia, Lieut. Col. Cooper stated: "There never was a bill on this subject before the British Columbia legislature and therefore there could never have been any lobbying."

A representative of independent theater owners expressed the hope that Mr. White's report would be followed by government regulation and prosecution of an alleged combine in the industry.

"These men have had their life savings invested in the theater business and they will be benefited only by the government taking immediate steps to remedy the situation," said N. A. Taylor, secretary-treasurer of the Exhibitors' Cooperative of Canada, which includes owners of 40 independent theaters in Ontario.

Will Consider Report.

MONTREAL, July 7.—(AP)—The province of Quebec will consider the matter of the alleged illegal combine in the motion picture distributing business as described in the report of the Peter White commission, Premier Taschereau said today.

How Canada May Act.

VICTORIA, B. C., July 7.—(AP)—It was officially indicated here today that the British Columbia government is considering and will probably introduce a quota system by which all theaters in the province will have to show a certain percentage of British pictures.

As soon as the text of the report of Peter White, K. C., special federal investigator, who has found the existence of a motion picture combine in Canada, has been received, R. H. Pooley, attorney general, will consider a further step to meet the situation. He has power to declare that a combine exists and order its dissolution.

It's the Last Call for Sally Letters for Cubs Park Party

BY SALLY JOY BROWN.

Last call for winning letters, boys and girls, if you want to be invited to our party at Wrigley field on Thursday afternoon, July 16. That's the day, you know, when Rogers Hornsby and his Cubs meet Mugsy McGraw's Giants from New York in what promises to be a terrific battle. And since every boy and girl in and around Chicago will want to see it, they had better write me a letter telling me about it and that letter should be in my office tomorrow morning! So, off to your composing, my young friends!

Did you see what the Cubs did to the National league champions in the first game of that double header yesterday? They simply walked away—or should I say "ran—with the game. It would seem that every one made runs—English piled up three to his credit, Cuyler helped along with two, our old friend Hack Wilson, upon whom we can always count, contributed two and there were a couple of tallies by Charlie Grimm.

I'm really getting so excited about this party I can hardly wait until July 16 arrives, and I'm sure you feel much the same way about it. So hurry, hurry, hurry with those letters or you'll miss one of the most exciting parties of the season.

Don't forget that your name, address and age must be included in your letter, and they should be addressed to Sally Joy Brown, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, Chicago.

Movie Gossip from Hollywood

BY GEORGE SHAFFER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., July 7.—[Special.]—Ann Harding got the shock of her life on the Fourth, when as she sat in her Hollywood home, she heard over the radio that she was just entering the ringside at Reno with her husband, Harry Bannister. Later reports coming via the newspapers also had her present.

It's true that friend husband, Bannister, went to Reno with the Hollywood crowd attracted by the fight, but as Ann does not go for prize fighting, she stayed home to rest from her work on "Alias Mrs. Halifax."

In any other home but that of this devoted couple, the incident might have been cause for some leading questions on the part of the wife.

Billie Dove's comeback picture is being made sure fire. Frank Lloyd is directing. He is responsible for some of Billie's biggest silent successes. Tony Gaudio, ace cameraman, is photographing, and Edward Everett Horton, as well as Lois Wilson and Mary Duncan, are in the cast of "The Age for Love."

Billie Bakewell is moaning around town about the grand time he didn't have over the Fourth. Billie had lined up a group of friends for a week-end yachting trip, only to have three of the five call up and regret at the last minute, because of studio calls. Billie was trying hard to get other friends to go, on last minute invitations, when he himself was called for retakes.

Ruth Hiatt, former Mack Sennett leading lady, is back at work again on the old lot. She will play opposite Andy Clyde in his next two reeler. Hollywood hasn't seen Ruth since sound came in.

Clara Kimball Young has been rousing the enthusiasm of local reviewers and critics with the work she did in her "comeback" picture, "Women Go On Forever." They figure her a combined Rambeau, Vera Gordon and Marie Dressler, who shows that she can act like nobody's business, and carry her audience with her.

Marjorie Rambeau is in the midst of difficulties with her studio, M. G. M. and temporarily at least, they have handed her back her contract at her request. There has been a patching up of the sentimental friendship between Miss Rambeau and her erstwhile admirer, H. H. Van Loan, which had ended abruptly some months back. There may be wedding bells before long if one can believe the chirrups and smiles of Marjorie.

Mastodon Hunt Sport of Early Indiana Gentry?

Buried Arrow Head Hints That to Scientists.

Cromwell, Ind., July 7.—[Special.]—An Indian arrowhead unearthed by scientists from the Buffalo Museum of Science while digging on the Fieldheiser farm near here in search of the skeleton of a mastodon may alter the belief held by scientists that mastodons have been extinct for many thousand years. Perhaps as late as 1,000 years ago they were hunted in what now is Indiana.

The arrowhead was uncovered eighteen inches from the surface between a layer of peat and clay. It was between these layers that about two thirds of the mastodon's skeleton was found last winter. The Indian implement was within fifteen feet of where the beast's head was found and to all appearances was imbedded in the clay about the same time as the mastodon's bones. After examination Everett R. Burmaster, curator of anthropology at the Buffalo museum, said the arrowhead undoubtedly had been buried in the ground a long time.

The arrowhead is two and a half inches long and an inch wide. On either side is a small notch used in binding the head to the shaft. In New York state that type of arrow was used in early times by the Algonquins. The arrow head looked as though it were quarried from limestone beds of southern Indiana or the great flint ridges of Licking county, Ohio.

Several times scientists have found bones and implements of man while digging for the bones of mastodons and mammoths. These implements were not close enough to the bones of the ancient animals to say that those animals and men lived at the same time, some scientists say, while others point to the mention of a giant beast in Indian folklore and suggest that refers to the mastodon.

The finding of the arrowhead in connection with charcoal and a buried tree stump uncovered in the same stratum makes it probable Indians were here when the mastodon died and even possible that they killed the animal for food. Indians are known to have inhabited this country from 4,000 to 5,000 years ago.

Dr. John T. Sanford, curator of geology and paleontology at the Buffalo museum, said today the finding of fresh water shells and plant remains similar to, if not identical with, modern species, in the clay surroundings and below the mastodon also indicates the animals lived at a much later date than at first believed. It is possible the beast lived as recently as 1,000 years ago, according to Sanford.

DOCTOR POINTS LIMITS OF PRESENT WAR TO ERADICATE CANCERS

New York, July 7.—(AP)—A too little known use of radium and X-rays which enables some cancer patients to resume work and social enjoyments in comfort while awaiting a delayed death is described in a report by Francis Carter Wood, M. D., to the Radiological Society of North America.

Dr. Wood is director of the Crocker Institute of Cancer Research at Columbia university.

The radiation relieves these persons of most of their suffering, takes them out of the obviously invalid class, and enables them to lead much the same normal lives as persons with weak hearts or other incurable, but non-crippling ailments.

"Some 80 per cent of all persons suffering from cancer are incurable by means of surgery," Dr. Wood says. "A few of those patients may be permanently cured by radiation. More can have their lives prolonged over a considerable period of years by suitable radiation treatment.

"Another group can gain relief from pain, and a certain amount of psychic comfort in that they are being treated, even though there is no evidence that life is greatly prolonged. Too much stress has been hitherto laid on the attempt to produce permanent cures of incurable cancer by heavy radiation. The patient's life is too often rendered miserable by heavy dosage, and in many instances I do not doubt the antemortem existence has been shortened by the attempt to accomplish the impossible.

"Radiologists should pay more attention to this group than formerly, as it is a fruitful field of therapy, and has been too much neglected in the past because of the vain hope of being able to produce a cure by heavy radiation."

John R. Coen Is Elected Exalted Ruler of Elks

Seattle, July 7.—(AP)—John R. Coen, Sterling, Colo., was elected grand exalted ruler of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks at its 67th annual convention today. He will succeed Lawrence H. Rupp, Allentown, Pa. Others elevated to high offices include: Edward J. McCormick, Toledo, O., grand esteemed leading knight; Charles E. Broughton, Sheboygan, Wis., grand esteemed loyal knight; Fred A. Wiecking, Fluffton, Ind., grand esteemed lecturing knight; Daniel R. Nihion, Washington, D. C., grand tiler; Harry T. Patterson, Newbern, N. C., grand inner guard; James I. Hall Inan, Queensborough, N. Y., board of grand trustees.

Mr. Rupp said a need of brotherhood after the civil war inspired the organization of the Elks. He said it was a period when there were "no league of nations, no prohibition, and no Al Capone, but there was a depression that had mortgaged souls."

Weizmann Declares Britain Should Help Jewish Cause More

BASEL, July 7.—(AP)—Dr. Chaim Weizmann, answering his critics in the Zionist congress, today declared Jews "should do nothing to lose the friendly feeling" between themselves and Great Britain.

He expressed a protest against a previous address by Stephen S. Wise in which the British policies in Palestine were criticized, asserting that nevertheless "Dr. Wise was a champion of the British cause in America" and that "his speech is an example of how sympathies and friendship can be squandered."

As for charges that his own policies were pro-British, Dr. Weizmann said: "I have repeatedly given utterance to my deep disappointment and dissatisfaction with the attitude both of the government and of the Palestine administration. No government can afford to tamper with a promise solemnly given, the greater the government, the less it can afford to do so."

His speech, as reported by the Jewish telegraphic agency, outlined the history of Prime Minister MacDonald's letter interpreting the Passfield White paper and asserted that the letter incorporated suggestions made by American Jews in London.

"I do not pretend that the letter has given us everything we want," he said, "it is a compromise which does not block further advancement. What is essential is that the letter be implemented in practice. On this point it is not yet possible to express satisfaction. So far the Palestine government has not done the things which we were entitled to expect as a result of the letter.

"There is no royal road to Palestine. I am not an advocate of the British government, but when one cooperates with another party it must be on a principle of give and take. We should do nothing to lose this friendly feeling."

Dr. Wise of New York today received a written apology from Dr. M. D. Eder, British general Zionist, with whom he had an altercation Friday during discussion at the Zionist congress.

At the conclusion of Dr. Wise's speech, Dr. Eder, in the name of the British delegation, protested against what he called the introduction of British politics into a congress debate.

Dr. Wise, he said, had asserted that under a conservative government the Palestine riots of 1929 would not have occurred. According to the Jewish Telegraphic Agency, Dr. Wise retorted that he had never made such a statement, and then Dr. Eder called him "a liar."

In the meantime the committee on committees read a letter from Col. Frederick Kisch, chairman of the Palestine Zionist executive, announcing that he did not wish to be a candidate for reelection, no matter what the congress' decision might be regarding future policy. Together with his letter, Col. Kisch submitted a memorandum recommending how the work in Palestine should be conducted in the future. The memorandum was turned over to the political commission for consideration.

Exactly a week after the credentials committee had barred the entire Canadian delegation to the congress, the four Canadian members were admitted today with full rights and privileges.

Harry Lashkowitz Elected President of B'nai B'rith

St. Paul, Minn., July 7.—(AP)—Harry Lashkowitz of Fargo, N. D., was elected president of B'nai B'rith District Grand lodge No. 6 today at the closing sessions of the 63d annual convention here.

Other officers elected were Sam Beber of Omaha, Neb., first vice president; Joseph F. Grossman of Chicago, second vice president; Otto G. Felton of Chicago, secretary, and William Bensinger of East St. Louis, Ill., treasurer. Mr. Lashkowitz succeeds William Sultan of Chicago.

The convention voted to raise $45,000 for the B'nai B'rith great scope activities for the coming year. This includes the Hillel foundation and and charitable undertakings such as the National Jewish Consumptive hospital at Denver, Colo., and the Cleveland Orphans' home. The charitable activities of the lodge are nonsectarian.

Gustavus Posner of Chicago was reelected trustee of the orphans' home and Benjamin J. Samuels, also of Chicago, was reelected trustee of the consumptive hospital.

Central Lions Club.

A delegation of 200 members of the Central Lions club will leave Chicago next Monday to attend the annual convention of the International Association of Lions in Toronto, Canada, July 14 to 17, according to an announcement made yesterday at a meeting of the club in the La Salle hotel. The delegates will represent a score of cities in Illinois, including Chicago.

WEDDING FETE FOR PRINCESS ILEANA ON JULY 24, 25, AND 26

BUCHAREST, July 7.—(AP)—The program for the wedding of Princess Ilena to Archduke Anton of Austria, covering the three days, July 24 to 26, was officially announced today.

Ceremonies will affect only the circle of the royal family, but not including former Queen Helen.

"The wedding will be solemnized at Pelesch castle near Sinaia. The following guests have been invited:

The former king and queen of Greece, Grand Duchess Cyril and her daughter, Princess Yjra; the prince and princess of Hohenzollern, the prince of Leiningen, the princesses of Hohenlohe, the infante and infanta of Spain, Princess Maschka, members of the former imperial house of Hapsburg, the count of Guelf, the baron of Halberg, court officials, ministers of state, the presidents of the chamber and senate.

Also invited are former Regent Sarajanu, Marshals Presan and Averscu and others of the high state dignitaries.

The witnesses for Princess Ilena will be King Carol and the prince of Hohenzollern; the bridegroom's witnesses will be his father, former Archduke Leopold Salvator, and the count of Guelf.

July 24 Ilena and Anton will receive congratulations and gifts at the palace of Pelesch. A grand banquet and reception will be held July 25.

The civil marriage ceremony will be performed at the palace July 26 at 10 a. m. by the minister of justice, in the presence of the royal family and the court. An hour later the religious ceremony will be performed in the vestibule of the castle.

At noon King Carol, former Queen Marie and Crown Prince Michael will accompany the couple to Prahova to lay wreaths on the graves of soldiers killed during the world war. This will be followed by a drive through Sinaia.

A wedding breakfast at the castle at 12:30 and after the breakfast the couple will drive by automobile to Queen Marie's castle at Braan, Transylvania, where they will spend a month.

They then will make a tour of the country, visiting all the royal castles, after which they will take up their permanent residence at Munich in the castle of the infanta of Spain, sister of Queen Marie.

Royal Quarrel Still Lively.

'Andrea Chenier' Sung Well at Ravinia; Rethberg One Star

BY EDWARD MOORE.

"Andrea Chenier," on Ravinia's list last night, turned out to be an opera that wears rather well. No one in the supreme heights of optimism would ever call the score a masterpiece of dramatic music, but somehow it manages to fit the simple souled but lurid melodrama of the French revolution that it seeks to illustrate.

It is perhaps the story quite as much as the music that inevitably causes all participants to sing with all the stops out. It is not a tale to be told in half voice. Consequently its proper casting calls for voices that can ring out in all resonance, and as a further consequence those who went to Ravinia last night had the pleasure of hearing Elisabeth Rethberg, Giovanni Martinelli, and Giuseppe Danise in the three principal rôles.

It is a trio to place all dependence upon, and lavishly they justified the confidence. To hear Mr. Martinelli pour out his voice in the improvisation of the first act, or Mr. Danise in his denunciation of the aristocracy, or Mme. Rethberg in her theatrical but undeniably effective scene in the third act was to hear singing of a high order, not forgetting that the final Rethberg-Martinelli duet just as Andrea and Madeline are taken away to the guillotine is the best melody of the whole score and had two brilliant artists to sing it. Also there were a dozen or so of expert assistants in lesser rôles.

Louis XVI's Son Brought to Canada, Woman Says

(From time to time there have been stories that the son of Louis XVI. and his queen was brought to America. That has been the theme of several novels. Thomas Paine risked his life with his revolutionary colleagues of France, to have the royal family exiled to America, and the Girondins had a plan for Citizen Genet to bring them to America when he came as envoy, but both these plans failed. The death of the king and queen was well known, but the fate of the dauphin was a mystery. The duc d'Orleans, mentioned in the story, had been for the revolution, voting for the king's death. The duke later died by the hand of the revolution.)

Clearwater, Fla., July 7.—(AP)—The lost Dauphin of France, son of Louis XVI. and Marie Antoinette, was not a victim of the revolution, according to Mrs. Madeline Buchanan Gill. He escaped, she believes, to Canada and had a son who was reared by John C. Calhoun.

The commonly accepted story is the Dauphin died in prison, but the version of Mrs. Gill, a social leader here, is based on documents of the late Princess de Montglyon of Belgium, whose estate is now in litigation in Tampa.

Mrs. Gill said that after the beheading of Marie Antoinette in 1794, the Countess Cabarras used her wiles on her lover, Barras, a revolutionary leader, to smuggle the youth to Naples. Duc D'Avary interfered and took the Dauphin to a chateau near Paris. From there he subsequently was spirited away by Count Charles Mercy D'Argenteau, an ancestor of the Princess de Montglyon.

Disguised as a girl, the Dauphin was taken to Holland by the count and then to Canada by the wife of the duke of Orleans. The wife of the duke assumed the name of Madame de Rion and the Dauphin was called Henry de Rion.

As Henry de Rion the Dauphin joined the British army, married Margaret Hunter in 1827, and died the following year six months before the birth of his son, James Henry de Rion.

Through Count D'Argenteau, according to Mrs. Gill, Calhoun was informed of the Dauphin's presence in Canada and later became guardian of his son. Meanwhile royalists, loyal to the Bourbons, plotted a restoration, first of the Dauphin and then of the Dauphin's son, but all their plans failed.

So the Dauphin's son grew to manhood with the Calhoun family in South Carolina as James Henry de Rion, married Mary Catherine Wier at Harrisburg, Pa., on Dec. 11, 1851, and died in Winnsboro, S. C., in 1886. Mrs. Gill said historical societies there have records of his civic achievements.

Mrs. Gill concluded her version with the statement that one of his descendants, whom she did not name, is still living in the United States and is now a woman advanced in age who wants to prove that her grandfather, Henry de Rion, really was the lost Dauphin and would have been Louis XVII., king of France, had not the revolution swept the throne away.

Doubts Lost Dauphin Story; Cites Rion Statement.

Columbia, S. C., July 7.—(AP)—The story that the lost dauphin of France, son of Louis XVI., was smuggled to America and had a son who was reared by John C. Calhoun was discounted today by A. S. Salley, secretary of the South Carolina historical commission.

"The story is an old one," Mr. Salley said, "but there is no foundation for it."

It originated, he said, when James Henry Rion of Winnsboro, S. C., made a deathbed statement in which he asserted his father, Henry Rion, was the dauphin.

Several days later one of James Henry Rion's sons, Preston Rion, declared his father had been under the influence of an opiate and was not responsible for the statement he made on his deathbed.

Little is known of his parentage, Mr. Salley said, except that his mother was a brilliant woman whom Calhoun met in Savannah and secured to become his housekeeper and act as companion to Mrs. Calhoun.

Rion attended school at South Carolina college, now the University of South Carolina, and became a practicing lawyer in Winnsboro.

During his entire career he refused to accept any political office, although he was one of South Carolina's most prominent men. This has been used, Mr. Salley said, in the argument to show he believed he was the heir to the French throne and had no right to be an officeholder in America.

Chicago Air Crash Victim Is Married in Hospital

Thomas F. White, a Chicago contractor, was wed on Saturday in a Toledo hospital to Miss Louise Rogers, 105 East Delaware place. It was learned yesterday. Mr. White was recently injured in an airplane crash near the Transcontinental airport, Toledo, which claimed the lives of his companions, Capt. Michael Rubner, pilot, and Capt. Koshus, of the Illinois National guard. He has since been recovering in St. Vincent's hospital. There the ceremony was performed by the Rev. Father William J. Carroll, hospital chaplain.

WOTTA LIFE! WOTTA LIFE!

FLOWER OF THORNS

By Marie Conway Oemler

SYNOPSIS.

Sally Rutherford, the last member of an old southern family, lived with her grandparents at Oakleigh plantation, the heart of the Rutherford family pride. The Rutherford ladies "didn't know" the Winstead, of carpetbagging stock, whose estate adjoined Oakleigh. Samuel Forman Winstead is the only son and heir of his father, Henry Winstead, town banker. Henry had hoped his son would go into finance, but Sam prefers to be an agriculturist and have a model dairy farm.

INSTALLMENT III.

THE LAST RUTHERFORD.

All in filmy graduation white, her bobbed head sleek and boyish, her brown eyes black with happy excitement, her arms full of gorgeous flowers, Sally Rutherford was declaiming the valedictory for her class, and doing it so well that she won everybody's admiration for the prettiest of pretty girl graduates. She piped on to the usual "And now to you, dear teachers, who have, etc.," with more than usual feeling. Sally's cup was running over; she had been voted the prettiest and most popular girl in the school; she had been chosen valedictorian; she stood high in her classes, and was genuinely liked by all her teachers; her dress was enchanting, her new slippers didn't pinch. Grandmamma had sent the little string of pearls that had been her own graduation gift. Grandpapa had had the flowers sent from a famous florist; and in addition to all this she could look forward to a glamorous summer home at Oakleigh, the first after several years of absence. The prospect made Sally sigh happily. Home . . . Grandpapa . . . Oakleigh!

The one drop of gall in Sally's cup of nectar tonight was that grandpapa wasn't present. At the last moment he had wired that he was unable to come. Important business. His sweet Sally must forgive her old grandfather.

She was bitterly disappointed. But his flowers had arrived, she was being graduated amid applause, she expected to be home in a few days, so she dimpled and was lovely, and young, and gay, as a girl should be.

And in the meantime the Misses Dobbs were saying agitatedly, the one to the other:

"O, Amelia, let's not tell her yet! Look how happy she is, poor child! O, think of such a dreadful thing coming upon Sally Rutherford—tonight, of all nights!"

"Matilda, I dread having to break the news to her. Yes, let's wait until the last minute. I fear I shall never get over this shock! It has completely unnerved me." She put her handkerchief to her eyes.

The two troubled ladies thought that that gala occasion would never end. The festive affair, of which they were usually so proud, was spoiled for them this year. Sally Rutherford had been peculiarly dear to the Misses Dobbs, satisfying their every instinct. It had pleased them to name her among their pupils. Col. Rutherford's granddaughter, you know. They had always looked up to the colonel—and now this to befall him!

The festivities were over at last. Sally was in her room, taking off her beautiful white frock, when Miss Amelia Dobbs, the sterner of the two sisters, knocked at the door and was bidden enter. She held a yellow envelope in her hand. Her face was unusually pale, and she looked at the girl commiseratingly. Sally was arrested by the expression of that face.

"Why, what on earth is the matter, Miss Amelia?"

"Sally, your grandfather——"

"Sally, your grandfather—your dear grandfather—"

"Is grandpapa ill?" cried Sally, instantly alarmed.

"Worse than that, child. Col. Rutherford—" Two tears rolled down Miss Amelia's cheeks. Within the memory of the school Miss Amelia had never been known to shed tears or betray any emotion. The sight of Miss Amelia crying terrified Sally.

Miss Amelia nodded. She couldn't find words. Col. Rutherford had been the ideal gentleman to the Misses Dobbs.

Wordlessly she stared at Miss Amelia Dobbs.

"The telegram is signed "Sinclair," said Miss Amelia. Sally nodded. That would be Mr. Herbert Sinclair, grandpapa's best friend, who was quite often a guest at Oakleigh. A lawyer like grandpapa himself, he had, she believed, very often attended to certain details of his friend's private affairs. At any rate, the two had been close friends since their boyhood.

Deliberately she began to remove her graduation dress, slipping it over her head; she shook it carefully, folded it meticulously. It was a beautiful and expensive frock, a triumph of artful, costly simplicity. Grandpapa had given it her; and neither had known it would be his last gift. She smoothed it with gentle fingers, as if it had been a winding sheet. It was indeed the shroud of Sally Rutherford's carefree youth.

"I was going to spend a few days with Marcia Burke, and then go home by boat," she said presently, in a tense whisper.

"There is a 3 o'clock train which you could catch by hurrying, Sally. Don't wait to finish packing, dear—just put a few necessary things in your grip. Matilda and I will send everything else down to you. I think the sooner you reach home the better. My poor child, you are going into a house of mourning. Your grandmother is greatly in need of you. Your grandfather's sudden death was a terrible shock to her and it brought on a stroke."

She shivered, and moaned a little, but she did not weep. After a pause she said quietly.

"Poor grandmamma, her life was bound up in his! I wonder his going didn't kill her outright. Please help me to catch that train tonight, Miss Amelia. Thank you for offering to pack the rest of my things. You and Miss Matilda have always been kind." She favored Miss Amelia with a wan attempt at a smile.

"My sister and I have always been very fond of you, Sally. And we respected and admired your grandfather more than I can tell you. The shocking news of his death has upset us greatly. My dear . . . we are so sorry."

"Thank you." Mechanically, swiftly, she was dressing for her journey. She felt stunned, she couldn't think clearly. Something frightful and incalculable had happened, and all her pleasant world had burst like a bubble. Grandpapa, the handsome, the courtly, the loving, the beneficent, was dead. And on the heels of that irremediable disaster, grandmamma—poor soul—had had a stroke.

It was a terrible journey. At the end of it waited grandpapa, who wouldn't welcome her home this time, nor ever speak to her again. He wouldn't be waiting for her with outstretched arms, gladly, joyously, rejoicing to see her home again, the darling of his heart. Everything would be changed. There'd be no running out to the garden, no whistling to the new puppies to come and greet Sally, no grinning servants shaking hands with her. Grandpapa was dead. Her brain couldn't go beyond that.

She loved grandmamma, of course, and she was piteously sorry for the poor dear, but Sally's whole horizon had been bounded by her grandfather.

Sally thought of Oakleigh with a passion of tenderness. Home. But Oakleigh without grandpapa? She winced. Now she was the last Rutherford! It remained for her to carry on Rutherford traditions—Oakleigh.

When Sally reached Oakleigh her grandmother lay unconscious in a hushed room, her grandfather lay with pulseless breast in a closed and locked one. There were many people present, who greeted Sally with silent commiseration. The Negro servants went about soft footed, their kind dark faces gone gray with fright. When they saw Miss Sally they wept. Mr. Herbert Sinclair, who was in charge, met her at the door. His old friend's death had evidently been a frightful blow to the lawyer, for he looked wan and ill, and of a sudden grown quite old.

"Fix a tray in the dining room for Miss Sally, Moses, and see to it that she eats," ordered the lawyer. "Go upstairs with her Delia, and help her change her dress. Do what I tell you, Sally, my dear. Afterward, come to me in the library."

"I wish to see grandmamma first, please. I—I just want to look at her."

"You grandmother wouldn't recognize you now, my dear child. She is still unconscious, and a trained nurse is in attendance. The doctor assures me there is no immediate danger. As soon as she is conscious you may go to her."

"And—and grandpapa? No one has given me any detail. I only know he is gone—suddenly. Couldn't I see him, just for a minute? I won't cry, I won't make the tiniest bit of noise. I'll just whisper in his ear. Please! I want to see grandpapa, Mr. Sinclair."

He grew paler, if that could be possible. He turned his eyes away from her pleading gaze, her clasped hands.

"No. I must positively forbid you, Sally. I—I stand in your grandfather's place just now—and I—I ask you to obey me as you would him—for this once. Do what I ask—go freshen yourself, eat something, drink some tea, you'll feel better able to talk to me."

She stood staring at him with something like displeased astonishment. He was almost crying in his distress.

"You are asking me in grandpapa's name. That is an appeal I cannot refuse," said she surprisedly, somewhat haughtily, but she stayed. "Delia, come upstairs with me." As she mounted the stairs, followed by brown Delia, the lawyer stood looking after her. His lips trembled, and he wiped his forehead. Two or three men who had come into the hall silently followed his glance and shook their heads. Nobody spoke.

New Child Training Does Not Banish the Use of Discipline

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

It was interesting that after writing an article some time ago in which I recommended mothers to use common sense as a balance wheel in their study of children, a letter should come along like the following. Before quoting it I must remark, however, that the reason why the mothers criticized in the letter fail is because THEY are at fault—not the new child training. They must misunderstand my articles utterly—for what parent can cast discipline to the winds if he means to prepare his child for life—and who that is intelligent would recommend it?

"My dear Mrs. Bevans: I am so interested in all your articles and agree with most of them, although I often think many of them need modification. I am not trying to assume that my opinion should be put in the same class with yours, but I know so many young mothers who read your articles and many other articles, too, and swallow every word, 'hook, line and sinker' with the result that their children are badly brought up, have no discipline and are just general nuisances. [I wish the writer could read some of my mail about the signal success of the new training.]

"My theory has been: Man must adapt himself to the world and its ways and so he might as well start the minute he starts breathing. I have tried to help my baby adapt himself by guiding him, reasoning with and and explaining all my requests to him to the best of my ability, but I have always been firm. I try to be patient, reasonable and fair at all times—I know often I am not successful.

"My friends, whose children I termed 'nuisances,' on the other hand, go on the theory that discipline stifles initiative, makes for complexes, etc. Their children are the most important beings on earth, they hold the floor wherever they are—in fact, everything must stop while the children hold forth.

"Now, I do NOT feel 'children should be seen and not heard; but I do not think they should be allowed to interrupt or monopolize conversation or attention any more than any adult should. The place to center attention on our children is in our home in the 'bosom of the family,' and this is where so many young parents make a mistake and really impose their children on other people."

BY DORIS BLAKE.

A letter comes to me from a mother whose daughter writes that she is bringing home for the entire vacation period a couple of school chums. No question was put to the mother about whether the guests would fit in with her summer plans. Just the announcement that the girls have been invited, including a hint to mater that she hoped the guest room had been done over, as was talked about.

There's no question but a number of mothers are in the throes of a similar invasion, if the guests have not already arrived. Of course, mothers are glad to have their girls home, and glad, in a way, that daughters will have company for the summer. BUT, as this mother and others have complained, "It's the ungratefulness of these young moderns that makes any sacrifices on our part turn sour on us."

They come, these young people. They act as if they owned the house. They are late for meals. Late getting up. Your plans for tomorrow have to be changed on a moment's notice for them.

An acquaintance of mine met such an emergency last summer by writing her daughter that her own plans for a Paris visit would not be changed, but the daughter might bring home her guests, providing only that she make a solemn promise to act the hostess as the mother would if she were on the scene. Daughter would not only act the hostess but she would have the complete management of the home turned over to her. She would do the ordering, the meal planning, everything.

It was suggested by the mother that possibly the intended guests would willingly lend a hand at all the domestic duties. An enthusiastic note came back. The girls agreed and the summer turned out a success for everybody.

A bit of selfishness on the part of mothers is what is needed to cope with the "heedless" generation. These young women home from school shouldn't be allowed to become an extra burden on mother's strength or duties. Certain duties should be allotten them, and there should be no meal time for the youngsters if they come in an hour late. It's a good training time for them. A good period to get them to understand that the world isn't made for them alone. They'll have to learn it shortly. Why not help them a bit now by making them consider the plans of others?

Asks for Fishing Equipment.

Cosmetics for Men Will Be Included in New Family Budget

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

All of the 80 per cent of every dollar that women spend isn't spent on themselves. Not when you think of how the fair sex has its buying fingers in every pie, from the house in the country to father's ties. That 80 per cent that women spend, as I read the statistics, is 50 per cent of every dollar spent in trade.

Now, having stocked themselves pretty well on toilet articles I learn that women are taking a per cent of the 80 to buy cosmetic articles for the gentleman of the house, too. Reason being that the universal better grooming era of which we are all a part, cannot afford to leave the men out of the picture. So cosmetic manufacturers are designing new lines of toiletries to appeal to a rapidly increasing male clientele.

There are bath salts—manly bath salts they call them, with an oder more aromatic than sweet—pine woods stuff, so to speak. And soaps with odors appealing to the male are in demand. Shaving creams they've always had with them. But these, too, one learns, have odors all their own. New mixtures for after shaving lotions are being perfected for male consumption.

And powders. After his bath and shave there must be powdering done. Talcum and dusting powders are found on the well groomed gentleman's shelf. A pale tan to blend with the weathered skin of outdoor's giving is the preferred powder shade for males.

Cold cream, too, has some place on the other half's shelf. Windburn and sunburn preparations are on the list, too. And hair lotions to keep the male locks neatly bordered and hedged.

Even all that is a far cry from the exalted dandyism of silken breeches and powdered wigs, is it not? Anyway, if the men are exacting about their best girls' personal upkeep, why not return the compliment?

Less Touring to Europe Is Revealed Now

THE summer social register, that little volume which has everybody neatly catalogued within its paper covers, has just made its appearance for the season of 1931. According to a report which accompanies the book there has been a slight decrease in the number of families who have left the cities as compared with last year's figures and there are only 1,159 families listed as gone abroad, in comparison to 1,350 last year.

In addition to the summer addresses of the socially prominent, and the cities, names, and class of their hosts, the register also records such interesting facts as the increase of the number of persons married from 926 in 1930 to 992 in 1931. It observes that again the death rate has been higher among the men than the women, there being 251 deaths of men recorded and 234 among women.

Chicagoans Are Traveling in Foreign Countries.

Among those with European addresses for the summer are Mrs. Harry Lester Brown, who is listed at the Chateau de Ranville, Ranville, France, but from the home of her daughter, the Countess de Gramedo; Mr. and Mrs. George Russell Carr, at Domain de Beaumont, Valbonne, France; Mr. and Mrs. Ford Rodman Carter, at the Crillon hotel, Paris; Mrs. Jacob Rink and the Charles H. Chadwicks, at the Chateau de la Garaupe, Cap d'Antibes, France; Mr. and Mrs. Harry A. Gurk [Dorothy Douglass], who are honeymooning in Europe and may be addressed in care of the Bankers Trust company, Paris; the Alfred Reeves and the junior Charles Edward Reeves, at Alt Aussee, Austria; Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Healy, at the Hotel Meurice, Paris; Mrs. Parmelee J. McFadden and her daughters, Frances and Helen, whose mail will be forwarded by Morgan & Co., Paris, and Mrs. Lorin Wrenn, at 3 Rue Lyautey, Paris.

Lonsdale Bori Will Give Dinner for Polo Players.

Many festivities for the Old Elkins and Buenos Peneia teams are being scheduled every day. The opera singer, Lorenzo Bori, who has leased the Frank Hibbard house at Shoreacres for the summer, is to give a supper party on Monday night for the Argentine players and for Mrs. Robert L. Bacon, who will be Mrs. Reynal Linn's guest during the polo meet. Afterwards Mme. Bori will take her guests, about 20 in all, to hear the opera at Ravinia.

Host July 4th Spent at Charlevoix-Chicago Club.

Random bits—The Fourth of July week-end at the Charlevoix-Chicago club was one of the quietest in its history . . . Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fitzsimmons Taylor [Elizabeth Street] of Memphis, Tenn., were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred A. Poor while in Chicago last week on their wedding trip. . . . Mrs. Francis T. A. Junkin spent the Fourth week-end at Lake Geneva as guests of Mr. and Mrs. Martin A. Ryerson and remained over Monday to visit old friends who were her neighbors at the lake when she and the late Col. Junkin were residents of "Jerseyhurst". . . . Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Hamilton of St. Louis, who have been spending their summers in Highland Park for 31 years and are at the Moraine hotel this year, departed yesterday for a brief stay in St. Louis; when they return next week they will bring their 3 year old grandson, Frank H. Hamilton V. . . . The Chicago Wellesley club will hold its summer picnic on Friday at Birken Craig, the residence of Mrs. Bruce MacLeish in Hubbard Woods. . . . Mr. and Mrs. F. Langdon Hubbard are at the Chicago club at Charlevoix. . . . Alfred Granger recently addressed the Society of Architects in Vienna and is said to be the only American who addressed a learned Viennese organization in German . . . George Stuart and his daughters, Harriet and Elizabeth Stuart, left yesterday to spend the summer abroad . . . Mrs. Leila P. Sturges and Albert Buckingham Sturges of Chicago and Pasadena were at the Indian Mission house at Stockbridge, Mass., for a few days last week before they sailed for Paris.

Delavan Garden Club Meets at Cameron Estate.

The Delavan Garden club met yesterday afternoon at Lochiel, Mrs. Dan U. Cameron's summer residence, to hear a talk on wild flowers by C. S. Wadmond, a Delavan business man, who is considered the best non-professional botanist in Wisconsin. Wild flowers grow profusely in southern Wisconsin and many of the Chicago colonists at Delavan and Lake Geneva have only wild flowers in their gardens. Proceeds of Mr. Wadmond's talks are used by the Garden clubs in the interests of wild flower preservation.

EMBARRASSING MOMENTS

An Attorney at Rest.

Recently on a very warm day I had an appointment with a lawyer, shortly after the lunch hour. His secretary in the outer office motioned to his closed door and said for me to go in. I entered and found the dignified attorney reclining in his chair with his feet stretched out on the desk, sound asleep and snoring. I thought the noise of opening and shutting the door would waken him, but he didn't move. I was at a loss to know what to do.

I walked over to the window to inspect an antique metal cigaret set. Just as I picked up the cigaret box, the sharp ringing of the telephone buzzer startled me and I dropped the box. It hit the edge of the tray and the whole set fell to the floor with a loud crash. The lawyer jumped up as if he had been shot, the girl rushed into the room, and I was embarrassed beyond words, to say nothing of the dilemma of the bewildered attorney.

Mild Weather Hits Ice Fund; Children Help

The ice fund's slipping again!

The weather is a bit more pleasant than last week, we'll admit, but that doesn't mean that there can be any letup as far as delivery of ice is concerned. Anyway, 80 degree weather is plenty warm enough to invite a chunk of ice into the icebox to keep milk from souring and vegetables fresh.

Only $33 reached the free ice fund yesterday and begged to be placed on the honor roll. A week ago the daily total of gifts ran from $300 to $400. As a steady diet that was too good to be expected, but it stands to reason that $33 can't provide ice for very many families.

The children still are doing their share. Yesterday brought a very businesslike letter with the signature of every participant in a benefit for the ice fund.

"We, the children of 7th avenue, La Grange, gave a circus for your ice fund. We are enclosing fifty cents in stamps. Hopefully, [signed] Carolyn and Elizabeth Plasman, Bob Manson, Margie and George Spooner, Mary Lou Prague and Barbara Hawley."

If the free ice fund suffered yesterday, the Camp Algonquin fund business was practically at a standstill. V. A. V. sent $2.50, making the total in the fund $1,854.36. Two weeks at the camp, 45 miles northwest of Chicago on the Fox river, can be provided for $10 each for a mother or child. It can plainly be seen that at the rate of yesterday's total not many vacations can be financed.

In mailing your gift please send it to the cashier of THE TRIBUNE for either fund.

4,949 from Three States Reach Camp as Summer Soldiers

St. Louis, Mo., July 7.—(AP)—The advance guard of 4,949 youths from Missouri, Kansas and Illinois who will attend the four weeks' citizens' military training camp at Jefferson Barracks here, arrived today. Only a portion of the time will be devoted to military drill. Citizenship and first aid classes will be held each morning, while supervised athletics will take up the afternoons. Each youth will be required to pass a swimming test before the camp is ended. One of the objectives of the camp is to have residents of different communities exchange ideas.

HORTICULTURAL MEETINGS.

Fruit and vegetable growers of Illinois and Indiana have been invited to attend a series of three meetings in the two states in the next two weeks, with their sponsors expecting crowds of from 300 to 400 at each meeting.

The first of these is that of the Indiana Horticultural society, to be held at Turkey Run state park, July 15 and 16, the second is that of the Indiana Vegetable Growers' association on July 21 and 22 at Fort Wayne and Lake James in Steuben county, while the third is the annual summer tour of the Illinois Horticultural society, July 22 and 23, in Richland and Crawford counties. The second day's tour of the latter meeting will include stops in Knox county, Indiana, the two societies joining forces there.

On the first Indiana program will appear J. L. Keach, Indianapolis, speaking on seasonal selling methods for this year's record crop; Prof. J. J. Davis of Purdue university, telling of codling moth oil sprays; Prof. C. L. Burkholder of Purdue on peach care, and E. O. Ingalls of Chicago on packing peaches in peck baskets, something new in this field. Luther Fuller, agricultural agent, and Dr. M. W. Gardner of Purdue will also speak.

The Hoosier vegetable growers, much of whose products come to the Chicago market, will combine a meeting at Fort Wayne with a field trip under direction of Prof. F. C. Gaylord, secretary. Speakers include J. E. Dickerson, Indiana federal inspector in marketing work, and Prof. H. D. Brown of Ohio State university.

The Illinois growers will tour prominent orchards and test plots of the state university in the vicinity of Newton, West Liberty, Olney and Vincennes, just before the real harvest of a bumper crop of apples and peaches sets in. H. W. Day of Centralia is secretary of the society and in charge of the two day tour.

[Registered U. S. Patent Office.]

JUNIOR GIRL'S DRESS.

The full circular skirt set on the long waisted bodice in a pointed outline and the cap sleeves of the yoked bodice are decidedly chic in their pointed treatment. A narrow belt of self fabric may be worn where it will be most becoming—either at the higher or the natural waistline. Men's silk shirting, shantung, voile, crêpe de chine, or one of the washable flat crêpes will be right.

The pattern, 2846, comes in sizes 14, 16, 18, and 20 years. Size 16 requires 3 yards of 39 inch material with ⅝ yard of 32 inch contrasting.

How to Order Clotilde Patterns.

Write your name and address plainly on dotted lines, giving number and size of such patterns as you want. Inclose 10 cents in stamps or coin [coin preferred; wrap it carefully], for each number, and address your order to Clotilde Patterns, CHICAGO TRIBUNE, 220 East 42d street, New York City.

British to Recall Faraday's Feat of Century Ago

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 7.—An elaborate program has been arranged by British industrialists for the Faraday centenary in Royal Albert hall, London, Sept. 21 to Oct. 3 in commemoration of the discovery of electro-magnetic induction in August, 1831, by Michael Faraday. He is described as the father of the electrical industry and he was knighted for that.

Prominent scientists and industrialists have cooperated with the committee in planning the celebration, the main feature of which will be a comprehensive scientific and electrical exhibition. The exhibition will be entirely devoted to the demonstration of the results of Faraday's work.

"The feast of light" will be one of the principal attractions. Suspended from the giant dome of the Royal Albert hall by 200 steel cords will be a specially woven white canopy over a quarter of a mile in circumference and 80,000 square feet in area. Beams of powerful light from more than 250 concealed projectors stationed around the circular gallery will be trained on the suspended canopy and the resulting reflected light will bathe the elliptic arena in shadowless light.

A huge statue of Michael Faraday will dominate the array of modern inventions which have emanated from his discovery. Included in the displays will be demonstrations of the modern application of electricity in every branch of industry as well as valuable original manuscripts and actual apparatus of historical importance in the development of electricity.

By arrangement with a number of universities technical instructors will be on hand to explain and demonstrate the exhibits to the visitors, and short descriptive lectures will be delivered continually by professors in various branches of chemistry and electrical engineering.

In 1804 Faraday got his first job, that of errand boy to a news agent and bookbinder near Manchester square, London. Later he was apprenticed and learned the trade of bookbinding. The handling of books gave him an opportunity to read, and he began to teach himself, having had little opportunity for learning previously. He developed a keen interest in scientific books. He followed the work of Sir Humphrey Davy of the Royal institution and by a stroke of luck became his assistant eight years later at the salary of $8.00 a week. Sir Humphrey had been attracted by his interest in scientific work, and when Faraday got the job at the Institution he gave him every opportunity to develop this leaning.

For sixteen years Faraday worked with Sir Humphrey and when the latter died in 1829 he was appointed director of the laboratories. Two important chemical discoveries between 1822 and 1830, connected with chlorine and benzine, preceded his famous discovery in 1831 after a long series of experiments.

Concerts in Loyola Stadium Will Start Next Sunday Night

A change in date of the opening will cause the open air concerts by the Chicago Philharmonic orchestra to begin in the stadium of Loyola university next Sunday night, not last Sunday night, as was first announced. The orchestra of eighty players has been rehearsing twice a week for several months under the direction of Adolphe Dumont. He will conduct a series of eight programs, to be given under the auspices of Loyola university. Popular prices will prevail.

Food Talk.

"Will you please print a recipe for Dutch apple pie?" writes Mrs. E. D. Dutch or German apple pie usually has only a bottom crust—just the opposite of the deep dish pie which has only a top crust. Sometimes there is a lattice type of top crust, but this is rarely used. To make this kind of pie prepare a good plain pastry and roll thin, about ⅛ inch thick. Fit into the pan, trim and finish around the edge in the preferred way.

Peel and cut tart apples into sixteenths and place a layer of them in the pan. Add sugar, then add another layer of apples and more sugar until the pan is rounding full. It will take about six medium sized apples and from ⅓ to ⅔ cup of sugar, depending on the tartness of the apples. This is approximately the quantity of apples and sugar needed for an eight inch pie. Place several bits of butter over the top.

If the apples are of fine flavor spice is of no advantage. If flavor is lacking, a sprinkling of cinnamon or a little nutmeg over each layer of sugar and apples will improve the taste of the pie.

Add two or three tablespoons of water. The amount of water depends upon the juiciness of the apples. Place the pie immediately in a hot oven [425 degrees F.] and bake for about 12 minutes at this temperature, then reduce the temperature to medium [375 degrees F.] and bake until the apples are tender and almost transparent in appearance. If a summer variety is used the apples will cook up into an applesauce-like mass. When a fall or winter apple is used the pieces of apple usually do not lose their shape.

Some cooks pour a cup of sweet cream over the apples just before putting the pie into the oven. Others put a gelatin or jelly topping over the pie after it is cooked. Hot apple syrup made from cider and sugar or juice drained from stewed apples is used to dissolve the gelatin and this is poured over the pie just as it is taken from the oven. A glass of softened apple jelly may also be poured over the top, and when the pie cools either the jelly or the gelatin congeals, and the effect is a transparent layer over the apples. The appearance and the eating qualities of the Dutch apple pie in all of these varieties are very pleasing.

1 cup bread crumbs.
¼ teaspoon thyme.
Pepper and salt.

Have a pocket made in the veal by the butcher. To make the stuffing, put the pork through the meat grinder and mix it with all the other ingredients. Stuff the pocket with the mixture and roast in a hot oven [450 degrees F.] for ten minutes before basting. Then baste every few minutes until the meat is properly roasted. Allow about 80 minutes for roasting.

LYONNAISE POTATOES.

Chop one-half of a small peeled onion very fine. Stir and cook the onion in one or two tablespoons of butter until softened and slightly yellowed. Skim the onion from the frying pan and add 2 additional tablespoons butter. Turn in a pint of cold boiled potato, cut in slices between ¼ and ½ inch thick; stir and cook until they are browned slightly and very hot, sprinkling meanwhile with half a teaspoon of salt. Add the cooked onion, toss the onion and potato together thoroughly and serve on a hot dish.

All Shades of Blue Popular for Daytime

BY BETTINA BEDWELL.

PARIS.—[Special.]—Blue is the smart color this summer for all daytime hours, and most of the beach costumes being worn at Biarritz, Cannes, and Deauville, are in one of the tones of sea and sky, the sapphire and turquoise blues of the Mediterranean; the gray and violet blues of the Atlantic and the paler celestial tones of the summer sky have all been translated by Paris couturiers and textile creators into 100 per cent out-of-door chic.

Wool pajamas are smart for the yacht, but the majority of the clothes worn on the torrid southern sands are in some washable fabric. Among these linen is perhaps smartest at the moment, its cool, smooth surface making it particularly comfortable.

The Lyolene beach pajamas, pictured herewith, are all in blue tones, sky blue, sapphire, and bright navy blue. The widely flaring trousers are in the vivid sky blue and the hip-length cardigan jacket has its top and sleeves in the same tone, while the deeper shades, incrusted in patterns that grow darker as they approach the hem make the rest of it. The sleeveless, outside blouse that is fitted in around the waist [shown on the small figure in the background] is made of the shaded linen incrustations on the same principle.

The hat is of sky blue, coarse paper straw. Grosgrain ribbons of the two darker tones, laced through the upturned back brim and tied around the crown, turn it into a smart poke bonnet that shades the eyes.

Don't Sacrifice
the certain purity of Kotex

HAVE you ever considered the wonderful protection offered by the name, "Kotex"?

This name is your protection against carelessly manufactured sanitary pads. It is your protection against doubtful cleanliness . . . against actual health risks!

Remember the name, Kotex, when tempted to try a substitute of whose makers you know nothing.

Many pads are cleverly made to look like Kotex. But the name Kotex is your guarantee of hospital care in making. Indeed, hospitals buy millions of Kotex pads each year.

Kotex is treated to deodorize. It is adjustable. Stays soft for hours. Disposable — wear it on either side with equal protection.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Wealthy Chicago sportsmen operating the Arlington Park race track seem never to tire of giving away rich turf prizes. They have a renewal of the Lassie stakes scheduled for this afternoon, engaging the fleetest 3 year old fillies in the country.

Twenty-five of these fast, fashionable young ladies of the turf accepted the term in the overnight entries. If they all go to the post the race will have a gross value of $28,150 and the winner will get $24,530.

Not all of them are likely to start, but there is every prospect that a full of 20 will go postward, which will put at least $25,000 into the Lassie pot.

Top Flight Favored.

A stampede last night to support Top Flight, the Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney representative, made her the 5 to 2 favorite. New Yorkers were betting the Whitney filly on their conviction that she is the best 3 year old of the year. There also was strong backing for Polanaise, another entrant from W. R. Coe's stable. She was at 6 to 1, as were Marcasite and White Flier, coupled as the Middleburg stable entry.

Peter's Dream, sent here from Kentucky for the race, was at 8 to 1. Al Simms, which will have the support of many Chicagoans who watched her score sparkling victories this season, was quoted at 12 to 1. Miss Vells, the hope of the John Boyle stable, was an extreme outsider, quoted at 30 to 1.

While the big week day crowd of 35,000 yesterday was speculating on the Lassie stakes, most of those in the grandstand suffered a terrific blow when Sir Beau, the noted handicap performer, took a beating in the Iowa handicap, the day's feature.

Hersel Wins Iowa Handicap.

Hersel, a little black horse in the Ira Burch Stock Farm stable, gave him a thrilling, winning the race at mutual payoff figures of $16.22. Best Sir, who everybody said was strictly a sprinter, also showed the famous late runner his heels. He finished second just a nose in front of Sun

THE GUMPS—TOMORROW THE LAST DAY

IF BIM GUMP THINKS THAT BY MAKING A PAUPER OF TOM CARR- THE WIDOW WILL TURN TOM DOWN- HE HAS ANOTHER GUESS COMING-
SHE HAS NEVER BEEN SO HAPPY IN HER LIFE-
LET BIM DO HIS WORST-
SHE ONLY KNOWS THAT SHE'S IN LOVE- HEART- BODY AND SOUL-
BIM HOLDS TOM'S FUTURE IN THE PALM OF HIS HAND-
WELL- TOM- IT'S TOO BAD- HERE'S ANOTHER ORDER FROM ANOTHER FOREIGN COUNTRY- THE FACTORY IS IN SUCH WONDERFUL SHAPE- AND ALL THE MEN HAVE AGREED TO WAIT FOR THEIR PAY- IF WE COULD ONLY GET AN EXTENSION FOR A WEEK ON THESE NOTES- WE COULD PULL THROUGH-WELL- THIS IS THE FINISH- AND HERE IS THE FINAL NOTICE- AND HERE'S WHAT THEY SAY- THIS IS TO INFORM YOU THAT THERE WILL BE NO FURTHER EXTENSION GRANTED YOU ON YOUR NOTES BEYOND TOMORROW-THAT MEANS THAT BIM GUMP MEANS TO RUIN US-

GARDEN DECIDES TODAY ON FIGHT FOR SCHMELING

New York, July 7.—[Special.]—Madison Square Garden corporation tomorrow will decide whether Max Schmeling will defend his heavyweight championship in the fall. Primo Carnera's status as a challenger also will be determined.

Joey Jacobs, manager of Schmeling; Leon See, Carnera's representative, and William V. Saxe of the Madison Square Garden Corporation of Illinois will confer tomorrow and from this gathering will come the final decision on the heavyweight pugilistic enterprises contemplated for the fall, if any.

The prospect of difficulties in connection with any plan to stage a Schmeling-Carnera bout here, together with indecision as to whether the Garden wishes to exercise its option on Carnera's services as challenger, prompted the call for the meeting.

A Complicated Situation.

The situation is complicated, but points to be considered at the gathering are:

1. Carnera is signed to fight for the title, but has failed to post a $25,000 forfeit in accordance with terms of his contract and is regarded as of doubtful quantity as a box office attraction.

2. Tommy Loughran wants to fight Schmeling for the title, but is believed to lack drawing power commensurate to such an undertaking.

3. The winner of the Jack Sharkey-Mickey Walker bout, to be held at Ebbets field, Brooklyn, on July 22, would be a suitable foe for Schmeling. But the Carnera contract presents an obstacle unless it can be established that Carnera has reduced his box office appeal. In this case the Illinois corporation has the privilege of ignoring its option on the boxer.

4. The state athletic commission is unlikely to sanction a Schmeling-Carnera bout in this city in view of the board's stand in support of Sharkey as the one and only challenger.

European Makes Offer.

Jeff Dickson, European promoter, today made an offer to Joe Jacobs for the heavyweight titleholder to defend his crown against Carnera in London, Paris, or Berlin. Dickson cabled an offer of a $250,000 guaranteed purse, with a privilege of accepting 75 per cent of the receipts. Dickson seeks the match as an attraction for Sept. 17.

MERMAIDS START TRAINING

Entries Pass 200 for Swim Sprint Race

BY WILFRID SMITH.

Individual entries yesterday passed the 200 mark for the 100 yard sprint swimming championships which will be sponsored for the second year on July 26 at the Lincoln park lagoon. No team entries have been received since the coaches and instructors customarily wait until the last week before selecting their squads. Entries close July 20.

Fourteen hundred boys and girls entered THE TRIBUNE'S swimming races last year and 900 of them reported for the championships. Each received a merit badge and each competitor this year will be awarded a gold badge if he completes the 100 yard test.

That the races to determine the fastest swimmers in the central states appeal to Chicago's boys and girls is proved by the number who are entering for the second time.

Five Age Divisions.

"My brother and I want to enter the meet this year," Helen Klaris, 11184 Normal avenue, wrote when she

Cornell Grocer Dies of Heart Attack as Cubs Win

While watching the Cubs defeat the St. Louis Cardinals in a double header yesterday at Wrigley field, Arthur Breiholz, 50 years old, a grocer from Cornell, Ill., died of heart failure. The body was removed to Linn Brothers' undertaking rooms, 3419 North Clark street.

SIMONS' SINGLE IN 12TH BEATS BROWNS, 10 TO 8

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

St. Louis, Mo., July 7.—Our White Sox this afternoon survived a scourge of four homers, good for six runs, to make it three victories in a row over the St. Louis Browns. The contest went twelve innings and the final count was Chicago, 10; St. Louis, 8.

Although Tommy Thomas started the game and Hal McKain finished it, Red Faber won his second victory in three days without either starting or finishing.

Chad Kimsey, giant Brown pitcher, was the unusual goat of the contest. He tied the score as a pinch hitter in the ninth with the Browns' fourth homer, which, when he went in to pitch in the tenth, made it his game to win and lose. The big fellow didn't allow a Chicagoan to reach first for two innings, but in the twelfth, successive singles by Watwood and Blue, an error by Storti and a single by Simmons got the winning margin over before the first put out had been accomplished.

Homers Play Havoc.

The three game winning streak has put the Sox in a won and lost tie with Detroit for cellar honors, but they still are in the basement by a margin of three percentage points. The Browns haven't lost three games in a series and have lost two in only one five game series in more than a month.

The sequence of homers tested the Sox stamina repeatedly. The first one by Schulte, in the fifth, wasn't so bad, because it followed a four run splurge which the Sox committed after two were out in the first half of the inning. That one made the score 5 to 3. But Schulte's No. 2, with one on in the seventh, was something else again, for it tied the score at 5 all.

In the eighth the Sox stepped out for three runs, but Jenkins came along with Brownie homer No. 3, also with one on. This drove Thomas from the game in favor of Faber and set the score at Chicago 8, St. Louis 7.

Play Indians Here Today.

This was the count when Kimsey batted for Stewart to lead off the ninth. And, as you've been told, Kimsey homered to put the game in his kitchen.

The Sox returned home after the game. Tomorrow they will open a five game series with the Cleveland In-

James, Bust That Gentleman on the Nose! Now Home, James

BY WESTBROOK PEGLER.

New York, July 7.—Peter Arno, the victim of that hypothetical wound from young Cornelius Vanderbilt's figurative pistol, reports on his return from the front in Reno that young Mr. Vanderbilt, instead of taking boxing lessons from Jack Dempsey, to the end that he might give him, Mr. Arno, a bust on the nose, has hired a bodyguard, or pinch hitter.

PAAVO NURMI.

This draws attention to a trend in this country. At first it was only the President of the United States who had bodyguards. They were furnished by the United States secret service, and the continued use of such means of protection is quite legitimate, as the President always has carried the target, so to speak, for his political party. He is the fall guy for all the conniving and trimming of all the minor politicians of the same general political faith and deserves all the protection that the department of justice can throw about him.

Guards for Capitalists.

Next, during the period when capital and labor were so petulant about their disputes over wages and working conditions, it was deemed advisable to hire personal guards to attend some of the most important capitalists and industrialists, and this, too, became a custom. One night, in passing a solemn brown stone house near 5th avenue in the fifties and seeing a silent man in a rusty suit standing by the front stoop, I took him for a lookout and asked him, "What have you boys got in here? Crap game?"

The duty of a bodyguard is to finish fights that his principal starts, and the increase in the number of citizens who keep them presents a field of occupation for a large number of superannuated prize fighters, who naturally are unaccustomed to work. But doesn't a young man who keeps a protector at his heels miss something of the joy and excitement of life if, on promoting a quarrel for himself, he merely turns to his bodyguard with a yawn and says, "Sock him one, McGuire"? and is there anything that a blasé young millionaire cannot hire done for him nowadays?

Suppose, for example, that the young man's doctor tells him he needs exercise and must run six times around his private lake every morning or shoot 18 holes of that which he calls his golf. I imagine it would be possible to hire a Ray or, in the case of a particularly rich young man, even a Paavo Nurmi, to run around the reservoir for him not only six times but all day long. On the proper terms, he could engage Billy Burke or Gene Sarazen to shoot his golf for him.

If he can vindicate his honor by a vicarious bust on the nose, possibly he can hire a ghost to take his medicine for him and by the operation of the same odd principle receive the benefit as if he had taken it himself.

The vicarious sports up to now have been prize fighting, yacht racing, and horse racing. The sporting dukes of England used to subsidize dull, dumb heavyweights and fight them for side bets and for their own personal sporting glory just as the farmers in Florida and Cuba of this day fight game cocks. When the fights were over it was not so much that one fighter had beaten another as that one noble gentleman had scored a sporting victory over a fellow member of the same set.

Not Shrewd Enough.

An attempt was made to revive this scheme among some of the sporting dukes of the U. S. A. a few years ago, but when a gentleman would go to a professional manager and dealer to buy three or four assorted head of stock for his stable he would find himself cheated.

I have often wondered why some of the sporting dukes who are thrilled by vicarious victories on the turf won by horses which they have neither bred nor trained in races which they may not even have taken the trouble to attend do not go in for vicarious triumphs in golf. One might merely enter one's bag of clubs, just as he enters a purchased horse in a Derby, and hire someone, possibly even Bobby Jones, himself, to play them, just as jockeys are hired to ride horses.

What finer triumph could a sportsman desire in vicarious sports than to receive a jubilant cablegram while traveling in Europe reading: "Congratulation on magnificent victory of your bag of clubs in U. S. open tournament. You are a credit to the grand old game, and your sportsmanship an inspiration to all classes. Your man, R. T. Jones Jr., handled the clubs shrewdly and his conduct is a credit to you. Where shall we send the cup? Signed H. H. Ramsey, president U. S. Golf association."

RALLY FOR 6-3 VICTORY AFTER 14 TO 2 WARMUP

Four Runs in Eighth Clinch Decision.

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.

The Cubs seem to be starting. With a roar of base hits they defeated the Cardinals, 14 to 2, in the first game of a double header yesterday and then knocked 45,000 spectators out of their seats—or at least those who had seats—with a reverberating blast which scored four runs in the eighth inning and whipped the champions for the second time. The score of this contest was 6 to 3, leaving the Cubs only three and one-half games from first place in the National league.

For your hero in the second game you can have Danny Taylor, who had been a bench warmer all afternoon. When the bases were filled and two were out and the Cubs were trailing by one run in the eighth, Danny was summoned to bat for Jurges. His double was so beautifully placed that it cleared the bases. Then Taylor scored on a single to conclude the fiery attack on Flint Rhem. Pat Malone had relieved Guy Bush in the seventh and received credit for the victory, his eighth of the season.

Found Two Cardinal Pitchers.

Taylor's hit did on a smaller scale just what the entire Cub ensemble had done to two Cardinal hurlers in the first game. In the opener the Cubs gained a three run lead against Wild Bill Hallahan in the first inning and, with Charley Root pitching shutout ball for his eighth triumph of the season, this lead would have been ample. But in a wild sixth, in which thirteen Chicagoans faced Hallahan and Johnson, nine runs were scored, so Root slowed down a bit.

A tiny mishap started the Cubs stampeding to victory in the eighth inning of the second game. Hornsby opened with a grounder to Adams and Sparky lost his balance. It was just enough to let the manager beat it for a hit. Stephenson forced him and when Hartnett let a third strike curve past the decision seemed about definitely settled. But the Cubs were just starting.

Fill the Bases.

Grimm lined to right center for a double, but Stephenson had to stop at third. Blair batted for Malone and walked, filling the bases. This was the spot for Taylor. His drive went down into the left field corner and Roettger picked it up instead of letting it roll into the crowd and holding everybody to two bases. The play permitted Blair to follow Stephenson and Grimm over the plate. Then English singled Taylor home and Fred Blake's pitching did the rest.

The Cubs left for Pittsburgh last night. They have a date with the Pirates today to play off a postponement from a previous trip. Hornsby is going to start Lon Warneke as the Cubs' pitcher. Another experiment for the afternoon will be Hornsby at third base and Jurges at second. The idea is to relieve the strain on the manager's weak right leg. It also was learned last night that Bob Smith has a slight fracture of the left thumb as a result of reaching for a line drive in the game of Monday. The Cubs probably will be opposed by Larry French.

Hallahan's customary wildness prevailed in the opening inning of the first game, and this assisted the Cubs considerably in building up a three

TWENTY GRAND ALMOST SURE CLASSIC STARTER

Make Reservations to Ship Champion Here.

New York, July 7.—[Special.]— Contrary to previous announcements, Mrs. Payne Whitney's three year old champion colt, Twenty Grand, may now be considered an almost certain starter in the $75,000 Classic at Arlington Park, Chicago, on July 18.

Shipping reservations have been made for the mighty son of St. Germans and Bonus. If a slight hip strain developed in last Saturday's running of the Dwyer does not become aggravated, the winner of the Wood Memorial, the Kentucky Derby, the Belmont, and the Dwyer, will give A. C. Bostwick's Mate, Pittsburgher, and others of his age an opportunity to avenge previous defeats.

Pulls Hip Muscle.

Though Twenty Grand had only to gallop to beat Blenheim and Barometer, to which he conceded 16 pounds in the Dwyer, it was discovered after he had cooled out that he was lame behind on the right side. It was with difficulty that he was unloaded at the Belmont Park barn. Veterinarian diagnosis disclosed he had strained the right lumber muscle, one of the main hind-quarter muscles that connect hip and thigh.

Immediate attention and proper treatment brought immediate results. Twenty Grand, badly lamed on Sunday, appeared almost himself on Monday. The rest of an additional 24 hours found him playful as a kitten today.

May Work Today.

But Trainer Jimmy Rowe did not take him out of his stall.

"I am hopeful," said Rowe tonight, "that all is well and that Twenty Grand will be able to run in the Arlington Classic. But I am not sure. I cannot be sure till I have galloped him. I'll be able to tell definitely tomorrow."

Rowe intimated Twenty Grand would be galloped tomorrow morning, but if further delay of a day were necessary, the trainer did not think the letup would take any of the keen edge off the horse.

Star Etawah Wins Edwards Pacing Stake

Cleveland, O., July 7.—(AP)—Septimus Palin of Indianapolis won his first Edwards stake when he triumphed in the 23d renewal of the historic $3,000 event here today with Star Etawah, the pacer from the stable of E. J. Baker of St. Charles, Ill.

The son of Day Star dropped the first heat to Lusty Velo, driven by Henry Thomas, which paid $36.40 for a $2 ticket. In the second heat Palin sent Star Etawah around in the fast time of 2:02 3-5. He won the third and final heat by five lengths in 2:03 1-5. Etawah was a prohibitive favorite, paying only $12.75 for a $10 result ticket.

Sharing honors with Palin was Fred Egan, Iowa reinsman, who won a double, the 2:14 pace with Tactful Guy, and the 2:16 trot with Janie Lee, the New York owned mare. The latter was one of the longest shots of the current season, paying $1,017 for a $10 result ticket. Tactful Guy paid $144 for a $10 result ticket.

The claiming trot resulted in easy victory for Peter Dillon, owned by H. A. Tettalar of Sharon, O., and driven by Will Caton. Summaries:

Sunny World followed the pace of Sans Coin closely to the stretch, then took command and had enough left to hold Well Reeled. Latter, after outbreaking the others, was taken back and, racing on his own courage, made up ground and was closing at the finish. Sans Coin had the most early speed and held on fairly well. Misty can do better. Dixiana made up some ground.

Masked Ball, although racing wide in the last quarter, was good enough to take command twenty yards out and outfinish Hot Shot in the final struggle. Hot Shot, showing improvement, forced the early pace and held on well when challenged. Bacciocco was shuffled back after leaving the backstretch, but came on and was interfering with Flag Time when the latter tired. The latter had moved up strongly and was racing well when he met with interference on the final bend. French Lad tired. Taddywawa was never a contender. Zacaweista quit.

Phantom Legion, always in the first flight, took a short lead approaching the stretch turn and, shaking off Prince Fox in the run home, was going away at the finish. Prince Fox raced close up most of the way, but faltered in the final strides. Frederick ran strongly in the stretch to finish in courageous fashion. Americana turned in a good effort. Higher and Sun's Son bumped each other frequently in the last quarter mile.

His Last got to the front after going a quarter and, racing well, held Sway to the finish. Weideleen, the favorite, closed fast in the stretch drive. Latter, although swinging a trifle wide at the stretch turn, made a game bid in the run for home, but could not get up, although gaining at the finish. Phantasime went well. Elcidio made up ground in the stretch. Andora tired after displaying early speed.

Morsel, running in his best form, was always within striking distance of Best Man in the early stages and, wearing the latter down in the stretch run, was drawing away at the finish. Best Man was a factor in the early races, but tired after going seven furlongs and was stopping fast at the finish. Sun Beau was under mild restraint in the stretch, then made up ground to finish fastest of all. Sunvir tired slightly. Golden Prince was badly outrun for a half, then made up some ground, but hung in the final sixteenth.

SIXTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse $1,500. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Net value to winner, $1,100; second, $225; third, $125; fourth, $50.

*Field. Time, :24 1-5, :49, 1:13 2-5, 1:39, 1:52 3-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Gormond, $15.46 straight, $6.10 place, $5.72 show; Macedon, $6.35 place, $4.00 show; Bub McFarland, $2.88 show. Trained by W. C. Reichert. Start good from gate. Won driving; place same. Went to post at 4:46. At post ¾ minute.

Gormond, racing strongly from the start, came around the outside of the leaders approaching the stretch turn, took command and held Macedon at the finish. Macedon made up some ground and was going well at the finish, although not a serious threat to the winner. Bub McFarland was in some trouble during the back stretch run, but closed gamely. Grand Prince had early speed and held on fairly well. Miss Perfection and Royal Manager tired after making most of the early pace.

SEVENTH RACE—One and one-eighth miles. Purse $1,500. Claiming. Four year olds and up. Net value to winner, $1,100; second, $225; third, $125; fourth, $50.

Garnish moved up fast when called upon and, taking a good lead approaching the stretch turn, easily held the others safe. Chancellor showed improvement and, racing close up throughout, outeamed Le Flore in the final drive. Le Flore met with interference in the early running and showed a creditable effort. Thomas Seth tired. Ed Lark raced in improved form. The others were never dangerous.

Joe Leiter is back in good standing on the turf and three of his prize 2 year old fillies are to run this afternoon on the renewal of the rich Lassie stakes.

Leiter, who last week told the stewards of the Arlington Jockey club that they had committed a "damnable outrage" when they disqualified his horse Princess Camella, appeared before the stewards yesterday and all differences were ironed out, according to a statement issued by the Arlington officials. He had been fined $250 and asked to apologize to the stewards for the language he used in protesting the disqualification of his horse.

"All difficulties have been ironed out," was the only statement issued by the club. Mr. Leiter met with Stewards Christopher Fitzgerald and George Brown, and Otto W. Lehmann, president of the Arlington Jockey club.

It was reported unofficially that Mr. Leiter had apologized to the stewards and his fine of $250 was cancelled.

Two eastern bidders for the Arlington Oaks, one mile and a furlong, which should gross upwards of $20,000 on Saturday, that will come on with Tambour, arriving tomorrow, are Toney Princess of the Dorwood stable of Victor Emanuel, and Blind Lane.

In the stable Tim Donohue brought from Belmont Park to Arlington, arriving yesterday, was Fairmount, one of the greatest America has produced, which is essaying a comeback this season after a long let up. For three or four years Fairmount, a son of Fair Play, and Mrs. Helen Hay Whitney's Jolly Roger were rivals. Others are Indigo, Alert, and Bagatelle. With these was Widener's Donohue and Mrs. M. W. Holden's Luckite, which defeated Beelzebub, Dark Herod, and Mirbat at Aqueduct on June 20 in the eighteenth Winfield steeplechase.

The Post and Paddock club will entertain at luncheon today the members of the Argentine Polo club and their wives and sisters.

Young Tom Taggart of French Lick Spring arrived yesterday to see the running of the Lassie stakes. He had been at Cleveland for the fight. Said those folks who stuck up E. Phocion Howard, the best dressed editor in New York, in a Cleveland hotel, took a look at Mr. Howard's necktie pin and shoved it back in Mr. Howard's pocket. They took the rest of his jewelry, according to the official report Mr. Taggart made.

Ben Rosenheim, owner of the Rosehome stable of Chicago, took His Last, a son of Luke McLuke-Oubliette, away from Mrs. John Hertz on a claim after His Last won the fourth race yesterday. He had to deposit $3,600 to get the 3 year old gelding.

BARNES DEFEATS MADDEN IN STATE TENNIS TOURNEY

O'Connell Beats Kulp in Opening Match.

Bryan Barnes, seeded number one, arrived from St. Louis yesterday in time to defend his ranking in the state tennis meet at the Chicago Town and Tennis club. He first won from James Madden, South Shore Country club junior player, 6-1, 8-6. Later he defeated Muir Rogers with accurate drives and placements, 6-1, 6-3.

WALTER HAYES.

George O'Connell, defending titlist, won from Lee Kulp, 8-6, 7-5. Kulp once led in the final set, 5-3.

Ted Burwell, another young southerner, seeded second, drew two defaults and entered the third round by defeating Edmund Kent, 6-5, 6-2. Other seeded players, Emil Kamrath and Dock Barr, members of the Texas contingent; Scott Bottger, Big Ten champion; Jack Lewis, Frank O'Connell, and Charles and Lee Lejuck went through their matches without mishap.

The only seeded casualty was Walter Hayes, the 49 year old title defender, who defaulted to George Pelgrim of Chicago, shortly after the match started.

Play in the women's singles began yesterday with Mae Courvorst, Kansas star, holding first position in the draw. Miss Courvorst easily defeated Miss Bertha, 6-0, 6-1. Bernice Lee and Louise Hoffmeister advanced to the third round.

Frank Parker, 15 year old Milwaukee lad, won two matches in both the boys and junior divisions without losing a game, thereby repeating his performance of Monday. Summaries:

Mrs. Marshall Advances in City Golf Meet

BY BETTY ECKERSALL.

Mrs. Rose Marshall of Marquette park, runner-up to Mrs. Lillian Zeck, city and county champion, won easily from Mrs. S. Y. Patterson, also of Marquette park, 5 and 4, in the second day of the 13th annual women's city golf tournament yesterday at Marquette park.

Mrs. Marshall shot the first nine in two over par, turning in a 37, and got a birdie three on the 270 yard 19th hole.

Another feature of the meet was the defeat of Mrs. Maud Aldrich, of Marquette park, by Mrs. H. S. Himmel, of Jackson park. The two shot even golf up to the last green where Mrs. Himmel putted into the lead with an 85 while her opponent holed out with an 86.

Miss Margarey Roeslein, of Lincoln park, who was runner-up to Mrs. Zeck in the state championship last year defeated Alyce Frieder, of Jackson park, 7 and 6.

Mrs. Gretchen McCune, of Marquette park, donated a consolation trophy for the women who did not qualify for match play. Four women competed for the cup, which was won by Miss Muriel Vinton, of Cherry Hill.

Results of yesterdays' championship flight:

WOLGAST POSTS BAIL; FREED TO DEFEND TITLE

Philadelphia, Pa., July 7.—(AP)—Midget Wolgast, recognized flyweight champion in New York and Pennsylvania, tonight won his freedom to appear in a title bout Friday night by posting $5,000 bail after he had been held on charges filed by Rose Manara, 19, of Atlantic City. He is scheduled to meet Ruby Bradley, Holyoke, Mass., in a 15 round bout in New York Friday.

Wolgast, with Lewis Pirelli, 32, and Joseph Farina, 25, were arrested Saturday night after police raided his apartment where the girl charged she had been held prisoner for two weeks.

He was held for further hearing July 14. Wolgast and his companions deny the charges.

COCHET'S HEALTH WORRIES FRENCH TENNIS FANS

(Copyright: 1931: By the New York Times.)

PARIS, July 7.—French tennis fans were tonight dismayed at the continued reports that their champion, Henri Cochet, will be unable to take part in the Davis cup matches this year.

Cochet, whose defeat in the first round at Wimbledon revealed his poor form, has not recovered from the influenza from which he suffered early this season.

Cochet left Paris last night for Mont Revard near Aix les Bains without definitely announcing his withdrawal. Some of the French tennis team's advisers are talking of making an appeal to La Coste to come to the rescue of the French squad.

Goldstein-Terry Bout Is Rained Out Second Time

Newark, N. J., July 7.—(AP)—For the second consecutive night rain tonight forced postponement of the 10 round bout between Ruby Goldstein, New York, and Young Terry, Trenton, N. J. It will be held on Thursday night.

STRIBLING EARNINGS.

YOUNG STRIBLING.

Such action is rather improbable because Stribling still has good earning power among the second flight of heavyweights. Few boxers retire when they should. The desire for a "comeback" persists, as it did with Jim Corbett, Jim Jeffries, Jack Dempsey, and others. It is hard to realize one is past his prime.

Naturally the question arises whether Stribling could afford to retire. That depends on what one requires. Most estimates of Stribling's wealth are higher than the one obtained by The Wake at Cleveland. That subject came up in a conversation with Pa. The latter was not inclined to be very definite until we suggested various figures. Finally Pa said:

"It's hard to name a definite sum. W. L. has various investments in Georgia and elsewhere which we think are worth much more than present depreciated prices. He has timber land, real estate, and other holdings of great potential value. Perhaps a fair estimate would be between $100,000 and $200,000 in the present market."

That was before the battle. Young Stribling received therefrom about $90,000 in purse, broadcasting, and moving picture rights in Ohio and Canada. He received $10,000 for training expenses for choosing an amusement park as the site. Of course, training expenses are then deducted from this sum. The reputed agreement with Pa is 40 per cent of W. L.'s earnings for acting as manager and counselor.

W. L. has his planes, automobiles, and a comfortable home. The Stribdings, including the whole family, live well but not extravagantly. Their spending is for their comfort and not for show. Whether or not W. L. continues boxing, the wolf will not howl at his door—if his present investments are as sound as Pa represents—even if some of these savings are not in present income producing property.

Midlothian Pater-Filius Tomorrow

A large field of fathers and sons will team up tomorrow at Midlothian Country club for the 27th annual pater-filius competition. The entry list is expected to exceed 100 teams.

The event this year is being conducted by the Chicago District Golf association and the play has been opened to any father and son combination that belongs to a club that is a member of the United States, Western, or Chicago District Golf associations. The pater-filius is one of the most colorful golf events in the middle west, and many who are entered tomorrow have competed in the tournament for a number of years.

Alfred Hecht of Chicago Heights and his 10 year old son, George, are the defending champions. Last year they shot the 36 holes in 186—44—142. Play is at 36 holes. Each team will play one ball, the players alternating on the shots.

One hundred golfers will tee off in the qualifying round of the Cook county open at Garfield park tomorrow. The 16 low scores for 18 holes will qualify for the championship flight which will get under way with match play on Friday. The finals will be decided Saturday.

The Cook county amateur meet will also be held at Garfield park this year, the dates having been set for Aug. 13, 14, and 15.

Marauding Skunk Is Condemned as Game Birds' Foe

BY BOB BECKER.

When a skunk finds a bird nest with eggs in it does the animal always dig in the nest and throw the eggs far and wide? "Gamekeeper," a landowner of Chicagoland, raises this interesting question involving one of the most notorious egg eaters among the predators found in the central states.

Gamekeeper's description of the skunk's actions in playing baseball with a guinea hen's eggs is as follows:

"The other evening I went into my chicken yard with Rollins. Suddenly he saw a skunk and went for his shotgun while I remained to keep an eye on the animal.

"It was busy, apparently digging a hole. When Rollins returned and shot the skunk we advanced cautiously and found the animal had driven a guinea hen from her nest and his digging had been in this nest. The guinea hen's eggs had been thrown as far as fifteen feet away. Strange to say, only one of the eggs had been broken.

"Perhaps some one more familiar with skunks than I can tell why he acted that way. Upon other occasions I have found duck nests that had been destroyed and the eggs were thrown around in a similar manner. Upon some occasions I found the carcasses of the ducks. Sometimes the eggs had been eaten after having been scattered and sometimes not."

Game breeders, landowners who devote considerable attention to growing game birds on their property, owners of bird farms and others should be able to throw more light on the question of how a skunk treats a nest full of eggs. When we were in Georgia a few years ago we visited the field office of Herbert L. Stoddard, the quail expert, to discuss the relationship between certain predators and the bob whites. This subject is so important o the sportsman and the game breeder that Stoddard had been conducting a clinic to determine the damage the predators were inflicting upon the quail.

At the time of our visit with Stoddard he branded the skunk as one of the worst offenders and he was trying to associate a certain behavior or egg destroying practice with each animal that preys upon quail nests. In the case of feathered egg eaters, like the crow, the evidence was quite definite and uniform.

The skunk was getting considerable attention as captured animals were placed in pens where they could tear into quail nests. But whether the common polecat always destroyed nest and eggs in a uniform way had not been determined.

mailed her blank. "My brother, Peter Klaris, is 14 years of age and will compete in class B. I am 17 and a member of the A. A. U."

There will be five age divisions for both boys and girls. Ten championship gold medals will be the prizes for which hundreds will contend July 26. Second and third places will receive silver and bronze medals. These, of course, are in addition to the merit badges. The age divisions follow:

Class A, 11 and 12 years of age.
Class B, 13 and 14 years of age.
Class C, 15 and 16 years of age.
Class D, 17 and 18 years of age.
Class E, 19 years of age and over.

Boys and girls 18 years of age and over must be registered with the Central association of the A. A. U. The registration fee is 25 cents and should be paid to Roy E. Davis, 538 South Clark street, or to A. A. U. clerks on the day of the meet. Mr. Davis will forward registration certificates on receipt of the fee.

Mark Blank Correctly!

In filling out the entry blank, contestants are urged not only to check the age classification, but to check the squares marked boys and girls. First names, of course, should be printed. All names will be printed in THE TRIBUNE in the edition of Sunday, July 26, and in the program.

A team trophy will be awarded to the park playground, club or organization which scores the most points. This trophy is a statue of a swimmer mounted on an ebony base. First place in each of the ten races—five for boys and five for girls—will count five points. Second place will count three points and third place one point. Points will be totaled for all ten events.

If the number of contestants exceeds 2,000, the preliminaries in the first three classes for boys will be held Saturday afternoon, July 25. Definite announcement will be made later. All semi-finals and finals will be held on Sunday afternoon, July 26.

The most important item now is to clip the entry blank and mail it immediately. It will facilitate the work of the clerks who are preparing the lists for the championships.

Jane Gage's 88 Leads Women Juniors' Play

Miss Jane Gage of the home club shot an 88 yesterday to lead the field of 22 entrants in the qualifying round of the 12th annual women's junior golf tournament at the La Grange Country club.

The score was the best Miss Gage has achieved in her limited play. She went out in 47 and came back in 41. Last year Miss Gage reached the semi-finals, where she was defeated by Miss Priscilla Carver of Mission Hills, the champion, who is unable to defend her title because of the age limit.

Miss Virginia Williams, Congressional club, Washington, D. C., was second with 93, and heads the lower part of the championship bracket. Miss Williams has a 10 handicap, the lowest in the junior tournament.

Another out of town contestant, Miss Dorothy Foster of Grand View C. C., Springfield, Ill., turned in a card of 46—47—93, covering the difficult outgoing nine in fewer strokes than any other player. Miss Louise Willard of Exmoor had a birdie deuce on the ninth, sinking a 15 foot putt.

The baby of the tournament, Miss Virginia Jensen, 13 year old Mohawk Country club entry, won the driving contest with a total of 50 yards for three balls. Miss Williams was second with 504 yards. The qualifying scores follow:

Sox Vanquish Browns, 10-8, in 12 Innings

dians, which includes a layoff on Friday but a double header next Sunday. It will be Caraway vs. Brown tomorrow.

Blue opened the game with a drive against the far distant left field wall. He thought it was a double, but much to his surprise, Goslin had the ball in Levey's hands long before Lu arrived at second. Fonseca started the second inning with a double almost to the same spot, but this time Goslin didn't make a miracle throw. Fonseca came home when Jeffries singled to center.

Jeff's Error Starts Trouble.

Jeffries' butterfinger muff of an easy and perfect little toss from Appling enabled the Browns to take a 2 to 1 lead in the third inning. Levey walked, and with the outfield in close, Stewart registered the first hit off Thomas, a looping shot over Fonseca's head which went for a double, scoring Levey. Schulte grounded to Appling and Stewart should have been out at third by many feet. But the ball popped out of Jeffries' glove. Stewart scored and Schulte went to second on a wild pitch. Melillo flied to Reynolds and the runners held their bases. Goslin got credit for a single when his liner was a little hot for Blue. Schulte had to slide to make third on the effort, however. Kress then hit into a double play.

After Kress had thrown out Kerr and Jeffries had flied to Schulte, Grube singled to center and went to third on Thomas' single to right. Blue singled to right center, driving in Grube with the tying run and putting Thomas on second. Simons singled to center, scoring Thomas and putting Blue on third. Reynolds tripled to right center, scoring Blue and Simons. Carl died when Fonseca fouled to Ferrell.

Homer Ties Score.

In the seventh, Thomas walked Burns and threw three balls to Levey before making him fly to Fonseca. Stewart was thrown out by Kerr, but Schulte connected with his second successive homer into the left field stands.

Simons led off the eighth with a single to right. Reynolds bunted and both runners were safe when Burns' throw to second was late. They moved up on Fonseca's sacrifice. Appling tripled off the right field wall, scoring Simons and Reynolds. Appling scored on Kerr's fly to Jenkins.

In the Brownie eighth, with one out, Ferrell singled off Jeffries glove. Then Jenkins drove him in with a homer into the center field pavilion. Faber relieved Thomas and retired the side. This made the score Chicago, 8; St. Louis, 7.

Kinsey batted for Stewart to lead off the ninth and tied the score with the Browns' fourth homer of the game. It was his second pinch homer of the series.

Simons' Single Wins Game.

Watwood batted for Faber in the twelfth and was the first man to reach first off Kimsey when he singled to center. Blue beat out a bunt toward third and Watwood went to third and Blue to second when Storti threw the ball past first. Simons singled to right, scoring Watwood and Blue. Reynolds hit into a double play.

McKain went in to pitch the Brownie twelfth. McNeely flied to Simons. Burns doubled off the right field screen. Fonseca made a nice catch of Storti's drive. Appling threw out Kimsey.

Champs Increase Lead in Flag Race.

Washington, D. C., July 7.—The lure of America's national game pulled President Hoover away from a desk piled high with official correspondence to spend this afternoon watching the Philadelphia Athletics defeat Washington, 7 to 3. The chief executive and Mrs. Hoover sat in Clark Griffith's box with a group of high officials.

PRESIDENT HOOVER.

In a box directly across home plate from the President was Governor Richie of Maryland, and a few boxes to his left were Sir Ronald Lindsay, the British ambassador, and William D. Herridge, Canadian minister to this country. Scattered through the crowd were other American officials and diplomatic representatives.

At the beginning of Washington's half of the seventh Connie Mack, pilot of the world champions, was brought to the President's box. He chatted for a few minutes before returning. The crowd gave the tall, gray-haired manager a big hand.

The President never applauds at a ball game, although he is an enthusiastic fan. He says he should "maintain a neutrality,"

CHICAGO STOCKS DECLINE UNDER PROFIT TAKING

Expected Upturn Fails to Materialize.

BY THOMAS FURLONG.

A lot of people got the idea yesterday that it was a good time to sell stocks and clinch profits and the high hopes for a good sized rally following the completion or the debt negotiations were dashed to the ground. Notwithstanding the fact that the market has a habit of selling off when an anticipated favorable development materializes, yesterday's turn of affairs came as something of a surprise to the financial community.

It had been expected a bulge in prices would develop before the beneficial effects of the successful climax in the negotiations wore off. But the upturn at the opening of the market yesterday was short lived and price concessions were being made in shares of all classes and descriptions before the day was well under way.

Keep Eye on Calendar.

The trend of affairs yesterday showed that the trading fraternity has not lost sight of the earnings reports and probable dividend readjustments which are on the calendar this month. With the business world engrossed in the international debt parleys during the last week the significance of coming events at home has been obscured.

The extent of the recessions in Chicago stock prices were moderate in most instances. Net losses ranged from a fraction to a point or so and in the case of Commonwealth Edison to 2¾ points. Final quotations in the majority of cases represented some improvement over the days' lowest prices. Insull Utility was the volume leader but moved with the general trend.

Walgreen Shows Drop.

Walgreen common lost over a point on fairly active trade after publication of June sales figures. Missouri Kansas Pipe Line was quiet following the dismissal of a suit in federal court which had been brought against the company by certain stockholders.

The Middle West Utilities company announced yesterday that the quarterly dividend of 2 per cent stock dividend on the common shares of the company has been authorized. It was also announced that directors have voted to extent the commoh stock purchase warrants series B to Dec. 15, 1932, and series B to Dec. 30, 1932. Any change in the common stock purchasable under the warrants was not considered, it was stated.

Winona-Rex Copper Mining.

While looking over some old papers I found some shares of Winona-Rex Copper Mining company. Have they any value?—D. W. P.

Winona-Rex Copper Mining company's charter was forfeited July 19, 1927. The company is dead.

McCord Radiator & Manufacturing.

Will you please give me your opinion of McCord Radiator & Manufacturing company?—K. T. F.

Net income for 1930 was $10,607, or 39 cents per class A share. For 1929 net income was $618,490, equal to $21.88 per class A share and $3.08 per class B share. Net income for 1928 was $746,497.

Although no figures for 1931 are available, President McCord was quoted as stating on May 5, 1931, that operations for the first four months showed a profit.

On December 31, 1930, current assets were $1,807,542 and current liabilities were $317,506. There was $2,243,000 of funded debt outstanding.

The class A stock is preferred over class B as to annual dividends of $3 per share. After dividends of $2 per share have been paid on the class B 40 per cent of remaining net earnings shall be used to retire the class A stock and additional dividends shall be paid on class A and class B at the ratio of 3 to 2 respectively. Although dividends are being paid on the class A, no dividend has been paid on class B since a 25 cent distribution on August 1, 1930.

The class A is speculative and the class B more so.

Batavian Petroleum.

Will you please tell me whether or not Batavian Petroleum 4½ per cent debentures, due 1942, are a safe investment?—Miss L. M.

The $25,000,000 guaranteed debenture 4½s, due 1942, are guaranteed jointly and severally by both parent companies.

Royal Dutch Company for the Working of Petroleum Wells in Netherlands Indies with its subsidiaries is the largest crude oil producer in the world. It accounts for about 10 per of the world production. Net income for 1930 was 90,836,415 florins, against 126,471,392 florins for 1929 [one florin is equal to 40.2 cents].

The "Shell" Transportation and Trading company, Ltd., is associated with Royal Dutch company. Net income for 1930 was 4,898,752 pounds sterling, against 6,483,386 pounds sterling in 1929.

PURCHASE BY FOREST RESERVE KILLS OLD RUMOR

Part of Right of Way of the C., P. & W. Bought.

BY AL CHASE.

One ancient but lively and persistent rumor which has been current for years, that the Insull interests were to acquire the right of way of the old Chicago, Palatine and Wauconda railroad, was officially killed yesterday when the forest preserve district bought a long stretch of its right of way through the Deer grove forest preserve for an indicated $20,342.

The parcel contains 510,275 square feet and was purchased from Myron H. Detrich, receiver for the long unused line, originally known as the Palatine, Lake Zurich and Wauconda railroad. It extends from the Dundee road north through the preserve to the county line. Much of the space has been appropriated by squatters who will be ousted by the forest preserve commissioners.

The district also purchased a small parcel of real estate in Northfield, on the East River road, north of Milwaukee avenue, improved with a residence, from Mrs. Frieda Sander for $8,500.

21 Flat Building Sold.

The twenty-one apartment building at the southwest corner of East 65th place and Stony Island avenue, lot 110x125, has been sold by Will H. Wade to Robert F. Steckhan for a reported $90,000, subject to $67,000. J. C. Wilkinson & Co. were brokers.

The six apartment building at 1614-16 Rascher avenue was sold by John P. and Katherine Nussbaum to Andrew and Ada S. Johnson for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $24,000, through the Lake View Real Estate exchange.

East End Avenue Deal.

Emmett M. Flood has sold to Walter L. Dillion the six apartment building at 5325-27 East End avenue, lot 60x125 feet, for an undisclosed consideration, subject to $30,000. S. A. Bernbach & Co. were brokers.

The Chicago Town and Tennis club has purchased the southwest corner of Winchester and Thome avenues, 50x142, from James J. Forst

DEBT HOLIDAY TO HAVE EFFECT ON SENTIMENT

Bankers Eye Result of Moratorium.

BY O. A. MATHER.

With the international moratorium a fact for a year an accomplished fact, Chicago financiers yesterday debated the probable future effects of the unique international agreement. The consensus was that the moratorium is likely to have a vastly more important effect on business psychology than any great tangible effect on international trade.

It has been the opinion of American bankers and economists for some time that the depression in this country, at least, has about run its course and that no correction of inflation is considered. Therefore, it also has been the general opinion that what is now most needed is a change in public sentiment from doubt and even fear to confidence and then optimism.

Change in Psychology.

If the world debt moratorium should prove to be the motivating event that does change in psychology its ultimate effect is likely to be vastly more important than the mere relief of European nations. Primarily, the moratorium will relieve Germany from paying around $400,000,000 in the next year and will relieve Germany's creditors from turning most of this sum over to the United States.

However, the shifting of such a sum, large as it is among nations is inconsequential when compared with the interchange of wealth and commodities through world trade. There is no doubt that the moratorium will relieve a serious economic and political situation in Germany, which otherwise might be compelled to abandon the gold standard. And such an event would also have a serious repercussion in Europe, particularly among the Balkan nations. But, after all, the chief hope inspired by President Hoover's proposal is that its temporary relief will affect sentiment favorably throughout the world and thus bring about a revival in both domestic and international trade throughout a large part of the world.

Sees Position to Profit.

Most of the largest companies in the United States are in an excellent position to profit by business recovery, according to an analysis of balance data contained in the 1931 industrial manual published by Moody's Investors Service.

The survey finds that at the end of 1930 the average ratio of current assets to current liabilities was much higher than in any of the four previous years, while inventories actually showed a smaller percentage of current assets and average write-down or depreciation showed no appreciable change from years since 1925.

"Of 185 large representative industrial companies, current assets averaged 3.85 times current liabilities on Dec. 31, 1930," Moody's states. "This compares with an average of 6.62 three months earlier and 6.65 for the years 1926 to 1929. In general, it may be regarded as evidence of conservative management.

Improve Position.

"It is not unnatural that some of the industries which were hardest hit as far as earnings are concerned nevertheless succeeded in improving their working capital position most notably. Examples are sugar, where the current assets-current liabilities ratio rose from 4.33 to 6.40; agricultural implements, with an increase from 6.37 to 9.05; automobiles, from 3.33 to 3.88; building, from 5.88 to 8.42; rubber and tires, from 6.21 to 9.72. Moreover those gains were not due to an increase in total value of inventories, since in every one of the industries mentioned the proportion of inventories to current assets declined from the 1929 ratio.

"The six industries where the current assets-current liabilities decreased from 1929 to 1930 were office equipment, chain drugs, chain groceries, chain restaurants and snuff."

Inventories represented on the average 50 per cent of current assets at the close of last year, the analysis finds. This compares with 45.2 per cent for the four preceding years and 41 per cent in 1929.

Daily Average Output of Crude Oil Shows Gain

New York, July 7.—(AP)—Daily average gross crude oil production in the United States for the week ended July 4, 1931, was 2,462,500 barrels, as compared with 2,441,950 barrels for the preceding week, an increase of 20,550 barrels, the American Petroleum Institute's weekly summary indicates. The daily average production east of California was 1,975,900 barrels, as compared with 1,932,450 barrels, an increase of 43,450 barrels.

Steel Output Slackens.

New York, July 7.—(AP)—The American metal market, in its weekly review of the iron and steel industry says the steel plant operations "this week may be estimated at not over 37 per cent," compared with last week's estimate of 34 per cent. "The two weeks combined," the review says, "in all probability represent the low point of the year, as the midyear inventory and the holiday made a natural drag on the filing of specifications. Next week should show a slight rebound."

Socony-Vacuum Corp. to Enter Billion Dollar Class

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 7.—Notice has been received by the New York Stock Exchange of a proposed increase in the authorized capital stock of the Standard Oil company of New York from 450 million to one billion dollars, and of a change of name to Socony-Vacuum corporation. The Standard Oil company will increase the authorized number of shares of $25 par value from 18 million to 40 million.

The new company will add another to the growing list of corporations with a billion or more dollars capital. It will be the first oil company to join a select group which includes the United States Steel corporation, the General Motors corporation, and the American Telephone and Telegraph company.

Necessary for Share Exchange.

The proposed increase in the authorized capital stock of the Standard Oil company of New York is necessary to provide the shares needed for exchange of stock to consummate the proposed merger with the Vacuum Oil company. Vacuum stockholders will receive two and one-half shares of stock of the Socony-Vacuum corporation for each share of Vacuum, while shareholders of the Standard Oil company of New York will receive one new share for each share owned. Altogether $1,915,797 shares will be issued by the new company immediately to stockholders of the two merged companies. The balance of approximately 5,000,000 shares will be held in the treasury and will be available for expansion purposes in the future.

Largest in World.

The Socony-Vacuum corporation will be the largest oil company in the world in point of capital authorized and issued. It will have outstanding immediately $800,000,000 par value of stock. The Standard Oil Company of New Jersey, largest of the oil companies today, has authorized capital aggregating $750,000,000, of which $635,474,000 par value has been issued consisting of 25,418,965 shares.

Some of the other large oil companies and their capitalization are Standard Oil of Indiana, with authorized capital of $500,000,000, consisting of 20,000,000 shares, of which $421,234,685, or 15,850,587 shares, have been issued; the Texas corporation, with authorized capital of $350,000,000, or 14,000,000 shares, of which $246,251,250, consisting of 9,850,250 shares, have been issued, and the Sinclair Consolidated Oil corporation, which was authorized 20,000,000 shares of no par common and 5,000,000 shares of $100 preference stock authorized in addition to 14,129,400 preferred outstanding, but has so far issued only 6,152,404 shares of no par common. The Prairie merger will result in a material increase in issued capital stock if it is consummated as is expected.

In the foreign field only one company is comparable in size with the projected Socony-Vacuum corporation. The Affiliated Royal Dutch Petroleum company and Shell Trading & Transport company have a combined capital of between $600,000,000 and $700,000,000 which is under single control.

The Socony-Vacuum corporation will automatically acquire the assets of the Standard Oil company of New York. It also will take over all of the assets of the Vacuum Oil company. The board of directors of the new company will be composed of directors chosen in equal numbers from the two companies, which will give each of the old organizations an equal voice in the management of the combined companies.

Plan Two Subsidiaries.

Two subsidiary companies of the Socony-Vacuum corporation will be organized. They will be known as the Vacuum Oil company, Inc., and the Standard Oil company of New York, Inc., respectively. The purpose of creating them is to preserve the good will attached to the names of the existing companies. The subsidiaries will be used to carry on the business now conducted by the two old companies, with the same management as at present.

Both the Standard Oil company of New York and the Vacuum Oil company are offshoots of the old Standard Oil Trust. They have been pioneer American enterprises in building up an extensive foreign oil trade. The bulk of the Vacuum Oil company's business is in foreign lands.

CHAIN STORE HEADS ARE DEADLOCKED OVER CIGARET PRICE POLICY

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 7.—Conferences between executives of leading tobacco and drug store chains regarding retail cigaret policy have reached an impasse, with one of the two largest distributors of tobacco products and a prominent drug chain standing out for an increase to 15 cents a package and the other leading tobacco chain store reluctant to advance prices of these products beyond 14 cents a pack or two for 27 cents, the price established by the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea company yesterday.

Conferences are being held daily by these officials in an effort to insure the handling of these products at a better profit margin in view of the recent increase of 45 cents a thousand in the wholesale price, announced by manufacturers on June 24.

Two weeks' grace allowed jobbers by the manufacturers at the old price of $6.40 a thousand has already expired and with the higher wholesale prices now actually in effect on all future orders a revision upward in the present retail price of 13 cents, or two for 25 cents, is imperative.

SPANISH BANK CLOSES; ASSETS ARE $37,800,000

BARCELONA, July 7.—(AP)—The Bank of Catalonia suspended payments today, attributing its difficulties to the economic depression. Its assets were listed at approximately $37,800,000, and its liabilities at $33,300,000.

Its suspension was regarded by Madrid bankers as a precautionary measure because of the present economic slump. The fluctuation of the peseta makes liquidation of security holdings most difficult. The peseta so far has been little affected by the bank's suspension of payments.

Britain to Extend Credit of $30,000,000 to Soviet

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, July 7. — Soviet Russia will soon enjoy an extension of credit facilities in Great Britain amounting to $30,000,000, according to announcement made by Tom Johnston, lord privy seal, before the Labor parliamentary party today.

The government will place this sum to the credit of the soviets under an export credit scheme and according to reliable information tonight this will be granted over a period of two and a half years. The meeting today was secret, but it is understood that the questions of the Labor M. P.'s resulted only in a vague indication that the British industries which will benefit are those supplying heavy machinery.

ROCK ISLAND TO INCREASE USE OF OIL ON ENGINES

Announcement is made from the office of President J. E. Gorman of the Rock Island lines that beginning immediately all locomotives operating on that railroad south and west of Kansas City are to be converted from coal to oil. The program includes the construction of roadside stations for fuel oil over the lines between Kansas City, Mo., and Tucumcari, N. M., and Herington, Kas., to Fort Worth, Tex., a total distance of 1,061 miles. The conversion will affect 231 locomotives.

Oil stations will be located at Topeka, Cline, Caldwell, Clay Center, McFarland, Armourdale, and Herington, Kas., and at Haileyville, Hobart, Lawton, Enid, Ardmore, and Anadarko, Okla. The work of converting the engines will be done in the Rock Island shops and the working time in the shops will be increased beginning July 12. It will require from sixty to ninety days to complete the conversion.

This is one of the largest conversions from coal to oil for locomotive fuel so far undertaken in the middle west and will represent decided economies in operation, in view of the present price of fuel oil. The conversion from coal to oil was made on the Arkansas-Louisiana and Oklahoma divisions of the Rock Island more than a year ago.

Kansas to Oppose 15% Boost in Freight Rates

Kansas City, Mo., July 7.—(AP)—Opposition to the blanket 15 per cent freight rate increase asked by railroads was expressed by the Kansas public service commission spokesman at a meeting today of representatives of similar groups from eleven states, in session to determine the attitude of the middle west on the requested rate advance.

J. W. Scott, in charge of traffic for the Kansas commission, declared the group will oppose any rate increase. The meeting as a whole refrained from any expression of policy as did the other states represented. Paul Walker of the Oklahoma corporation commission, and A. R. McDonald of the Wisconsin commission were appointed to represent the area at the hearing of the railroads' petition before the interstate commerce commission in Washington July 15.

PEOPLES GAS SEEKS AUTHORITY TO ISSUE $15,000,000 IN BONDS

Springfield, Ill., July 7.—(AP)—Four Illinois concerns today petitioned the commerce commission for authority to issue $23,137,500 in securities.

The Peoples Gas Light and Coke company, Chicago, asked authority to issue $15,000,000 of first and refunding mortgage 4 per cent gold bonds, to mature not more than fifty years from date and to be sold so as to yield not less than $12,500,000. Proceeds of the issuance would be used for refunding the company's indebtedness and for acquisition and improvements of property of the company.

The Union Electric Light and Power company, with main offices at Monsanto, asked authority to issue and dispose of 375,000 shares of its common stock, the par value of which was said to be $7,500,000. Proceeds of the issue would be used by the company for acquisition and improvement of property.

The Illinois Power and Light corporation asked authority to issue and dispose of 6,500 shares of its 6 per cent cumulative preferred stock of no par value for cash at $95 per share, the issuance to aggregate $617,500. Proceeds would be used to reimburse the working capital of the company for acquisition of a like amount of par value preferred stock.

Reports on Business More Optimistic the World Over

Washington, D. C., July 7.—(AP)—Rosier business skies the world over are reported by commerce department representatives as a result of the Hoover moratorium proposal.

Summarizing reports on the period since the President announced his plan but prior to the agreement with France, the department announced that word of "improved sentiment" had been received from several countries.

Department experts said the psychological effect of the moratorium negotiations unquestionably has been good. They were unable, however, as yet to tell what material effect it may have.

A "survey of current business" issued tonight showed declines in the domestic business field for May. The department said, however, indications were that there was a considerable improvement in June. The May employment situation, though showing declines, was described as better than usual for that season, although general business dropped slightly more than usual.

Marked in Europe.

The rebound of sentiment abroad was reported most marked in European countries. There was no great change in Asia and South America, where improved sentiment was noted during the preceding two weeks.

The greatest feeling of optimism was recorded from Great Britain, Italy, Hungary, and Czecho-Slovakia. Japan reported optimism due to better silk and rice prices, while confidence increased in the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines.

Experts of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce said they were unable to make any definite statement of actual improvement due to the moratorium plan or final statements on June business.

"There is no doubt," said Dr. H. Taylor of the bureau, "that the psychological effect has been good. The proposal was well timed, coming as it did after the unexpected slump during May. It was calculated to give business men a better feeling."

Reports received thus far for June indicate an increase in car loadings and better than seasonal production of electric power and automobiles. The returns, however, still are far from complete.

In its May survey of business, the department said the decline of slightly more than seasonal proportions in the volume of business which set in early in May continued during the rest of the month so that general business activity, after allowing for normal seasonal changes, fell back to a level approximating that of March.

Department Stores Drop.

"Department store sales during May, if adjusted for normal seasonal changes and for variations in the month's total business days, fell more than 10 per cent below those of April, but only slightly below those of March.

"Our foreign trade during May fell to a new monthly low level for the depression. The drop was influenced by continued price declines and in the case of exports by seasonal factors. Wholesale prices fell in May by 2.7 per cent but the rate of decline was somewhat retarded during the first half of June.

"Among the basic manufacturing industries, the only one which showed a decline greater-than-seasonal was that of iron and steel in which the adjusted index of output fell about 4 per cent," the department said.

WHOLESALING IN CHICAGO YIELDS BILLIONS YEARLY

Chicago, with 53 per cent of the wholesale establishments of Illinois, is conducting more than 75 per cent of the state's middle man's business. Although not so predominant in the state's retail business, the facts show the city, with 45 per cent of the consumer outlets of Illinois, handling 56 per cent of the commonwealth's transactions.

According to the Chicago Association of Commerce, Chicago is now doing an annual wholesale business of $5,194,204,626. Throughout the rest of Illinois, the jobbers and other middle men show a total of only $1,672,118,403.

The difference between the city's retail activities and those of the rest of Illinois is not so marked. In Chicago, the statisticians credit the city with annual sales of $2,153,626,553. In Illinois, outside of the Chicago city limits, the volume of retail transactions is said to be approximately $1,533,743,803 annually.

Of the 11,687 wholesale institutions in the state, 6,238 are located in Chicago. The retail survey of Illinois shows a state-wide distribution of 97,074 stores, of which 43,625 are located in Chicago.

Report Hudson and Essex Sales in 42 Per Cent Gain

Sales of Hudson and Essex cars for the week ending July 4 showed an increase of 42 per cent over the same period a year ago, according to William J. McAneny, president and general manager. This also represented a 12 per cent increase over the previous week.

A. R. Erskine, president of the Studebaker corporation, reported yesterday that sales of Studebaker cars in the second quarter just closed totaled 15,037, against 16,427 for the second quarter of 1930. The increase, 9.5 per cent, more than cancels loss in the first quarter, and enables the corporation to finish the first six months with sales in excess of the parallel period of 1930, Mr. Erskine said. The figures do not include Pierce-Arrow sales.

June Auto Registrations in Wayne Co. Total 6,003

Registrations of new passenger automobiles in Wayne county, Michigan [Detroit], in June totaled 6,003, compared with 6,983 in May and 7,128 in June, last year. Truck registrations last month totaled 503, compared with 480 in the corresponding month of 1930.

BY FRED HARVEY.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, July 7. — Contrary to popular expectations, the stock market broke sharply today on the news of a final agreement at Paris on President Hoover's debt holiday proposal. Losses of 1 to 5 points were registered by the active list on the average, with the extremes running as high as 13 or more.

Profit taking on the strength of the "good news" accounted for some measure of the reaction no doubt, but the vast majority of the selling was obviously for the short account of professional bears out to make the most of reported financial troubles in Europe with private banks by "cashing in" on their widely advertised convictions that the debt settlement had been thoroughly discounted by the market's advance in the last two weeks.

The converging attack was too much for the list weakened as it had become technically, due to the spirited closing out of the short accounts following the original pronouncement of the Hoover project, and values gave way without much resistance all along the line. Some attempt was made by constructive forces to make a stand around midday, but the best they could do was a slowing up of the pressure. Selling gradually gained fresh momentum until about the middle of the final hour when a smashing raid dropped prices generally to new lows for the day.

United States Steel common was battered down to 98⅛, a loss of more than 5 points and was only fractionally better at the close. American

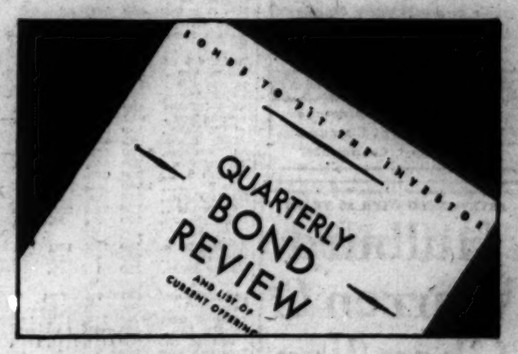
FOR THIS INTERESTING SUMMARY...OF THE PRESENT BOND MARKET



WHAT factors are now affecting the demand for bonds? What are the chief sources of supply of new bond issues for the near future? Why have the yields from gilt-edge bonds been approaching record low levels? And why are many sound issues of the less generally recognized type offering extraordinarily liberal rates of income?

The answers to these and many other questions asked by investors today may be found in our Quarterly Bond Review. It is clear, concise and interesting. In it there are also descriptions and approximate yields of many diversified, well-secured issues, to fit particular requirements. Whether you may be contemplating investment at this time or later, the up-to-date comments in this book will help you.

PRICE OF WHEAT RECEDES AFTER AN EARLY UPTURN

BY CHARLES MICHAELS.

The effect of the signing of the moratorium on European debts had only a slight effect on the grain markets yesterday, an early upturn being followed by a reaction of ¾@1½c in wheat prices that carried all deliveries down to around the inside figures for the season to date, with the September touching 55¾c, and equaling the old low on the crop. The July, however, was inclined to act a little tight, reflecting the lack of pressure of hedging sales and closing only ¼c under the September, against ¾c under on Monday.

There was little in the routine news that attracted attention and the wheat market was left to take care of itself to a large extent, the local element showing no disposition to get far from shore on either side, although many of them were bearish. Buying against bids was the main factor in checking the decline, with July finishing ½c higher at 55¾c, while the deferred futures were ¼@½c lower, September being 56¾c and December 60c.

Winnipeg Wheat Firm.

The wheat trade is paying little attention to the farm board and the latter's announcement that it had no intention of selling any of its holdings at current prices failed to have the slightest effect on the market, and the claims that a moderate export business in North American grain had been put through was also ignored, although there were intimations that the Farmers National had sold some hard winter at the gulf to Rotterdam. The aggregate sales for the day, including Manitobas, were finally placed at 500,000 to 600,000 bu.

Crop reports from the Canadian northwest were again bullish despite the recent rains, the Searle Grain company weekly estimate making the condition in the prairie provinces 87, or the same as the previous week, and on the basis of the long time average yield the prospective crop was estimated by local statisticians at around 216,000,000 bu, compared with 374,000,000 bu harvested last year.

Winnipeg Futures Firmer.

Winnipeg wheat futures were firmer than Chicago throughout the day and closed unchanged to ½c higher, with July at 60¼c, while Liverpool was ⅝d higher, with July 54¾c. Less was heard regarding pressure of Russian offerings abroad, but harvesting is progressing in Europe and there is a tendency to raise rather than lower estimates on the crops in some countries. According to official returns there are ten European countries which have sought or will seek to stimulate the consumption of native wheat through milling quotas or other schemes.

July corn developed increased congestion and is the highest of any grain quoted on the Chicago Board of Trade, finishing ⅝c higher at 60 to 60¼c, while the deferred futures were ¼@⅝c lower, September being 54¾c and December 48½ to 48¾c.

No Material Pressure.

There was no material pressure on the July and neither the big premium over the September nor the fact that the price advanced to a point where 50c per bu could be paid for cash grain at interior points resulted in any increase of consequence in country offerings. Charters were made for 400,000 bu to eastern lake ports, presumably representing grain taken in on July contracts, and 250,000 bu were sold to go to stores. Some corn was bought during the day to come here from Kansas City. Crop reports were generally favorable.

The oats market was dull and prices held within narrow limits, closing ⅛@¼c lower, with July, 27c; September, 27⅝@27¾c, and December, 30⅝c. The cool weather over the belt was regarded as favorable for maturing the new crop. A big export business was reported to have been done in Canadian barley during the day.

A keen demand for Canadian rye was reported in Winnipeg messages yesterday and it was intimated that 500,000 bu or more had been sold for export. Futures here, however, were little affected and the close was ¼@½c lower, with July at 35½c; September, 38¼c, and December, 42½c.

CASH·GRAIN NEWS

There were intimations of a broader forcign demand for North American wheat yesterday, but the actual sales were disappointing. Moderate quantities of new and old crop winters and also Manitobas were taken by Europe, with an aggregate of 500,000 to 600,000 bu in all positions. No. 1 hard winter at the gulf was offered at ½c under Chicago September, with 1c under reported as bid.

Chicago handlers sold 16,000 bu wheat, 18,000 bu corn, and 46,000 bu oats to the domestic trade, with 250,000 bu corn sold to go to store. Clearers were for 400,000 bu corn to Buffalo. Deliveries on July contracts were 324,000 bu corn, 19,000 bu oats, and 58,000 bu rye.

Demand for cash wheat in the local sample market was only fair, with new No. 2 hard and No. 2 yellow hard selling at July prices. Offerings were small. At Kansas City the basis was firmer, with ordinary No. 1 hard quoted at 1¼c under September and No. 2 hard at 2½c under the future.

CROP CONDITIONS

Condition of wheat in the three western Canadian provinces as of July 6 is estimated at 57 per cent by the Searle Grain company of Winnipeg, or the same as a week ago. Recent rainfall has arrested deterioration. In all three provinces wheat is in shock blade and 30 per cent in head. There has been improvement in pasturage and coarse grains.

The Burlington railroad reports corn in Illinois, Iowa and Missouri as making good progress, but moisture is needed. In Nebraska cultivation has been retarded by excessive moisture in some localities. Minnesota North and South Dakota and Montana have had light rains during the last 24 hours.

A wire from Dodge City, Kas., says the dry hot days have changed to cool damp ones, combines have stopped and grain that is being offered is tough and damp and enormous quantities are stored on the ground for lack of trucking facilities and will deteriorate.

Can took the count for 3½ points. Consolidated Gas dipped 3⅝, New York Central 7, Johns Manville 5, and American Telephone 4¼ points. Radio sold off about 2 points, but rallied slightly before the finish.

Even sharper losses were to be found in less conspicuous spots of the list. Auburn Auto, which early in the forenoon had touched 192½, took a tumble of about 25 points, then rebounded 3, finishing at 169¾ which left it with a net loss of 18¼ on the day. Atchison, which vies with New York Central for pace making honors in the railroad division, provided a dismal example for its following by crashing for 8½.

Drops Six Points.

In the utilities department, Peoples Gas, the big Chicago blue ribboner, lost 6 points and Houston oil duplicated the performance in the oil group. Ingersoll Rand went off 7 points, Columbian Carbon 6¼, and Allied Chemical and Dye 5⅝. Losses of 4 and 5 points were numerous.

Trading ran to heavy proportions, with the turnover exceeding the 3,000,000 share mark, or more than three times yesterday's volume.

No one department fared much worse than the others in the reaction. Probably the railroad group showed more sharp declines in keeping with the reputation for vulnerability it has long held.

The carrier shares found little basis for enthusiasm in the day's meeting of eastern railway heads for discussion of the merger program. Shares of the roads most involved in that situation, namely, New York Central, Pennsylvania, and Baltimore and Ohio, gave ground quite readily. Nickel Plate was quiet and little changed. Such information as filtered through from the vicinity of the New York Central offices, where the rail presidents met, indicated that the difficulties in the way of the proposed four system plan for the east would be overcome hurriedly. On the contrary, prospects are for a further period of dragging discussion, though it is hoped the matter will be definitely cleared up prior to the approach of the next congressional session.

Copper Shares Weaker.

Copper shares also had reasons in addition to the foreign situation for their weakness. The actual metal market, which a fortnight back experienced something of a boom, is once more a rather nominal affair, with the metal offered, according to reports, as low as 8¼ cents, despite the fact that leading producers are holding for 9 cents a pound, domestic delivery, the price established a week or ten days ago when brisk foreign demand developed, probably much of it speculative, paved the way for a rise from the 8 cent level.

Outside of the debt settlement announcement, the market had much in the way of foreign news to contend with which could not have been expected to influence trading sentiment favorably. Berlin dispatches, for example, told of much concern over the position of various private banks in the reich, and there the news of the appeal by the Hungarian National bank to the Bank of England and the Bank for International Settlements because of disturbances produced by the difficulties of the Hungarian General Credit bank.

These developments undoubtedly provided immediately disquieting feeling because of the wide circulation given them, but they are after all situations which should be eased by the successful culmination of negotiations on the debt holiday.

Receipts estimated today: Cattle, 6,000; hogs, 14,000; sheep, 14,000.

Slightly cooler weather has stimulated demand for fresh meats lately and this broader outlet on the wholesale trade has added zest to the market for live stock. Cattle and hogs held firm at the previous day's quotations, while lambs swung up 15@25c on the strongest eastern support in more than a month's time. Pork loins scored another 2c advance yesterday, the lightest weights selling up to 21c, against 18c a week ago.

Eastern demand for hogs expanded against yesterday. It is seasonal for shipping orders to increase this month when top kinds are scarce at all points in the east. Outsiders bought 26 per cent of Chicago receipts the first two days of the week, against 19 per cent a week ago. With only two exceptions in the last 11 years, July shipments from Chicago have always been larger than June shipments, and receipts in July are usually smaller than in June.

December Hogs Decline.

Contracts for December hogs were offered at 25c lower; prices on the futures market yesterday, while most other, quotations were unchanged. Light weights for delivery the last month of this year were offered at $7.50, while medium offers were lowered to $7.75. Heavy grades for December were offered at $8.25. September light, medium and heavy, ranging in weights from 3170 lbs to 310 lbs were offered at $8.00, but no bids were made. Light weights for today's delivery were bid $7.40 on the "to arrive" market.

Yearlings showed most of the strength in the cattle yards yesterday, while some of the extremely heavy beeves were slow sellers. Notwithstanding the slow market for cattle averaging more than 1,200 lbs, a load of outstanding quality averaging 1,513 lbs topped the market at $8.50. None of the yearlings on sale could compare with them in quality and the best yearlings here averaged 863 lbs and sold at $8.40. Butcher stock strengthened up after several weeks of draggy markets and some of the recent sharp losses were recovered. Calves advanced 50c on better outside support. Stockers and feeders were scarce and strong, but demand was only fair.

The East Buys Lambs.

Some of the largest eastern shipping orders in more than a month's time featured the lamb market yesterday and resulted in a 15@25c higher market, with best grades leading the way up. There was more competition and buying was not so one sided as it has been during the last month. Best western range stock sold readily at $7.50@7.65 to packers and at $7.70@7.75 to shippers and city butchers, the latter also paying up to $7.75 for a few selected natives. Aged sheep were unchanged, while yearlings advanced 25c. Demand for feeding lambs is only fair, but offerings are small and prices were held steady at $6.00@6.25 for best offerings.

COTTON LOSES EARLY GAINS

Cotton markets were unsettled yesterday with an advance of 15@20 points in New York early on news of the foreign debt settlement. The markets, however, broke later and closed around the lowest of the day, with futures in Chicago of 12@15 points lower on the active trading months, finishing close to the bottom. Realizing sales by Wall street, combined with general selling, was responsible for the decline and lower close. There also was evening up for the government crop report, due today around noon. It was said that unless the report shows a larger reduction in acreage than expected another break is looked for. The late break in stocks attracted attention and brought in selling toward the last.

Spot prices in New York were of 20 points to 9.95c. New Orleans lost 15 points to 9.60c, Galveston 9.95c and Houston 9.75c. Liverpool closed unchanged to 2 points net higher with sales of 5,000 bales of spots including 3,000 bales American. Prices follow:

WANTED—MALE HELP.

A 100% DEAL

Wednesday afternoon at 1 o'clock sharp I am going to hire ten men who can't help but make a comfortable living for the next four months. My deal is Wonder Lake and it is selling. We average several thousand people a Sunday to work on and can keep good men busy all week on 100% leads. Our system cinches your sale and that, plus the best lake deal at lowest prices, nuts it over.

This is no get-rich-quick proposition but a deal you should not miss. It is for that man turnover people crave, but one that requires confidence-inspiring men. The high pressure man will not do.

I am going to hire collectively so make it 1 o'clock sharp. Wednesday, not 1:15. Be prepared to spend the day with me as we are now in production and cannot spend the time in too much training.

1 P. M. WEDNESDAY SHARP.

PAT MANLEY,

JONES & WINTER COMPANY,

OVER 150 USED CARS MUST BE SACRIFICED

Must Make Room for More "Trade-Ins" Due to Our Big New Car Business

Regardless of original cost, all the used cars in our show room, many of them just like new, have been drastically reduced in price so they will be disposed of at once. This is the chance of a lifetime. 5 day's free driving trial goes with every car sold.

NASH SEDAN. It's exceptionally clean throughout and runs fine. 4 whl. brakes and 6 extras. Reduced to $145.

FEERLESS COUPE. Sport model, with rumble seat, 6 wheel brakes, bumpers, spare tire, etc. Has a sweet running motor and attractive appearance. Reduced to $145.

CADILLAC SEDAN. V-63. This is a comfortable, fine performing car. The finish, upholstery and tires are in dandy condition. Reduced to $185.

STUDEBAKER COMMANDER. 1928 four pass. Victoria, with wire wheels, and a wealth of extra equipment. Luxurious mohair upholstery. The finish is bright and shiny and the motor is all it should be. 3385. Also a 1928 STUDEBAKER COMMANDER SEDAN, in excellent condition, reduced to $595.

LAFAYETTE TOURING. This is probably the best open car buy in Chicago. Motor runs smoothly and quietly and the appearance is good looking. Reduced to $95.

DUESENBERG SEDAN. This str. 8 seven pass. is a real beauty. The finish and a wealth of extra equipment. Luxurious mohair upholstery. The finish is bright and shiny and the motor is all it should be. 3385. Also a 1928 STUDEBAKER COMMANDER SEDAN, in excellent condition, reduced to $595.

PIERCE-ARROW ROADSTER. Model 80, with a world of power and pep. This is a snappy, low slung car with attractive brown leather upholstery and a finish that glistens like a new dollar. Especially low priced. Wire whl. brakes, Hondaille shock absorbers, windshield wings, rumble seat, etc. Reduced to $450.

PACKARD SEDAN. 7 pass. that was owned by a wealthy family and given careful attention. Now every detail of the interior and exterior is like new. Has a smooth, powerful motor. Reduced to $385.

GRAHAM-PAIGE SEDAN. Late model, duced a handsome French blue. The interior is immaculate and there are a wealth of convenience extras. Motor runs very efficiently. Reduced to $295.

CHRYSLER SEDAN. 1929, model 65, that looks and runs as though it had never been driven a mile. This Chrysler will satisfy the most exacting buyer and it will remain long at our reduced price of $495.

BUICK SEDAN, '28 Mast. 6 that was oiled and greased every 500 miles by the original owner, so now it's topnotch in every respect. Equipped with every passible extra. Considering the condition of this Buick it's a sensational value at our reduced price of $545.

STUDEBAKER PRESIDENT, 1929 str. 8 de luxe Sedan, with wire wheels, side mounts and many valuable extras. It was owned by an executive in this company and checked over every day by our head mechanic. So now it will give new car satisfaction. The appearance is beautiful. Reduced to $745.
